The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. This particular act here is an amendment to the junk shop act, is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. And the act itself has nothing to do with the pawn shops, is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. No, the pawn shops, Mr. Speaker, are governed under another Act of 1937 and it is the intention of the sponsor of this bill to insert the same provisions in this act which are in the pawn shop Act.

Mr. McCORMACK. This particular amendment, Mr. Speaker, provides that if there is compliance with the present act it shall be evidence of innocence of the particular persons, is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. Exactly, Mr. Speaker. That is exactly the same provision of the pawn brokers Act.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is it a fact, Mr. Speaker, that without this amendment the fact that the person complied with the provisions of the present act is evidence that can be used to prove that he is not guilty of receiving stolen goods?

Mr. TOLL. Well, the difficulty he is under is that one who receives stolen goods and does not have the protection of an act similar to pawn brokers, can immediately be arrested and he has the burden of showing that the goods were not stolen by him, that he did not know that they were stolen and he is really under a cloud of suspicion. Pawn brokers are better protected by the Act of 1937, and waste dealers will also enjoy the same protection if this act is amended.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I think that for the purpose of this discussion we should leave out anything pertaining to pawn brokers because this particular act has nothing to do with pawn brokers. It is quite irrelevant what the provision of the law with respect to pawn brokers is.

In other words, under the present law if a person has in his possession goods that have been recently stolen, the jury can infer, can it not, that the person who has possession has knowledge of the theft?

Mr. TOLL. I would say that is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Whether or not this act is passed, the person who has possession can still be arrested and it will be a jury question whether or not the person did have knowledge, is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. That is correct, Mr. Speaker. But the bill will give them greater protection.

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not think there is any necessity for this law. If it is intended to change the substitutive law of evidence, I do not think the language in this amendment would do that.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, if that is a question of debate, I merely want to point out that under the pawn brokers law this particular language has already been approved. There are cases in which this language has met with favorable interpretation. That is the reason the waste dealers want this particular language put into their act.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman mentioned that under the present law a junk shop owner, even though he complies with the present law, can be arrested for having in his possession goods that have been stolen, is that correct?

Mr. TOLL. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. This amendment will not affect that, will it?

Mr. TOLL. The police of Phiadelphia, where the largest number of waste dealers are located and where the Pawn Brokers' original Act was sponsored, have not arrested pawn brokers where they show a purchase in the ordinary course of business. This will also apply to waste dealers if they show a purchase in the ordinary course of business.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in this amendment that would permit or allow the police or authorize them to not arrest a junk shop owner who has in his possession stolen goods, even where he complies with the Act, is that right?

Mr. TOLL. The gentleman is right. They could ignore it, but they don't, when they see the provisions in the bill they usually leave them alone as long as the records are in proper order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair was informed that this bill was uncontroversial. If there is any controversy or opposition to it, the Chair will entertain a motion to place the bill on the postponed calendar.

The Chair does not want to take a vote on the bill if there is controversy on it, or any opposition to it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I am not going to vote against the bill, Mr. Speaker, but I just wanted to get clear in my mind what this amendment purports to do. That was the reason for the question, and that is the only reason. I would not say, as far as I am concerned, that it is controversial.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman. The Chair wanted to make the position of the Chair clear on voting on the bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to get clear in my own mind what this amendment purports to do.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 877, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 571) entitled as amended "An act relating to assessment for taxation in counties of the fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes designating the subjects property and persons subject to and exempt from taxation for county borough town township school except in cities and county institution district purposes and providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation thereof for such purposes creating in each such county a board for the assessment and revision of taxes definng the powers and dutes of such boards providing for the acceptance of this act by cities regulating the office of ward borough town or township assessors abolishing the office of assistant triennial assessor in townships of the first class providing for the appointment of a chief assessor assistant assessors and other employes providing for their compensation payable by such counties prescribing certain duties of and certain fees to be collected by the recorder of deeds and municipal officers who issue building permits imposing duties on taxables making improvements on land and grantees of land prescribing penalties and eliminating the triennial assessment" imposing certain temporary restrictions on the taxing authorities of political subdivisions affected by the provisions of said act

Section 1 Section 602 act of May 21, 1943 (P. L. 571) known as "The Fourth to Eighth Class County Assessment Law" amended July 17, 1953 (P. L. 464) is amended to read

Section 602 Valuation of Persons and Property It shall be the duty of the chief assessor to assess rate and value all subjects and objects of local taxation whether for county township town school (except in cities) county institution district poor or borough purposes according to the actual value thereof and in the case of subjects and objects of local taxation other than real property at such rates and prices for which the same would separately bona fide sell After there has been established and completed for the entire county the permanent system of records consisting of tax maps property record cards and property owner's index as required by section three hundred six of the act herein amended real property shall be assessed at a value based upon an established predetermined ratio of which proper notice shall be given not exceeding seventy-five per centum (75%) of its actual value or the price for which the same would separately bona fide sell In arriving at such value the price at which any property may actually have been sold shall be considered but shall not be controlling Instead such selling price estimated or actual shall be subject to revision by increase or decrease to accomplish equalization with other similar property within the county After the completion of the permanent system of records for the county when assessing real property the chief assessor shall also take into consideration the value of such property as indicated by the use of the permanent sytem of records cost charts and land values applied on the basis of zones and districts as well as the general adherence to the established predetermined ratio

After any county has established and completed for the entire county the permanent system of records consisting of tax maps property record cards and property owner's index as required by section three hundred six of the act herein amended and has made its first county assessment of real property under that system and at values based upon an established predetermined ratio as required by this section each political subdivision which hereafter for the first time levies its real estate taxes on that first assessment or valuation shall for that first year reduce its tax rate if necessary for the purpose of having the total amount of taxes levied for that year against the real properties contained in the duplicate for the preceding year equal the same total amount it levied on such properties the preceding year plus their proportionate share of the amount necessary to pay the cost of having installed the permanent record system notwithstanding the increased valuation of such properties under the new assessment system for the Purpose of determining the total amount of taxes to be levied for said first year the amount to be levied on newly constructed houses or on increased valuations based on new improvements made to existing houses need not be considered The tax rate shall be fixed for that year at a figure (with a tolerance of 1/10 of a mill) which will accomplish this purpose With the approval of the court of common pleas upon good cause shown any such political subdivision may increase the tax rate herein prescribed notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 29, 1956. No. 145.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, February 29, 1956.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty God, to Whom all hearts are open, all desires known and from Whom no secrets are hidden, we come to Thee today and we pray that Thy Spirit will guide us in our deliberations and work here, that we may work out those things which are problems to us and to the people of our Commonwealth in Thy way and in Thy Name.

We pray that Thou wilt be with those of our colleagues who are sick. Lay Thy healing hand upon them. Restore them speedily to health and strength again.

Forgive us our sins when the temptations of life come to us. May we always realize that Thou are at our right hand, and all we need to do is to reach out in faith and touch Thee and Thou wilt guide us right. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. HALUSKA, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS

Harrisburg

O.R. 301
February 28, 1956

Honorable G. Harold Watkins
Secretary
Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

My Dear Senator:

Reference is made to the Resolution adopted by the Senate on February 21st pertaining to the construction of a limited access highway connecting Conchester Road and U. S. Route 13 in Delaware County.

Please be advised that construction plans are being prepared by private Consultants and are expected to be completed by May 1, 1956. The project is included on this year's Federal-aid Urban Program and is tentatively scheduled to be advertised and placed under contract some time during the year.

Sincerely yours,

(s) JOSEPH J. LAWLER
Joseph J. Lawler
Secretary of Highways

STUDENTS FROM ASPINWALL HIGH SCHOOL AND HERSHEY HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I would like to draw the attention of the Senate to the fact that there are a group of thirty students from Aspinwall High School here, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fleming, of the Aspinwall High School faculty. This is, indeed, a very happy occasion for me since this is the first time in eighteen years' service in Harrisburg that I have ever had a group from my home town here.

I would also like to say that this Group is accompanied by thirty students from Hershey High School. These are exchange students. The Aspinwall High School group is at Hershey this week and the Hershey High School group will be at the Aspinwall High School next week. The Hershey students are here under the direction of Mr. William H. Shirk and Mrs. Robert Shaeffer, of Hershey.

The PRESIDENT. We are, indeed, honored by having the two groups with us, one group from Aspinwall and the other from Hershey. We hope you enjoy your visit here with us today.

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 986, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 20, 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships" fixing the time when annexation takes effect.

He also, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 987, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "The Second Class Township Code," further regulating the payment by cities and boroughs for certain improvements and facilities in portions of the township annexed by them.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 977, entitled:

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Pechan, I inquired yesterday on the possibilities of the length of the Session this week because of some activities that I have planned. I must either go through with what I have planned this week or I must postpone what I have planned, and I must do it within the next hour. I wonder if you could enlighten me, and the Members of the Senate, on what the schedule is as of right now. I understand we may be here until Saturday now, is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. That is a likelihood; yes, Senator Yosko.

Mr. YOSKO. What is the planned procedure?

Mr. PECHAN. So far as I know, unless they change the signals on me, we plan to have the tax measures moved up to Third Reading, after having passed Second Reading, and then recommit them to the Committee on Finance. As I understand it and I think you probably know, some of our leaders on both sides of the aisle are sitting down and trying to work out some amendments. They plan to incorporate those amendments in committee tomorrow and, as I say, if the signals do not change, the bills should be brought up for Final Passage on Friday.

Some of the Members may want more time, I do not know. However, at the present time, the schedule is to bring those tax measures out, all five of them. They are House Bill No. 941, House Bill No. 1880, House Bill No. 1591, House Bill No. 2009 and House Bill No. 2010.

Mr. YOSKO. Are you going to bring them up for the final vote on Friday?

Mr. PECHAN. That is the present plan, yes.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you very much.

RECESS

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY WHIP

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, in view of the fact of the interest which has been shown regarding these tax measures, I have been asked by several Members of the Senate to make an announcement as to when copies of the bills, after they are reported from committee again, will be available for many of the people who are sitting here and who are interested in this legislation.

Mr. President, it is my judgment that it is physically impossible for them to be ready before sometime Friday morning. We are not going into Session until 3:00 o'clock and the bills will be amended; that is, that is what they are now planning. The bills will be amended in committee and then sent to the printer. They will, therefore, not be available before Friday morning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, today is the 29th of February. I have a brother who has a birthday today, so the Pechans, once every four years, help him to celebrate his birthday. He happened to be born on the 29th of February.

However, Mr. President, I think, over and above that, we in the Senate are rejoiced that one of our colleagues has returned after a long illness. I am happy to welcome, on behalf of the other Members of the Senate, Ted Watson, from Bucks County. I know that we are all happy that he is feeling better and is able to be about.

Then, too, today we heard by radio and the newspapers that another great American's health is improved to the extent that he was able to tell a waiting public that he will again sacrifice and run for the Presidency of the United States; namely, Dwight D. Eisenhower. I think the people in the North, in the South, in the East and in the West are all rejoicing that Ike's health is such that he will make the sacrifice and again run for four years.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, March 1, 1956 at 3:00 o'clock, p. m.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I request that the gentleman temporarily withdraw his motion to adjourn.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, if Senator Lane wants to endorse President Eisenhower, I will withdraw my motion.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am sure that we all want to welcome Senator Watson back, but I wouldn't go any further.

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my adjournment motion, temporarily.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic Members of the Senate, we, too, are indeed glad that Ted Watson has regained his health and is back among us. All of us have a considerable affection for Ted. We have worked with him for a long time and we found him to be very, very fair in his dealings with us. I know, too, that his family is indeed happy that Ted can be back on the job because, when he is back in the Senate, I know he enjoys it. This is especially so when he is with the distinguished gentleman from Delaware County, whom I do not see on the floor today.

Mr. President, in regard to the announcement by the President of the United States that he has decided to be a candidate again, I would say that we, of the Democratic Party, are happy that he is healthy. We all respect him as a great General and Commander-in-Chief. However, I would say that Dwight Eisenhower has had the greatest honors that ever could be bestowed upon any man. I feel that he is making a grave mistake in acquiescing to the pressures of the Republican politicians in order to get him on the ballot and jeopardize his life.

In addition to that, Mr. President, he is running a great chance of going down into ignominious defeat. Regardless of how great a man might be or who he might be, once his name is placed upon the ballot, no one knows what is going to happen. I would say to the President of the United States that we are happy he is strong again. However, we are indeed sorry that he made the grave mistake of bowing to the professional politicians of the United States on the Republican side.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, March 1, 1956, at 3:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:48 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, March 1, 1956, at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, February 29, 1956

The House met at 3:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, February 28, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

USE OF HALL OF HOUSE RESCINDED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, yesterday the House passed a motion to allow the Elections Bureau to use the Hall of the House for drawing for position on the ballot tomorrow. As other arrangements have been made, I am now moving that that permission be rescinded.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By JOHN J. MURRAY. RESOLUTION No. 160.

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1956.

It is of vital importance to this House of Representatives to have full and complete knowledge of the type of expenditures and the manner of making expenditures by school districts for the construction or improvement of school buildings or other parts of school plants.

Large amounts of Commonwealth funds are utilized by school districts for construction payments or rentals of school buildings and educational equipment; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the expenditure of school district funds used for the repair, improvement or construction of school buildings or plants; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next succeeding biennial session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations, with drafts of any legislation which may be necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1956. No. 146.

SENATE

THURSDAY, March 1, 1956

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty and most merciful God, our Heavenly Father, we come to Thee today and pray that Thy wisdom and spirit will guide us not only in our work here, but in our work through life, that we may always trust Thee and know that those who place their trust in Thee need never be ashamed.

As Thou didst guide the fathers through the generations into higher and better things, so Thou dost in our time, if we confide in Thee, Thou wilt help us to walk in the path which Thou dost lay out for us so that we may accomplish the work for which Thou hast sent us into the world. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. SEYLER, futher reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. MILLER, for the balance of the week, due to injuries sustained in an accident.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE WITHDRAWN

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I understand that a leave of absence was granted to me for the week. I wish to notify all and sundry that I am present and wish to have the leave of absence revoked.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the leave of absence is withdrawn for the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler.

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, someone suggested that I tell the Chair that I am here.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Bucks, Senator Watson, was also granted a leave of absence for the entire week, and since he is present, he requests that the leave of absence be withdrawn for the remainder of the week. There being no objection, the leave of absence is withdrawn.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, for quite a long time there has been a fraud perpetrated upon the citizens of Pennsylvania by many groups which obtain old charters and then, through this device, get a hold of liquor licenses and run one-man clubs. One of the mysteries of this entire situation is what happens to the profits derived from the lucrative sale of whisky and liquors.

Mr. President, the question is, do they apply the profits to the pursuit of the charitable purposes mentioned in the charter? This bill will take care of the situation. It provides that once a month, club licensees should file a report with the Liquor Control Board, stating how much whisky was sold, what the profit was which was derived from the sale of the whisky and how the profits were applied to the pursuit of the charitable purposes embodied in the charter.

Mr. President, I am accordingly, presenting to the Chair the following bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1011, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "Liquor Code," requiring club licensees to file monthly returns showing purchases and sales of liquor and malt or brewed beverages and certain expenditures.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I was astonished when I picked up this morning's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette newspaper and saw a headline on page 1 which said, "Lobbies Push 3% Sales Tax Exemptions." In the article, it gave an account of a meeting which was held in my office yesterday afternoon. It said that attending that meeting were Senator Kessler, Senator James S. Berger, Senator Rowland B. Mahany and Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Senate President pro tempore, all Republicans, and Democratic Senators John H. Dent and Joseph M. Barr, the Party's State Chairman. The article reads as follows:

"Lobbyists who hurried into the meeting from time to time included William A. Reiter, representing the Associated Railroads of Pennsylvania; Harry P. Davis, representing Sun Oil Company; Frank Sinon, representative of several industries, and Robertson C. Cameron, a legislative spokesman for Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

"Also in on the conference, presumably to advise the amendment writers in making revenue estimates, were David Kurtzman, of the Pennsylvania Economy League, and Joseph C. Snyder, head of the sales tax division in the Department of Revenue.

"Western Union messengers ran frequently to the meeting suite with batches of telegrams pleading exclusion."

Mr. President, I do not mind newspapers printing what actually goes on in my office or in any other place in the Capitol, but I do object to false statements being made about what goes on in my office. At the meeting which was held yesterday, we had a bipartisan group there. That part of the account is true. We had Democrats and Republicans sitting around a desk, trying their very best to agree on something which would bail us out of the present financial chaos which the State now faces. All of us realize that unless something is done, schools might very well close in this Commonwealth; hospitals might be forced to certainly curtail their services unless they get their State appropriations soon. In fact, the whole wheels of government might grind to a halt unless we can get together on some type of a tax program.

Mr. President, I feel that the newspapers have not helped us very much in our dilemma. It seems that every time we have a tax program come over from the House, the editorial writers of the newspapers decide that it is a bad program and we should not pass it. They also get their top flight cartoonists to show pictures of Leader on a chicken coop or something else and try to becloud the issue of what we are facing. Of course, we, as Republicans, like to see Leader on a chicken coop; it gives us a little fun. However, this is serious business when newspaper editors say to us, "Do not vote for that terrible tax program," and then the next time you pick up the newspaper, they have another editorial which says, "Chaos in Harrisburg." If there is any chaos down here, I think it comes pretty much, perhaps, by misrepresentation in the newspapers, and perhaps a difference between what the editor would like to have us do and what somebody else would like to have us do.

Mr. President, I want to say this about this meeting. I understand this particular story was not just in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, but it also was carried in other newspapers. This Pittsburgh Post-Gazette is also read up in my town. The people there, I suppose, are wondering what is happening to me down here, in that when I get into a discussion as serious as this is, relative to the tax program, that I would just be there interviewing lobbyits who might come into the meeting. I want to say, for the benefit of Mr. Matthews and any other newspaper writer who was down there, that I did not see any lobbyists in my office. I did not see Mr. Reiter, Mr. Davis, Mr. Cameron nor any other of these people. They were not there in my office. If they were seen going into some other room which is located down on that suite, they may have been in some other room discussing problems that they might have with other Members of the Senate or with themselves. Certainly, however, they were not in our meeting.

We had at that meeting Mr. Snyder, who we feel is an expert on sales taxes. He was giving us his ideas, gained from his experience in heading the Sales Tax Department. We also had Doctor Kurtzman, who is a recognized authority on financial affairs and statistics. He has been called in by the Governor; he has been called in by Democrats and he has been called in by Republicans. I feel that Doctor Kurtzman is fair and impartial. He tries his best to give us correct figures, whether we are Republicans or whether we are Democrats. He is retained by the Pennsylvania Economy League and I do not believe that you can accuse him of being a lobbyist.

Mr. President, most of the lobbying, if there has been lobbying in relation to this sales tax or proposed tax program, has been done by the newspaper profession. I have been approached by representatives of the press to ask me if I was really sure that they would be out of the sales tax; that their machinery, their printer's ink and their newspaper would not be taxed. However, outside of that, there have not been any lobbyists who asked me to do anything about this sales tax other than try to work out a good sound tax program. We always look down our noses at lobbyists and the newspapers try to make out that lobbyists are some evil things down here, who are trying to keep us from doing a good job. Most of these lobbyists are representatives of different types of industry in our State. One, perhaps, represents the oil industry; another represents the railroads; somebody else represents the churches; somebody else represents the Grange; another fellow might represent the people who are interested in steel or oil or whatnot. We have a lot of these representatives here. They try to call our attention to the effect that certain legislation, which we are considering, might have upon their particular industry and, perhaps, upon the whole economy of the State of Pennsylvania. The newspapers should certainly be glad that we give, at least, some ear to these people. I do not believe any of us want to put industry out of the State of Pennsylvania. We know, and I believe that they know, that they have to bear a certain burden of this taxation in this State. However, we are always careful that we do not put an overburden on them to the point where they might be forced out of our State.

Mr. President, I have also read newspaper editorials which say that we should not drive industry out of the State. There were a whole lot of newspaper editorials written when we were considering the manufacturers' excise tax, telling us not to pass that tax because it might very well drive industry out of our State. The newspapers should certainly be the last ones to object to representatives of industry giving us the benefit of their views.

I might also say to the newspapers that they, also have a lobbyist here. He is a very powerful one, in my estimation, and a very good one. At any time he wants to, he may come to my office, as he has done in the past, and advise me as to how newspapers feel on any legislation that we have pending. He would have been welcome yesterday if he had wanted to come. If he would have wanted to come in, I would have been happy to see him. I am also interested in the newspapers and I think he has a perfect right to come and tell us how the newspapers feel about any legislation pending before us. However, when the newspapers deliberately misrepresent the facts and try to make out that we are closeted down in some smoke-filled room, we will say, with a lot of people who are not there to do the public any good, I think the newspapers then do a disservice to us; I think they do a disservice to themselves; and I think, generally speaking, they do a disservice to the Commonwealth. By putting those kind of things in the newspapers, I believe is doing a great deal to tear down what we call constitutional government.

Mr. President, the only way that this Senate or the House of Representatives or any other lawmaking body in the State of Pennsylvania can be successful is to try to at least obtain the public's approval of their work and their faith in what they are trying to do. If the newspapers tear down the people's confidence in their elected representatives, I would say that they were going a long way to promote, what you might say a communistic system in America. As I say, the only way that we have of protecting democracy is to see to it that the public certainly has confidence in their elected representatives.

I also ask, Mr. President, that if the newspaper reporters find they were wrong, as I am telling them that they were wrong about this particular matter, they will use the same space on the same first page of their newspaper to retract what they have said today.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, you have all heard the remarks of the Majority Leader relative to a report in a public newspaper pertaining to something that is supposed to have happened yesterday afternoon during the course of our deliberations on the tax problem.

I suppose most of you have been in this Senate over the years and have heard me criticize, without any apologies, certain members of the lobbyist profession when I thought they were exerting undue influence on the course of action in this body. However, when I did criticize, I tried to do it objectively and honestly. I would not be true to myself or to the Senate of Pennsylvania or to Senator Mahany and my Republican colleagues if I did not join Mr. Mahany today in condemning this type of news reporting.

Mr. President, all of us have a great deal at stake. Maybe for the moment it might be helpful to whatever purpose a newspaper may be trying to serve, to pay little or no attention to the background details of news stories and news reports. All of us have been tied up for a period of fourteen months in what we believe to be a major fight over principles of taxation, representing, to the best of our abilities, the respective thinking of our political parties as our parties see their duty to the general public.

Offtimes during this fourteen month period many of us have felt aggrieved at the representation of our efforts as they appeared in the public press. However, the incident which happened yesterday, or which is supposed to have happened, goes deeper than a mere news story. It creates in the minds of the peoples of this Commonwealth an impression that, if left uncorrected, might lead to more serious things in the future.

I attended that conference yesterday afternoon. We worked for a period of five or six hours on the grave subject of the budget. In talking about the budget, and I do not think it is any secret, we talked about the methods of financing the budget. None of us came out of there with any idea that we were all happy or that we were seeing eye to eye on all details. I want to say here and now that at no time did anyone enter our room of conference nor did anyone other than the members of that conference committee, and the two experts whom we invited in, talk to me or to any of the men in the conference room to my knowledge about our deliberations. Certainly no one paraded in and out of there who did not belong there at that moment.

Mr. President, I have probably criticized Bill Reiter and Harry Davis to the point, at times, that maybe some of my listeners might have gained the impression that I was personally antagonistic to these men. If so, I would probably get up today and add to my condemnations of their actions if I felt that the main point here would be to gain political advantage. Would it not help my cause, as the fighter or the leader of the fight against a sales tax, if I were to stand here and say, "Mr. Mahany did not tell the truth. These men did come in and out." That would further add to the impression that someone was dictating to this Senate other than the Senators themselves on the type of revenue that we will have and on the budget figures which we will have to adopt.

Mr. President, neither Bill Reiter, Harry Davis nor the other gentlemen named were in that office yesterday. I might say, too, that for the past fourteen months, contrary to another misrepresentation that has been allowed to grow in this Commonwealth, all has not been chaotic down here. In the matter of legislating there are many, many times when it appears that we are not doing anything, but we do work many hours. Ofttimes, late at night, when others have left and gone home or whereever they wanted to go, Members of this Senate have burned the midnight oil, trying to find a solution.

When you have a point of controversy as bitterly contested as this, the only democratic way to fight it out is to take and listen to all of the arguments on both sides and come up, if you can, with some kind of a compromise which suits the purposes for which we are meeting at best.

I am sure that, Mr. President, although you have heard me criticize Senator Kessler and, in turn, have been criticized myself, it does not mean that we are not just as honest, each of us, in our approach to the problem but that we differ. In being normal human beings, we devote all the energy we can to try to sell our point of view. However, what we are faced with is something more serious. We are faced with a situation where a great many of those who are critics are critics of everything if, in effect, it affects their own personal pocketbooks.

Mr. President, I have claimed over this period of fourteen months that a great many of the opponents of the Leader tax plans were only proponents of another tax plan because they felt that to confuse the issue might end in a situation where they would be exempt from everything. You cannot exempt everybody from taxation in a situation which requires the sum of moneys that are required to meet the mandated obligations of this Commonwealth. When any one group decides that by some method which they can use to their own advantage, and find themselves outside the law of taxation at the expense of all of the others who do not have that medium of expression which creates public opinion in their behalf, then you have lost the benefits of this great type of government which we parade so loudly before the rest of the world as the greatest form of government on the face of the earth.

Newspapers, as I have often said, have a very necessary place in a democracy and the freedom of the press is one of the greatest freedoms accorded to the people of this great Nation of ours. There is a difference, however, between the freedom of the press to print news and the freedom of the press to express that news in such a fashion that it is editorialized to their own benefit or to the benefit of somone or some party or some interest which they espouse. This Nation will remain strong and grow stronger so long as journalism does not pervert itself to be a prostitute for those who would hire it for their own benefits. Newspapers go into every home in this great State and in this Nation. When they destroy the trust of the people in the elected officials, they are in turn destroying themselves.

The weakness of the so-called Nazi type of government, or the government as we know it to be called communism or that of Fascism or any of the isms which have appeared in our lifetime, has been that they have selected one small group to destroy and then, as they gradually destroyed one group after another, they ended up supreme. The newspapers in these governments were first perverted to the use of those who headed that type of government and then when the power of the government became supreme, they destroyed the newspapers, too. The greatest of all examples was the Peronistic exclusion of that great South American newspaper and the exiling of its owners and editors.

Now to you in the newspaper fraternity, allow me to say this; that measured all-in-all and one-by-one, the Membership of this Senate represents just about what we Americans stand for. We are not all good but, by the same token, we are not all bad. There is nothing yet written or unwritten that places you, in the so-called fourth estate, so far above us in morals and in business ethics and in everyday behavoir that you cannot be criticized when you do something so blatantly wrong. When you are in error, you are just as much entitled to receive the barbs of criticism as those of us in public life.

Speaking for the Membership of this Senate, Mr. President, I take the privilege of saying to you that we do not mind criticism when that criticism is truthful and constructive. We do mind criticism when that criticism is inspired by a desire to hurt and harm and, particularly, to destroy the reputations of men in public life.

Some of us on this floor have devoted the major part of our lifetime to public service. Maybe it has not all been good service but we are elected, if you please, by the people in our Districts and regardless of what we may say about each other, in the final analysis, the majority of the peoples in our districts send us here to represent them. How many of you would still be in your positions after all these years if the readers of your papers were allowed to vote on your tenure in office?

Mr. President, I am leading up to what I want to give to you today as a message. We are in what we hope will be the final and crucial period of this Senate and General Assembly Session. Any unfair or misrepresentative news that you send out, just for the sake of having a story or beating a scoop, may upset the delicate balance which we are trying to maintain. We know that after we have done it, you will ride the chariot in the direction you see to be the best for your own purposes. However, for the good of the people of Pennsylvania, allow us to deliberate without gumshoeing us all over the place for a few days. Allow us to try to work out a solution without being prompted into saying something that you have already written for your papers and sent out over the wire. We are only normal and human and some of us are weaker than others, but do not put words in our mouths and do not write something which we will feel compelled to live up to.

All I can say to you is that both political parties represented on this Senate floor are making an honest effort to raise sufficient moneys, from whatever sources we can to meet the needs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. If we hurt some people, we hope that they, too, will realize that we are taxpayers the same as they. None of the Members of this Senate will be exempted from any of the taxes that we pass. We, too, will have to pay the taxes. Whether the sum reached is sufficient or insufficient, I can only say that it will be the best we can get from an honest effort to arrive at a solution to our problem. Please treat us in the same manner that we would like to treat you.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, at the end of the Civil War, when President Lincoln was shown the railroad map of the United States, he observed that all the railroads in the United States at that time were running from East to West, but not from the North to the South. He said that maybe if the railroads had connected the North and the South, there would have been no Civil War. The reason why I mention this is that even today, like in 1874, there is a distrust existing between the rural sections of Pennsylvania and the metropolitan areas. In many instances, when there is legislation pertaining to the city of Philadelphia or pertaining to the city of Pittsburgh, there is always some kind of distrust.

Mr. President, once upon a time this Body was graced with the presence of a western Senator and, like Cato in the Senate of Rome, he would get up and thunder about an unholy alliance between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to the exclusion of the rest of Pennsylvania.

There are now three bills pertaining to the welfare of the city of Philadelphia lingering in committees of the Senate. One of them is House Bill No. 1925, dealing with an Alcoholic Court in the magisterial system of Philadelphia. That bill has been lingering in the Committee on Judiciary General and awaiting action by Senator McPherson. I am authorized to make a statement, on behalf of the Chief Magistrate of Philadelphia, Joseph Hersch, that action is of the most urgent need now in Philadelphia. I would like to appeal to the Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General, to call a meeting of the committee and decide once and for all whether House Bill No. 1925 has a chance or does not have a chance.

Then, Mr. President, there is House Bill No. 1769. I have nothing but the fondest regard and respect for the Senator from Cumberland, Senator Wade. We have traffic problems in Philadelphia and there is a bill that came from the House, House Bill No. 1769, which is the best formula for handling the traffic court in Philadelphia. Somehow, Senator Wade was displeased with that bill and he invited additional bills. Now, to use slang, the entire situation is "bollixed" up. I desire again to appeal to Senator Wade, if possible, to take action this week to decide the fate of House Bill No. 1769.

Finally, Mr. President, there is in the Committee on Appropriations a bill pertaining to the Delaware Channel. The Federal Government allocated $6,000,000 for the deepening of the Delaware Channel. However, unless immediate action is taken on the bill in the Committee on Appropriations, this amount of money may be forfeited.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am now appealing on behalf of the people of Philadelphia. We are not a separate part of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; we are just part and parcel of it. I hope that action will be taken on these three bills so that we may further forge the progress of Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, for the last two decades, time and again efforts were made to provide a new Constitution for Pennsylvania. During the current Session, my learned colleague, Senator Harry Seyler, introduced a bill providing for a Constitutional Convention.

I am very dubious about the outcome of this bill, but I feel that preliminary steps should be made to study it and to evolve a model of a new Constitution for Pennsylvania which could be submitted if and when a Constitutional Convention is called. There is nothing new under the sun, and what I am presenting today has been done during the Administration of Governor Sproul.

Mr. President, this bill provides for a commission to study and evolve a model Constitution for Pennsylvania.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1012, entitled:

An Act providing for the creation of a commission to study and to report to the General Assembly upon the subject of the revision and amendment of the Constitution of this Commonwealth; prescribing its powers and duties; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 30, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 19, 1913 (P. L. 534) entitled "An act relating to appointment of deputy constables" defining the jurisdiction of deputy constables

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I intend to oppose this bill and debate it, and I do not know whether the Majority Leader desires that to take place at this time. I would be satisfied for the bill to go over in its order until Monday.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 941, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May sixteen one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" changing formula for determining gross receipts where entire business is not transacted in the Commonwealth modifying the manner of imposing tax on certain corporations engaged in business or owning property outside of the Commonwealth and the penalty for failure to make report or for making false report and increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time

Section 1 Subdivision 2 of the difinition of "net income" of section 2 and sections 3 and 4 act of May sixteen one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) known as the "Corporate Net Income Tax Act' 'reenacted and amended September twenty-seven one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (P. L. 609 are amended to read

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

2 In case the entire business of any corporation other than a corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sole or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employes and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business for the purpose of this section gross receipts shall not include heretofore or hereafter received from the sale redemption maturity or exchange of securities except those held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the state of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the state but performed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Where a corporation in any tax year beginning on or after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-six engages in a separate business outside of Pennsylvania or owns property having a situs outside of Pennsylvania which business or property bears no relation to the exercise of the Pennsylvania franchise the department with the approval of the Auditor General may determine the base for the tax imposed by this act for the tax year by excluding from the net income of such corporation as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government the net income from the business or property which bears no relation to the exercise of the Pennsylvania franchise the deduction allowed by this section for dividends received from any other corporation shall be limited to those dividends which remain in the net income after the exclusion hereinbefore authorized in this paragraph the net income which remains after the exclusion and deductions authorized in this paragraph shall be subject to allocations and apportionments as provided in this section using only those factors which pertain to that portion of the net income being allocated and apportioned

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of six per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six a similar tax at the rate of ten per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six except where a cor-

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 987, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May, 1933 (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" further regulating the payment by cities and boroughs for certain improvements and facilities in portions of the township annexed by them

Section 1 Section 308 act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) known as "The Second Class Township Code" added August 21, 1953 (P. L. 1333) is amended to read

Section 308 Adjustment for Costs or Values of Improvements (a) Except as hereinafter provided whenever the boundaries of any townships have been altered and the annexation of a portion thereof [has been annexed] by a borough or city has been confirmed by the court of quarter sessions before the annexation shall become effective the township shall be paid by such borough or city the following costs or value of improvements located within the portion of the township so annexed (1) the value of all roads improved by the township within five years (2) the cost of sewer systems constructed by the township within fifteen years (3) the value of public buildings and improvements other than roads and sewers The provisions of this section shall not apply to the cost of any road sewer or facilities which has been assessed against the real property within the annexed territory

(b) The township shall not be reimbursed by any improvements the cost of which has been assessed against abutting property owners (c) If any present indebtedness of the township exists by reason of any improvements located in annexed area and a city of the third class assumes a portion of said indebtedness as provided in section 540 of the act known as "The Third Class City Code" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 662) or a borough assumes a portion of said indebtedness as provided in section 702 of the act known as "The Borough Code" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the tenth day of Juy one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1621) such payment on account of indebtedness shall be considered to be a credit to such city of the third class or borough on account of the cost of said improvement

(d) Whenever an amicable settlement cannot be made on the amount to be paid as provided in subsection (a) of this section the court of quarter sessions upon application of the governing body of the city borough or township shall determine the amount to be paid

(e) In cases where a portion of a township has been annexed prior to the effective date of this amending act and a sum of money has been or is hereafter finally determined to be due the township under the provisions of this section 308 and such sum or any part thereof remains unpaid a mandamus proceeding shall be instituted by the township against the proper fiscal officers of the city or borough seeking a court order directing the officers to make payment of such money in a specified manner or time as soon as the city or borough is able to make such payment

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1591, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1889 (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" postponing the manufacturing exemption with regard to capital stock tax and the franchise tax on domestic and foreign corporations joint-stock associations partnerships and companies and changing the gross receipts fraction in the franchise tax

Section 1 Section 21 of the act of June 1, 1889 (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended September 27, 1955 (P. L. 643) is amended to read

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class non-profit corporations and coopeartive agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section [Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven] shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said [ten] eleven year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business]

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal part

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property [not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing] situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes [not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth] and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business [not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth] assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business for the purpose of this section gross receipts shall not include receipts from the sale redemption maturity or exchange of securities except those held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stok shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayers for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or affected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but perfomed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and party outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outide the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

[Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-siven and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-siven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and one thousand nine hundred fifty-seven shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions tangible property actually and exclusively used in manufacturing compensation of employes exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said [ten] eleven year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes]

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers

having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly Provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manned than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned by them as in the case of individuals Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering and for the processing and curing of meats their products and by products excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That in case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania or as of the first day of any fiscal year beginning in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred fifty-five for corporations reporting on a fiscal year basis

Sixth A valuation and appraisal in the manner hereinafter provided of the capital stock of the said corporation company joint-stock association or limited partnership at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which the report is made

The affidavit of two of the officers of such corporation limited partnership joint-stock association or company shall be attached to said report Such affidavit shall be in the form required by the Department of Revenue but shall state in addition to any other averments required by the department that with fidelity and according to the best of their knowledge and belief the affiants have estimated valued and appraised as shown in said report the capital stock of the said corporation at its actual value in cash as it existed at the close of the year for which report is made taking into consideration first the average which said stock sold for during the year and second the price or value indicated or measured by net earnings or by the amount of profit made and either declared in dividends expended in betterments or carried into the surplus or sinking fund and third the actual value indicated or measured by consideration of the intrinsic value of its tangible property and assets and of the value of its good will and franchises and privileges as indicated by the material results of their exercise taking also into consideration the amount of its indebtedness

For the purpose of making payments on account of tax payable under this act for the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and thereafter it shall also be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act to transmit in like form and manner an additional tentative report on or before the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and annually thereafter which report shall set forth (a) the capital stock tax or the franchise tax estimated by the corporation to be due for the taxable year next preceding and reported to the department under the provisions of this act (b) the amount of the latest settlement or resettlement of capital stock tax or franchise tax made against the corporation for a preceding year and (c) such other information as the department may require The additional tentative report of any corporation which reports on a fiscal year basis shall be filed on the same date as the annual report for the preceding taxable year Upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made every corporation shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year either (a) eighty per cent (80%) of the amount of the estimated tax as reported for the preceding taxable year or (b) eighty per cent (80%) of the amount of the tax last settled or resettled against the corporation for a preceding taxable year whichever amount is greater If the "preceding taxable year" is a portion of the year the eighty per cent (80%) payment on account of the current year shall be computed against such multiple of the tax estimated settled or resettled for such preceding taxable year as the entire year bears to the portion of the preceding year for which the tax was estimated settled or resettled

The remaining portion of the tax due for the current year shall be paid upon the date the corporation's annual report thereof is required herein to be made In the event that the tax paid on account with the tentative report is in excess of the amount of tax finally determined to be due the department shall grant a credit to the corporation for the amount of such excess

Interest or penalty assessed by reason of failure to file a tentative report or make a payment on account of the tax shall be assessed in the same manner as now provided by law for capital stock and franchise taxes but such interest and penalty shall be computed on the eighty per cent (80%) of the tax liability for the current year as finally determined Any interest or penalty imposed in excess of this amount if unpaid may be stricken off or if paid may be credited to the account of the corporation

The time for filing annual reports may be extended taxpayers may be permitted to file their annual and tentative reports on a fiscal year basis the procedure in case the Department of Revenue is not satisfied with the appraisement made by the officers of the taxpayer and the penalties for failing to file reports and pay taxes shall be prescribed by law

Section 2 Section twenty-one of said act as last amended by Act No. 171 approved the twenty-seventh day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (P. L.) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class non-profit corporations and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section except that if any domestic corporation limited partnership joint-stock association or company subject to the tax prescribed herein shall carry on business outside of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania it may elect to compute and pay its tax under and in accordance with the provisions of subsection (b) of this section 21 Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six shall apply to the taxation of captial stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That after said ten year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employes

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business For the purpose of this section gross receipts shall not include receipts from the sale redemption maturity or exchange of securities except those held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal dends and interest except such dividends and interest atparts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the taxpayers for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employes shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employes not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) divi- State the gross receipts under such contract shall be astributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a taxpayer maintain an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in the one thousand nine hundred fifty-six and for fiscal years signable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contracts shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and one thousand nine hundred fifty-six shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions tangible property actually and exclusively used in manufacturing compensation of employes exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross recipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said ten year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly Provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering and for the processing and curing of meats their products and by products expecting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors Provided further That in case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred;)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I imagine that our Republican colleague on the other side would have been just as happy if the roll would have been called. However, we do happen to have a few of the boys on this side who feel that some word of explanation should be given. Therefore, I would like to take just a few minutes to explain my position in this matter.

First of all, Mr. President, I want it clearly understood by one and all that we are faced with a very grave situation in the financial picture which presents itself to this great Senate Body. We have been in Session for a period of fourteen months. During this period of fourteen months, we have had presented to us three separate and distinct tax packages. Early in the Session, when the Governor announced his budget and announced a revenue plan for financing this budget, opposition appeared immediately to both the budget and the financing plan. At that time, the Democratic Party, assuming its responsibility as the administrative force in the State, offered a classified income tax. This tax bill passed the House of Representatives by a straight party vote. It reached the Senate and, again, on a straight party vote it was defeated here in the Senate. Sometimes later, when the regrouping took place in the House, they came up with another tax package called the manufacturers' excise tax. Again, strictly on party lines, this tax program passed the House of Representatives and, again, strictly on party lines, this tax program failed of passage in the Senate.

The Governor of Pennsylvania, faced with the responsibility of the Administration, then made a public appeal in which he advocated a program wherein both political parties would assume fifty per cent of the responsibility for the budget and fifty per cent of the responsibility for the revenue. After a few weeks of conferences, the Republicans and Democrats in the House of Representatives joined hands and sent to the Senate a package of bills raising revenue somewhere in the neighborhood, with the addition, of course, of the business taxes over here, of $440,000,000. That package arrived here and the Senate majority refused to accept the package and have today presented their answer to the fiscal problem.

Mr. President, my position in the matter is that I have had the opportunity of working with a committee on the part of the Republican Senate on the question of not so much how, but as to the answer to the question of how much. So, feeling the responsibility, as the Democratic Floor Leader, for achieving the budget figure that we deem to be essential and necessary in order that certain programs of progress can be put into effect and to continue paying the necessary expenses of our State Government and to meet the mandated increases in welfare and education, I feel that it becomes my duty at this time that, although I personally would prefer not to vote for a sales tax, my postiion on that matter is fundamental.

As early as 1935, when I first entered this General Assembly, the proposal of a sales tax was before us. Down through these twenty odd years, I have been one of the leading opponents of that type of revenue measure. I will not go into the reasons for my opposition because I am sure that the Membership of this Senate has heard my reasons many, many times. I have always felt that basically I believed in the principle of government that assesses taxes on the basis of ability to pay. However, we are faced with a situation that calls for the submerging of personal desires. I am compelled to say to my colleagues that in conjunction with Senator Kessler, who is the student of the budget on the other side, he and I have reached a tentative agreement which we hope to be able to work down to its final stage next week, on a final budget figure. The Governor will not get all that he asked for. However, the Republicans will not cut as deep as they would like to. Somewhere between these two extremes, we believe that this tax package will provide sufficient revenues so that the mentally ill, the handicapped, our educational system, persons on public assistance and the needed and required State functions will not suffer.

In line with that, Mr. President, and again saying to the Republican conferees that, faced with the situation that it was going to be a sales tax in the ultimate end, I must say, in fairness to them that they heeded some of the counsel I offered, they took some of the advice that I offered and they allowed me to work in the realm of the budget very much at liberty. I feel that I owe to them this position that I am taking today and I want it clearly understood that at no time did they demand from me any allegiance to the sales tax or the program, nor did they ask me to commit any of the Membership on the Democratic side to the program. They did not bargain or deal or attempt to bargain or deal on the basis of deliverance of votes from the Democratic side. They have manly stood up and said that if they refused the Democratic programs and if they refused the House compromise programs, then they would assume the full responsibility for financing the Commonwealth.

In line with that, I want to announce that I am voting for the sales tax.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there was an article in the newspaper yesterday about telegrams being delivered to my office. At the time, I had no knowledge of these telegrams. However, I did find today that there were a great many telegrams delivered, coming from people in my District who evidently are connected with the schools, asking me to please support the bipartisan tax program immediately. They all read pretty much the same, so evidently the wording must have been suggested by some group or organization. I did take time to call one of the people back in Crawford County who had sent me a telegram and he told me that this move had been inaugurated by the P.S.E.A. of the State of Pennsylvania. I, of course, do not have any objection to the P.S.E.A. inaugurating any program of sending messages to us, but I wish that that particular organization would allow us to try to legislate a tax program that we feel is for the best interest of the people. We here do not want a legislative program that is not wanted by the people. I think that has motivated our thinking and our actions throughout this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, I am speaking for the Republican Senators who are in control in this Senate and feel that it is wrong for this Session of the Legislature to put an income tax on the people. They also felt that it was wrong to give votes for a tax program which not only would have put an income tax on the people, but also would have put a sales tax on the people. They felt that that was not a compromise. In other words, the Republicans were against the income tax and the Democrats were against the sales tax and, therefore, this so-called tax compromise would end up by both taxes being put on the people. That certainly was not our idea of a compromise.

Mr. President, I believe that that is what probably motivated Senator Dent in asking to be let in on the partnership the other day. I know that Senator Dent is enough of a practical politician to know that when he sees he cannot do a particular thing after he has tried and tried and tried to do it, he recognizes the fact that he cannot do it and, therefore, he tries to work with the situation as it is rather than the way he would like to have it. He saw that the Republicans over here, who were in the Majority in the Senate, just would not buy an income tax. Therefore, Senator Dent decided that the best thing to do was to get in with us a little bit, anyway, and try to work out some kind of a sales tax, at least, something that we could vote on here and which would not be too embarrassing to those Democrats who wanted to vote for it.

I did hear about this, what you might call, selective sales tax or categorical sales tax, but Senator Dent was the first one to let me know that there was such a thing as that. I do not believe there is any other State that has such a tax as that, but I, in giving due credit to Senator Dent, think he had a very good idea. Perhaps some of the other States may adopt our categorical sales tax if they look over the tax plan and see that it works here, if we do enact it into law. I believe it is going to work. I said a little while ago that I did not care whether or not any of the Democratic Senators over there voted for this tax. However, Senator Dent—I am going to give him credit—did father the child and if he wanted to leave it on our doorstep without support, it was all right with us. We would assume it and take care of it.

We feel that we are in a very unique position. I believe this is probably the first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania where the Party out of power is taking the responsibility for a tax program. We are ready to do that. If the Democrats do not like this particular tax program and want to make an issue of it at the next election and they feel that they can do so, taking political advantage, then they can go out and stump the State again that they will repeal this tax if they so desire. I will call to their attention, however, that the tax is not a temporary tax like the last sales tax, but it is now on a permanent basis. It is thre per cent until June 1, 1957 and then, after that, it will be lowered to two per cent.

Mr. President, I think we have done a great thing for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in establishing, finally, a permanent broad base tax. This is something which has been needed by the people of Pennsylvania for a long time. I think it will enable us to attract more industry into our State, now that industry knows that we have a broad base tax, if this is enacted. I feel that industry will be more tempted to enter the State of Pennsylvania to establish their businesses and that the industries which we have in Pennsylvania will have a tendency to expand now that they know that this tax problem has been settled.

Mr. President, I do not think that this particular tax hurts very many people, although it is designed to raise $322,000,000, this tax plus the tax on meals and hotels and so forth. When you raise that kind of money, you have to hit somebody's pocketbook a little bit. We also know that regardless of how much we might feel that taxes should be based upon ability to pay, under our Constitution, it is almost impossible for us to base a tax on the ability to pay. About the only tax that I know of which is based on the ability to pay is the graduted income tax. Under our Constitution, we cannot pass a graduated income tax because all taxes must be uniform. They have tried, on several occasions, to get by that Constitution prohibition. They tried in connection with the classified income tax, but it was not based on ability to pay. It was based more upon the source of income.

Mr. President, this tax is based somewhat on the ability to pay because we tried to tax luxury items and not tax the items which are ordinarily used by the poorer or working class of people, or the people in the ordinary walks of life. For instance, we did not want to put a tax on clothing, but we did put a tax on furs and also a tax on dinner clothes, formal wear and so forth. Theoretically, anyway, the rich people are the ones who wear those kind of clothes. I have noticed Senator Dent and Senator Barr in striped trousers. They wear formal wear and, no doubt, if they buy those kind of suits, they will have to pay the tax along with the rest of the rich people. However, we have strived to make this more or less on the ability to pay principle.

We have set forth here various categories of things to be taxed and I believe that the people are going to be sure and certain of what should be taxed and what should not be taxed under this law. That was one of the main troubles that we had with the old sales tax that we had and which expired last year. For a long while, there was great indecision as to what was taxable and what was not taxable. The department over here had to make a lot of rulings on what items were taxable and what items were not taxable. I remember they got into great difficulty in connection with the clothing exemption, as to whether a necktie was clothing or whether it was not clothing, as to whether a pair of suspenders was clothing or whether it was not. They had to list a whole raft of items which they considered to be taxable and also another group of items which they figured were not taxable. That was one of the biggest difficulties that we had in connection with the sales tax, the sales tax which has expired.

I agree somewhat with Senator Walker, of Allegheny County, when he did say that the sales tax which expired was not quite perfect. I do not think he put it in just that term, but I agreed at the time that it was not perfect. I so said when we passed it. However, I do not agree that we loaded the payroll with more tax collectors than there were taxpayers. I had occasion to talk to Mr. Snyder, who was in charge of this particular department yesterday, and he told me that one of the big difficulties that they had in connection with this old sales tax was that they did not have enough employees to properly police it. In fact, if you will note from the budget, you will notice that of the $10,000,000 which we allocated to collect the old sales tax, they lapsed $5,000,000. Therefore, they only used half of what we gave them.

That led up to a discussion of how much should be allocated for the collection of this tax. In connection with that, we determined that we should not pass the Ohio type plan. I was one of the early advocates of the Ohio tax plan because I live quite close to the Ohio border and have occasion to go over there and buy articles. When you go over into Ohio and buy articles, you get a stamp which is cancelled. You know then that your money has found its way into the State treasury. However, they are having much difficulty with the Ohio tax plan. I want to go into this just a little bit because I understand that there are some Members of the House who might have a tendency to insist upon an amendment in order to put this particular bill under the Ohio stamp tax plan.

I want to point out to them that we did study this particular feature and did have correspondence with the officials in Ohio. The officials in Ohio, including the Governor, said that they are very dissatisfied with their particular stamp plan because it does cost an awful lot of money to collect it. First, you must pay, I believe, one per cent to the issuing agent, the bank or whatever institution is set up to issue stamps. Then you must give two per cent to the merchant who sells the stamps. Third, in order to police it, they have a system whereby they give two per cent to recognized charitable organizations that send in the cancelled stamps to the State Treasurer. There you have five per cent to start with and, inasmuch as this is designed to raise $300,000,000 plus, you would have $15,000,000 immediately, you might say, going toward collection. In addition to that, you have a high cost of printing. You have to print the stamps on a very good type of paper so that you will eliminate the possibility of counterfeiting the stamps. The printing charges run into very high amounts. Therefore, we wanted to try to put a tax plan in Pennsylvania that would not cost such a great amount as the tax plan in Ohio, and one in line with the collection system used by other States. We, therefore, discarded the idea of the stamp plan as used in Ohio and showed, rather, this type of plan which is a little bit different from the old type of collection plan that prevailed in Pennsylvania inasmuch as now, under this system, the Secretary of Revenue may set up a percentage system according to the classification of the store which is involved. In other words, a particular type of merchandising store could bet set up at a particular percentage, depending upon the experience gained by the Secretary of Revenue. They may do that and I believe that that will cut down to a great extent, if not altogether, the tendency of anybody to put the money in their pocket rather than sending it into the State Treasurer.

Senator Mallery also calls my attention to the fact that in Ohio, in addition to the stamp plan, they have an audit system. It does not hold down to any great extent the amount of employees that would be necessary. It also does not cut off to any great extent the amount of book work which is required by the merchant. He still has to keep a set of books, showing the number of stamps bought and the amount of sales he has had, the stamps that he has sold and other information as required by the Department of Revenue.

Mr. President, we have decided to hold down as much as possible the amount it would cost to collect this tax. We have agreed, between the Democrats and ourselves, that we feel that $7,000,000 will be sufficient to do this job. If we had adopted the Ohio sales tax plan, it would cost around $25,000,000. To be perfectly fair with the State of Ohio, we should also add the two per cent that we are giving to the merchants, in addition to the $7,000,000 which we set up for rentals and employees of the State of Pennsylvania. If you would add two per cent of $300,000,000, you would get $6,000,000. That, in addition to the $7,000,000 that we set up in our budget, would be $13,000,000. Therefore, it is a comparison between $13,000,000 that it will cost us and $25,000,000 that it costs the State of Ohio. We feel that those millions of dollars which we saved, by reason of adopting this particular plan, are well worth while. We have adopted the experience of other States in adopting this type of collection system.

Mr. President, I also want to point out that for once we are equalizing the position of our contractors in Pennsylvania with the contractors in bordering States. Down in Maryland, they have a law which says that as soon as any contractor goes into Maryland to take a contract, such as road building or any other type of contract, and moves equipment into the State of Maryland, they have to pay a two per cent tax. It is what they call a use tax. That two per cent is based upon the original cost of the article and not upon its depreciated value at the time they take it into the State

Therefore, many of our contractors cannot go into the State of Maryland because of that law. I believe they also have a similar law in some of the other bordering States. Our contractors have been forced to sit idly by and see contractors coming in from these other States where they cannot do much business to the State of Pennsylvania and take contracts away from Pennsylvania's contractors because they are able to bid the job lower in view of our favorable tax laws.

Mr. President, we are not trying to retaliate against these other States, but we are trying to equalize our laws with these other laws so that the contractors in Pennsylvania will have the same break as the contractors in the bordering States.

There are many other good features to this law, Mr. President, but I cannot go into all of them. The food provision provides that the first fifty cents of your purchase is not taxable so that the secretary, stenographer or workman who goes into a restaurant and buys a sandwich for lunch and pays twenty-five or thirty cents for it, will not have to pay a tax. We did not want to tax the little fellow when he went to buy his lunch. However, we felt that people who go to resaurants and hotels and so forth, and buy dinners which cost one, two or three dollars or more, will not kick too much on the amount of this tax and can afford it. It will also enable us to collect some revenue from people traveling through our State. When we go into Ohio to look at their scenery, we have to pay their sales tax. We, therefore, feel that it is no more than right that when the people from Ohio come through Pennsylvania to look at our scenery, they should help defray some of our expenses.

Mr. President, I hope we will grant sufficient money to the Commerce Department to advertise the State of Pennsylvania throughout the Nation in order to attract more tourists into our State so they can see our beautiful scenery, scenic beauty and so forth. I believe we are going to obtain quite a bit of revenue from these people traveling through our State. I also believe they will be satisfied and happy to pay our tax.

I hope that some day our Department of Highways, or our Department of Commerce, may print as attractive a booklet as Senator Yosko sent me from Arizona around Christimastime, which was printed by their Department of Highways. They have a very beautiful picture of a cactus on the desert, and I think we can do much better with the beautiful scenery that we have in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I am going to close by stating to all of you Senators that we have twenty-six Senators over here ready to vote for this tax. We really do not need any Democratic support, but we welcome it. We welcome you to share whatever glory there is in connection with passing a good broadbase tax for the first time for the people of Pennsylvania on a permanent basis.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I listened very attentively to the Majority Leader's discourse here today. I might say to you that he has a rather unique way of expressing himself, because in the course of his discourse he more or less accused our leader here on this side of being the father of this selective use tax act. He then went on to say that the twenty-six Members on the other side are willing to vote and pass this legislation so, therefore, I assume they are assuming the responsibility of rearing this child.

To me, Mr. President, this legislation looks like it is really a Taylor-made bill. As a matter of fact, we were given to understand, quite a number of months ago, that the Republican Majority would only pass a sales tax. I think if the Membership will recall, two or three weeks ago I interrogated the Majority Leader on the floor as to the position of the Republican Majority in regard to the bipartisan agreement made in the House on the tax package. At that particular time, the Majority Leader informed me, and the Democratic Members, that they would not be bound by the activities of the Members of the House. Therefore, I am wondering what the ultimate fate of this particular piece of legislation will be when it goes to the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, there is no question in my mind that, after hearing the statement of the Majority Leader in saying they have twenty-six votes, the tax is going to pass the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I had hoped today, this March 2nd, Mr. President, that we were on the threshold of doing something to provide the necessary revenue to balance the budget of this Commonwealth. This has been a long hassel for a period of fourteen months, and I thought that probably we were now assured that we were going to balance this budget and have the necessary revenues to finance the Commonwealth. However, I do not know what is going to happen in the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, I am wondering if the Majority Leader would permit himself to be interrogated, as I would like to ask him just a few questions.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, could you advise the Democratic Members as to the attitude of the Republican House Members with regard to this selective use tax act? Are they going to approve it or are they going to oppose it?

Mr. MAHANY. Now, Senator, I cannot answer that other than by a guess. When they had their program over there, they did not choose to consult us, and, therefore, I felt that I should not go over and consult them. However, I feel they should vote for it and I hope they do vote for it. If there is any Representative over there who I can talk to on behalf of this program, who might have a tendency to back away from it, I will be happy to do so and try to convince him that he should vote for this tax.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, then I take it that this selective use tax act is actually a piece of legislation which was conceived and supported by the Republican Majority in the Senate. is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, in a way. I said that Senator Dent might have been the father of the child, but that was said, perhaps, facetiously. He did give me some ideas in relation to this, which I could have gotten out of a book had I chosen to go and get one. Senator Dent has a book which has the tax laws of all the States. He did not recommend this particular one, and I am not trying to blame him or give him credit for it. If he wants credit, I will be happy to give it to him but he did not give me anything other than what I could have gotten, for ininstance, from Doctor Kurtzman. Doctor Kurtzman has a whole list of taxes which he has suggested, not recommended, and mentioned as sources of revenue from which we might derive funds.

You do not have to worry about it, Senator Lane. We are not going to blame the Democrats in any way for any part of this bill. As far as I am concerned, we are willing to assume the responsibility for it. If there is any blame attached to it, we are willing to assume that. However, if the people feel that it is a good piece of legislation, we hope they will give us credit for passing it.

We are trying to be absolutely fair. In no part of my statement did I maen that at some time in the future was I going to jump on any Democratic Senator and say, "Here, this fellow is just as much guilty as I am in connection with this, if you do not like the sales tax."

As far as I am concerned, any Democratic Senator or anybody else in the Democratic Party can go out and use this as a political football this year if they so desire. They can say that the only reason they voted for this was in order to get it through and they had to have some revenue and they could not get an income tax through the Senate and, therefore, the only thing they could do was to take the selective use tax, and that will be all right with me.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, thank you for your advice and counsel. However, the point I was trying to make is this: Do we have any assurance that we are going to get this passed in the House of Representatives, as far as the Republicans are concerned? Have you consulted any of the Republican Leadership on the Republican side in the House of Representatives, and do they approve it or are they going to consider it or oppose it?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, I am always truthful with you.

Mr. LANE. I hope so.

Mr. MAHANY. I am not going to say anything now that would be a prevarication. I did happen to call Charles Smith and asked him to look it over and he said he would. I think he agrees with this bill in principle. I believe that if we send this bill over, Charles Smith, who is the leader on the Republican side, will vote for it. I believe Bob Kent, who is a leader over there, will also vote for it. In other words, I feel this way. I am not a betting man, but if I were betting you, I would bet that our Republican leadership over there will not only vote for this bill, but also will do everything they can to get all the Republicans to vote for it.

Mr. LANE. I wish to thank the Majority Leader. That is the information I desired. I was very much concerned as to the ultimate fate of this legislation once it reached the House of Representatives.

Mr. President, before I sit down, there are just one or two other points I would like to make. I have heard from the other side, on numerous occasions, about the problems of industry in Pennsylvania. I have heard them say many, many times that the tax structure in Pennsylvania was not favorable to industry. The point I want to make before I sit down is this. If the tax structure in Pennsylvania is not favorable to industry, the responsibility lies with the Republican Party in Pennsylvania because they have been in power and in control of the Governor's Office and both branches of the Legislature for a long time. Therefore, they had the power to take care of the tax structure in Pennsylvania. I want the people to know that the Democrats are not responsible for these allegations which are made in regard to industry leaving Pennsylvania.

I hope that the Republicans realize that in the future they cannot attack us on that basis until after we have had at least four years in office.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to take a few minutes to explain my position on this sales tax and touch upon one or two other matters.

From the time this Legislature convened, Mr. President, it was rumored, and the rumors turned out to be true, that the Republican leadership in the Senate came here with two aims: first, to keep this Legislature in Session for a period longer than we were in Session in either 1951 or 1953 so that it could be said during this campaign that a Democratic Administration had a Legislature in Session for the longest period in the history of the Commonwealth.

I just want to say to the gentleman on the other side that if that argument is used during the campaign, it will be answered forcefully, time and time again, because if we would have had the cooperation which the administration was entitled to, this Legislature could have adjourned last August. It is only because of stubborn opposition, and an aim to keep us in Session for a record-breaking period, that we are here today.

Mr. President, the second aim was to force a sales tax down the throats of the people of Pennsylvania in order to embarrass a Democratic Governor and the Democratic Party which, in its platform, said it would permit the sales tax, enacted in 1953, to expire and it [illegible] not be re-enacted and that we would enact a tax program based on ability to pay.

After the sales tax was passed, Mr. President, an election followed and in connection with that election, each party developed a platform. The Democrats said they would oppose a sales tax and the Republicans said they would support and continue a sales tax. The issue was clear and both parties went before the people at least on that phase of the platform. Mr. President, in spite of a 1,000,000 registered Republican majority in Pennsylvania, the people of this great State elected a Democratic Governor by a majority of 200,000. That, in itself, should have been notice to all the Members of the Legislature, Democrats and Republicans alike, that the people of this State did not want a sales tax. In my opinion, they do not want a sales tax today.

Mr. President, Governor Leader has a duty to perform in connection with the budget and a tax program, and he performed that duty. He compiled a budget and he recommended a tax program to finance that budget and duly. When the classified income tax which was passed by a Democratic House came over here, without even giving it consideration, it was killed not only once, but twice at the command of the special interests and those in the high income brackets, the coupon clippers, the big rent collectors and all of the others who do not want to pay their fair share of the tax load to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth.

The Governor then, in an effort to meet his obligation, sent over another tax program, Mr. President. That, too, was approved by a Democratic-controlled House. When it got over here, what did we find? There was a march on Harrisburg by big business, big business that the gentlemen on the other side represent. As a result, the excise tax was defeated in spite of the fact that every Democrat on this side voted for it.

I had received many letters from those in the big business category, asking me to vote against the excise tax. Among other things, in my negative answer, I reminded them of the fact of how they marched on Harrisburg, and I said that the little fellow was not represented here. I said to them then, and I say now, that the little fellow, the fellow who earns his bread and butter by the sweat of his brow, was not represented here then and he is not represented here now. I want them to know that I represent him here, and I will not vote for a sales tax which will place a $322,000,000 burden upon their shoulders because a sales tax is a tax upon those least able to pay.

In addition, Mr. President, I live in a county that borders New Jersey and I know what effect a three per cent sales tax will have on business in the District I represent. Many of the people will cross the bridge and go over into Phillipsburg and neighboring communities and make their purchases there, to the detriment of the business interests in Northampton County.

For the reasons stated, Mr. President, I will vote against this sales tax.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, nobody likes to pay taxes. I do not know anyone who dislikes paying taxes more than I do. However, after fourteen months of debate and argument, we find ourselves without a tax program and without the Governor's budget being approved.

It appears to me, Mr. President, that the tax which is before us now has the best chance of any which has been presented to the Legislature yet of being successfully passed. It is probably not the tax that I would have selected were I the only one who had a choice in picking out taxes to meet the budget. However, we find ourselves in a position where the teachers of Pennsylvania are not being paid, the institutions of the State are in dire need of money and the various State services are about to be curtailed.

I think that after fourteen months of partisan wrangling we have to put Pennsylvania first and make certain that something is done to provide for the pay of the State employees, the teachers and to carry on the various State services; in other words, to meet the Governor's budget.

For these reasons then, Mr. President, I am going to vote "aye" on this tax.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am being prevailed upon not to make a speech and I am not going to make one. I do want to say a few words in answer to Senator Yosko, and I want to also state my position on the sales tax.

I, too, am like Senator McMenamin. I do not like to vote for a sales tax, especially this particular tax which is raised from a one per cent to a three per cent tax, containing a lot less exemptions than the sales tax for which I voted two years ago. When I voted for the sales tax two years ago, I had to be shown that a lot of exemptions were made before I voted for it.

However, Mr. President, I am deeply conscious that our schoolteachers need increased salaries and our health and welfare services need more money, and for those reasons I am willing to vote for a three per cent sales tax, even though the people of Pennsylvania were told that we would not have either a wage tax or a sales tax, but that we would have governmental cuts. Nevertheless, that is not forthcoming and we knew better when we campaigned and said that we would have to increase our sales tax from one to, at least, two percent.

Mr. President, I want to say to Senator Yosko that when he says we are dedicated to having the longest Session, I want him to know that it is a tremendous personal sacrifice for me to be here fourteen months. My dental practice is suffering. I am only there half the time and if he thinks I enjoy that or that it is lucrative, then I do not understand his thinking. He also said that we wanted to stay here because we wanted to force a sales tax. That, of course, as he knows, is not true. He also talked about the fact that we represent the interests of big business. If big business is getting a break out of a three per cent sales tax, with an additional twenty per cent on corporate net income, then we are awfully poor friends of business. He also said that we could have been out of here last August. If he will recall, our Governor wanted to go all over the State and sell the classified income tax to the people by radio and television, and that bill did not get to us until sometime in August. Therefore, I do not see how we could have gone home at that time.

I am glad that the subject is going to be resolved today. Perhaps it is not as much money as Governor Leader wanted and perhaps the three per cent sales tax will not give that much. However, it certainly is a compromise.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I wish to advise the Republican Majority that in view of the fact that they want to assume all the honor and glory of passing this sales tax, I am going to give them that privilege and, therefore, I will vote "no."

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I want to endorse the sentiments expressed here by Senator Yosko.

In addition to that, I hope that these fourteen months of struggle that has gone on here, and the crises which we have had, are not repeated in future Sessions of this General Assembly. We have introduced a Constitutional amendment. They have been telling us that this amendment would be voted down. If we believe in taxation on the basis of ability to pay, I say let us get that constitutional amendment out and pass it at this Session of the Legislature.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Berger,	Hays,	McPherson, Jr.,	Taylor,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2010, as follows:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, during the discussion on House Bill No. 2009, unfortunately, I did not hear all of it. However, several of the men on the other side of the aisle have advised me that in someone's statement—I do not know who made it—it was said that the Democrats were trying to place the onus of the raise in the corporate net income tax on the Majority Party in the Senate.

If that was said, I am sure it was said inadvertently. This was part of the whole thing, the business tax along with the sales tax, and as far as House Bill No. 2009 is concerned, I now live in Camp Hill and Senator Wade lives there and, therefore, we were just paired on that one.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I believe that Senator Pechan made some reference to that. However, I do not believe that they were the words that he used. I think Senator Pechan said that we are going along here and putting another additional tax on the corporations. You cannot very well accuse us of always being friendly to big business, as you call it, because we have gone along here and placed additional taxes on corporations. If we are supposed to be such friends, as you claim, we are not doing a very good job for them.

Also, Mr. President, I do want to add, for the benefit of the press, that all of this sales tax is not going to be obtained from individuals. Corporations will pay quite a bit of it. I do not have in my hand the exact percentage, but I think they are going to pay $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 of it, at least. When the corporations erect buildings or other structures, they will have to pay a sales tax on the material which they obtain. There are many items and many commodities which will be purchased, by what you might call big business, on which a sales tax will have to be paid.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 873, Printer's No. 1400.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 367, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law," adding a new route in Allegheny County.

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PROPERT, from the Committee on Banking, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 933, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624) entitled, as amended, "The Banking Code" prohibiting the assumption and use of deceptive names by corporations and persons not authorized to engage in the banking business, providing for investments of loans by and the purchase, sale and creation of obligations by banks, bank and trust companies, trust companies and savings banks, providing for the voluntary liquidation of banks, bank and trust companies, and trust companies and further providing for the powers and limitation on powers of corporations authorized to engage in a banking business.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I ask unanmious consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 526, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 27, 1949 (P. L. 1903), entitled "The Military Code of 1949," further regulating membership of the Military Advisory Commission.

He also, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1693, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929," further regulating membership of the State Veterans' Commission.

He also, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1932, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 12, 1935 (P. L. 677) entitled "An act to fix the status of officers and employes of the Commonwealth and political subdivisions thereof while in training with the armed forces of the United States" including members of the United States Air Force.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the important remarks that I have to make hardly fit into the picture at the moment. I merely wanted to say to Senator Barr, who has joined the Thirty-first District, that he is most welcome in the Thirty-first District and, of course, there is a mutual understanding between Senator Barr and myself, since I was over there just a short time before he was, that we will always vote together. We are against these corporations and these bad big businesses that employ thousands of people in Pennsylvania and make the State more prosperous. We will vote accordingly.

The important thing about the whole discussion was that Senator Barr and I now will be close neighbors and will cooperate one hundred per cent. He has not told me yet, but since President Eisenhower has declared that he will submit his name, or agree to be a candidate, I am confident that Senator Barr, within a very short time, will write me so that I may advise those folks in the Thirty-first District that he will be one hundred per cent for President Eisenhower.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, now that I am practically a constituent of Senator Wade's, I hope he will answer my mail.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to correct a statistic which I gave a short time ago. I had been advised that industry would pay $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 of this amount. I understand now from Doctor Kurtzman, of the Pennsylvania Economy League, that instead of $15,000,000 or $20,000,000, it is fifteen to twenty per cent. Therefore, they will pay around $45,000,000 to $50,000,000 of the amount estimated to be raised by this sales tax.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the blessed privilege which was ours over the week end to go to our various churches and renew our faith in Thee and our love for Thee.

As we look around ourselves and see new life stirring and nature, may we also realize that Thy Spirit can give us a stronger and a better life. Help us to utilize it so that our lives may be more beautiful in Thy sight.

We ask for Thy guidance and help during this coming week that is before us, that we may do those things which will redound to Thy honor and glory and to the protection of our people in our great Commonwealth. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quoroum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

Young, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I am very proud that we have a man in Allegheny County, our State Chairman, a Democrat, who voted against the sales tax. However, he wants the honor to be the first man in Pennsylvania who will pay the three per cent sales tax. I have it here framed, to be delivered to Majority Leader Mahany.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, do I understand that the Senator from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, is giving me these pennies to pay a sales tax with?

The PRESIDENT. That was the understanding of the Chair.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am pleased to note that Abraham Lincoln is pictured on these coins, and I am very appreciative of the gift. I will see that with the first dollar purchase that I make, I will break the glass, as you do in any emergency, take out those three pennies and be happy to turn them over to the merchant and hope that he will see to it that we get most of the three pennies back and that they will go toward paying schoolteachers and so forth.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WOLFE asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WOLFE and Mr. MADIGAN,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 30, Printer's No. 536, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 223, Printer's No. 64, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 826, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to edit illustrate and publish its new report on the Frontier Forts of Pennsylvania providing for the distribution and sale thereof and making an appripriation.

be re-fererred to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated??

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, although I know what the answer will be, I would like to know for what purpose is this bill being re-referred?

Mr FLEMING. For the purpose of further study.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I consider myself a pygmy. I never thought of myself as a giant and, therefore, I hope that this statement which I am about to make will not offend my colleagues. However, I must say that once upon a time there were giants in the land.

Mr. President, toward the turn of the century, here in Pennsylvania, we were more attuned to cultural pursuits than we now are. Numerous publications were issued by the Commonwealth, covering many phases of our life. In 1883, during the term of Governor Pattison, this publication, "Frontiers of Pennsylvania," was published for the first time. There has been a great demand for it, so in 1913 the General Assembly of Pennsylvania authorized a new publication, a second edition. Today, that second edition is a collector's item. The demands coming to the Historical and Museum Commission from all over the United States and from abroad warrant the sale of whatever will be published under this bill. There will not be a penny lost to the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I amended the bill, in compliance with the wishes of Senator Mahany. Doctor Stevens, at a number of conferences with Senator Mahany, submitted to him material showing that there would not be a penny lost to the Commonwealth. This is the reason why I must object, Mr. President, to the re-referral of this bill.

I am not naive enough to believe that this re-referral will mean another chance for the bill to appear on the Calendar. I do not see why this measure, which is purely cultural in pursuit and which will not cost the Commonwealth a penny, should be sent back to committee. First of all, it is the brain child of two committees, the Committee of Forests and Waters and the Committee on Appropriations. If it would be sent to the Committee on Appropriations, maybe there would be a chance for it, because there will be a lot of bills considered. However, sending it at this time to the Committee on Forests and Waters is dooming this measure to certain death.

For that reason, Mr. President, I must object to the motion to re-refer. I ask my colleagues, in the name of the historical past of Pennsylvania and in the name of cultural pursuits, which are so much needed today, to vote against Senator Fleming's motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. RUTH. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr STEVENSON. Mr. President, not having heard my name called, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Clinton will be so recorded.

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, not having head my name called, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Luzerne will be so recorded.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President., I am constrained to ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,
Diehm,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Whalley,
Fleming,	Mahany,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,
Harney,	McPherson, Jr.,	Wade,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

Barr,	Haluska,	Mullin,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Hays,	Ruth,	Silvert,
Chapman,	McGinnis,	Schmidt,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,			Weiner,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STIEFEL and Mr. RUTH, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Berger,	Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 986, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 20, 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships" fixing the time when annexation takes effect and further providing for the payment of costs

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Sections 1 2 3 6 and 8 act of July 20 1953 (P. L. 550) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the annexation of parts of a second class township to boroughs cities and townships" are amended to read

Section 1 Whenever the annexation of territory in a second class township to a borough city or township is desired a majority of the freeholders in the proposed annexed territory shall petition the borough city or township requesting the annexation The determination of the required number of petitioners shall be made as of the date the petition is presented to the borough or city or township The petition shall be accompanied by a fee of one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and such additional sum not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars ($150) as the court shall deem reasonable and necessary for the compensation of the members of the Commission and the payment of necessary expenses incurred by the Commission including but not limited to clerk hire and traveling expenses and shall be approved or disapproved by ordinance of said borough city or township The said sum shall be applied to the purpose expressed in section 8 hereof and shall be returned to the petitioners if found unnecessary for the purpose

A copy of the petition without the signatures shall be filed with the supervisors of the township concerned prior to its presentation to the city borough or township and a certification of such filing shall be signed by at least one signer of the petition and be attached to the petition when presented to the city borough or township

A majority in interest of owners of undivided interests in any piece of property shall be deemed and treated as one person for the purpose of ascertaining the number of petitioners

Section 2 The petition after its approval by council commissioners or supervisors shall be certified to the court of quarter sessions by the secretary of the borough or township or clerk of the city and notice of such certification shall be given to the township supervisors by registered or certified mail If within thirty days thereafter no person aggrieved by the ordinance complains to the court asking for the appointment of a board of commissioners as a fact finding body the court shall determine the question and if it is satisfied as to the legality of the proceeding and the propriety of the annexation as serving public interests shall affirm the annexation

Section 3 If within thirty days after the ordinance has been certified to the court and notice given to the township supervisors any person aggrieved by the ordinance shall complain to the court asking for the appointment of a board of commissioners as a fact finding body the court if satisfied with the legality of the proceeding and the propriety of the annexation as serving public interests shall appoint a board of three commissioners to make a study of the facts in the matter No person shall be appointed as a member of the board who is a resident or taxpayer of the borough or city or of the township affected by the proposed annexation or who has a substantial interest in the proceeding financial or otherwise.

Section 6 The annexation if affirmed by the court shall become effective as of the date of approval by the court or the date upon which the township is paid for improvements and facilities as provided in section 308 of "The Second Class Township Code" whichever is later if that date is two months or more prior to the date of the next election or primary If the date [of approval by the court] herein specified is less than two months prior to the date of the next election or primary then the annexation shall take effect immediately after the election or primary

Section 8 The members of the commission shall be compensated to the extent of fifty dollars ($50) each and such additional sum as the court shall deem reasonable which shall be deposited in said court by the borough city or township

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YOUTHS FROM PROTESTANT CHURCHES OF PENNSYLVANIA, SPONSORED BY THE PENNSYLVANIA COUNCIL OF CHURCHES, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to call to the attention of the Senate the fact that there are thirty-five youths from the Protesant Churches of Pennsylvania, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, in the gallery today.

The PRESIDENT. The Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania are very glad to have these visitors here. We hope you will have an enjoyable day with us and that you will come back again.

SENATE BILL No. 335 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 335, Printer's No. 425, for the purpose of having it appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The bill will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

SENATE BILL No. 403 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 403, Printers No. 142, for the purpose of having it appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The bill will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

SENATE BILL No. 449 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 449, Printer's No. 163, for the purpose of having it appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The bill will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

HOUSE BILL No. 510 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 510, Printer's No. 413, for the purpose of having it appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none. The bill will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

SENATE BILL No. 512 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 512, Printer's No. 396.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 512, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" establishing the Department and office of the State Comptroller and defining their powers and duties changing certain powers and duties of the Governor and of the various departments boards commissions and officers and providing for the transfer of certain employes from the Department of the Auditor General to the Department of the State Comptroller be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, I wonder if you could tell me why you are sending this bill back to the Committee on State Government?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I can see, Mr. President, the reason for it is because they want to give it more study as to whether this type of move is necessary and also to find out, between now and the start of the next Session of the Legislature, what effect this might have on the working of the Auditor General's office. The committee might have an opportunity between now and then to check with the Governor's Advisory Commission —that is the one that is working under Doctor Charlesworth—and find out all of the ramifications that would be caused if we adopted this type of legislation.

It seems to me to be kind of a radical change, if we adopt this legislation. Before we do it, I think we need to have further study in relation to what might happen if it is enacted. That is the reason why we decided to send it back to committee.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I regret that I cannot accept the reasoning given by the Majority Floor Leader for sending this bill back to the Committee on State Government. It has been on the Calendar, I think, since June. There was sufficient time for everyone to study its provisions, along with the companion bill that was with it.

I call to the attention of the Senate the fact that this bill is based on a thorough study made by the Joint State Government Commission, I think, about three or four years ago. Following that study, a report was released by the committee that made the study, recommending this legislation as one of the major improvements in the operation of the State Government. I think everyone in this Chamber, and those who are acquainted with the accounting system in the State Government, will admit that the system under which we have been operating is outmoded, chaotic and is responsible for many of the fiscal deficiencies which have kept this Legislature in Session for long periods of time. It is impossible, or it was impossible, because of the type of accounting system that we had, to determine the true financial condition of the Commonwealth at any given period. It was for that reason that we have had trouble with budgets and tax programs. If there is a need which should be taken care of by this Legislature, it is a modern system of accounting to function on an accrural rather than a cash basis.

Mr. President, these two bills will accomplish that end. I, therefore, ask the Members of the Senate, in the interest of good government and in the interest of good accounting, to oppose the return of this bill and the following bill to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I am sympathetic to what I understand Senator Yosko is attempting to accomplish by the bill under consideration. However, somehow or other, I got the opinion that the Governor, as part of his program, has contemplated establishing a new system of accounting. I do not know whether this bill represents the Governor's thinking in this matter or not. It is a matter that should be given very serious consideration.

I, for one, would not want to vote to recommit this bill if it were not for the purpose stated. I believe the Senator who moved for its recommitment has no thought in mind of killing the bill. It is a very important bill and the purpose to be accomplished has really been long overdue.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to add this one fact as a supplement to my remarks. As already indicated, this bill has been on the Calendar since June and the Administration certainly had notice of that fact. I want to say to the Members of the Senate that no one from the Administration has come to me and said that these two bills are not necessary.

To add to Senator Mallery's remarks, Mr. President, I understand that there is a survey being made of the accounting system in the Commonwealth. It is being made by experts. I talked with them about changes they might make, but there are other changes which, even though they would want to make them, could not be made because they would require law to make them. These two bills would supplement and improve any changes that are made by the expert accountants who are working on the accounting system.

Therefore, Mr. President, I repeat that they are important bills to the efficient operation of the State Government, and I ask that members of the Senate vote against recommitting these proposals to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Yosko said that these bills have been on the Calendar since last June and that no one from the Administration has come to him and told him that they were not necessary. Evidently, no one has come to him from the Administration and told him that they were necessary either.

I think under the power of the Reorganization Act, which we passed, if the Governor or any of his Advisory Commission, who are working under the Reorganization Act, decide that they want to make these changes for the benefit of better government and for economy, they would have the right, under the Reorganization Act, to do that by resolution.

Mr. President, I feel that this is something that should definitely come from the head of the Government in the form of a recommendation to us, rather than from us to the Governor. If the Governor feels that this is something he wants, if he will send it over as a recommendation under the Reorganization Plan, perhaps we can decide it in the light of his recommendation.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I think the Governor said in one of his speeches—I do not know whether it was in his Inaugural Address—that we had enough studies and what we need is action. I think the Majority Leader, at some time during this Session, called attention to the Governor's statement. Here is a chance for us to get some action. I think we ought to go through with it. At least, I think the bills should be permitted to remain in position on the Calendar for passage until such time as I have a chance to discuss them with somebody of responsibility in the Administration and get their views.

So far as sending over recommendations on these phases under the Reorganization Act, let us keep in mind that it will not be long now, from what I understand, that we will be adjourning. Therefore, time is of the essence. We cannot have the gentleman from the other side complain about lack of making improvements here and, now that we have a chance, send bills back to committee.

Mr. President, a thorough study was made on these bills by experts in the accounting field. When the Joint State Government Commission made this study, it employed the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Pennsylvania, who donated their time and their efforts, together with the expert personnel that we have in the Joint State Government Commission. An elaborate report was filed and all of the deficiencies in the accounting system were pointed out. This legislation was recommended as a major improvement in the operation of the State Government.

I repeat, Mr. President, that in the interest of good government, in the interest of economy and so that this Legislature would be able to, once and for all, have information on the financial condition of the Commonwealth whenever it wants it, we need this legislation. I do not know whether one of the factors involved here in sending these bills back to committee involves the disbandment, shall I say, of a bureau within a department that is now under the control of a Republican fiscal officer. I think it would affect, probably, the Disbursing Bureau in the Auditor General's Department. If that is the factor, then I say it is a factor that involves economy and it is only one more reason why this bill should be approved. Let us forget about the few jobs that might be eliminated as a result of it, and let us think about efficiency and economy for a change. I am sure everybody in this Chamber wants that.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am amazed that Senator Yosko is of such a suspicious nature, but I hasten to tell him that certainly his last statement relative to loss of jobs did not enter into our deliberations with regard to our decision to recommit this bill. If anybody brought that particular subject up, it was brought up by him for the first time today.

Mr. President, we are all interested in economy and we are interested in doing the job with as little cost to the taxpayers as we can. However, it was felt that this type of legislation deserved further study by the State Government Committee before we act on it.

If you will go along on this motion to recommit, Senator Yosko, when this bill gets back to the State Government Committee, I am quite sure the chairman of that committee will give you an opportunity to discuss it. If you wish to bring in any of the Governor's advisors to appear before the committee on behalf of this legislation, I feel sure that Senator Diehm will give you that opportunity.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, this bill was introduced in June of last year. There certainly was plenty of time for anybody on the State Government Committee to call in anybody they wanted to call in. It seems silly to me, at this late date, after the bills have been considered and reported out, to return them to committee for the purpose of calling somebody in.

Mr. President, may I suggest that we permit these bills to remain on the Calendar for a few days longer so that I can consult with not only someone in the Governor's office or someone of responsibility in the Administration, but with those who are charged with running the Joint State Government Commission, which made the study in the first place? I think we would be acting more wisely if we did that than by sending the bills back to committee, because sending the bills back to committee is death for them, as everybody knows.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. YOSKO and Mr. HALUSKA, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Berger,	Kessler,	McMenamin,	Wade,
Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Propert,	Wagner,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Stevenson,	Watkins,
Flack,	Mahany,	Taylor,	Whalley,
Harney,	Mallery,	Van Sant,	Wolfe,

NAYS—13

Camiel,	McGinnis,	Schmidt,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Mullin,	Seyler,	Weiner,
Haluska,	Ruth,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Hays,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE BILL No. 513 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 513, Printer's No. 397.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 513, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343) entitled "The Fiscal Code" defining the powers and duties of the Department of the State Comptroller and the State Comptroller providing for the installation and maintenance of a uniform system of accounts of Commonwealth finances and of accounting reports based thereon imposing duties on every Commonwealth agency receiving or disbursing moneys from or on behalf of the Commonwealth and further regulating the disbursement of moneys from the State Treasury be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

SENATE BILL No. 539 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 539, Printer's No. 303.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 539, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relinquishing Commonwealth rights in property in control of the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, it looks to me as though today will be a Bartholomean afternoon because they are massacring all my bills. I have three more bills coming up. There is a peculiar thing about these bills. We have, in the Attorney General's office, a gentleman by the name of Harrington Adams. When it comes to these two bills, Harrington Adams is being harried. I did not have a chance to have a conference with him, but I understand that Senator Mahany is basing his attitude on the advice of Mr. Adams.

I feel duty bound to acquaint the Members of the Senate with the gist of these two bills, known as Senate Bill No. 539 and Senate Bill No. 540.

Mr. President, toward the beginning of this century when the General Assembly was more magnanimous in its attitude toward the institutions of higher learning, they appropriated money not only for maintenance but also for building. Therefore, a series of buildings were erected on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania; a building was erected in the compound of Temple University. There is another bill, now in the Committee on State Government, dealing with Woman's Medical College.

When the State appropriated this money for these schools, which was about fifty years ago, they reserved liens against the property. These liens are still recurring from year to year and they are being renewed each five years. The Commonwealth is in the position of Hamlet, "To do or not to do," and nothing is being done about those liens. I feel that after fifty years, it is about time those liens are cancelled. For this reason, I introduced these two bills which have been lingering on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar for a long time.

Mr. President, I feel that Mr. Adams ought to train his gimlet eye on these two bills a little more than he has up until now. For this reason, I would appeal to the Majority Leader to give a reprieve to these two bills in order that Mr. Adams may give further study to the matter.

I believe we are now proceeding in haste, but I think it will take another four weeks until this General Assembly adjourns and for this reason, I do not see why today these two bills should be doomed to perdition.

Mr. President, my appeal is directed to the Majority Leader to withhold this execution for another few days.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I notice by the open letter written by Speaker Andrews that he says, "The Senate has decided we are going to adojurn sine die on March the 22nd." I do not know where Mr. Andrews got that information, but certainly the last statement relative to our adjournment date by Senator Stiefel is in contradiction to Hiram Andrews' statement that the Senators have set the date for adjournment.

I also want to say to Senator Stiefel that Mr. Harrington Adams had nothing to do with our decision to recommit these bills. These bills have been on the Postponed Calendar for some time. We have had visitations from the officers of the University of Pennsylvania and Temple University on numerous occasions since these bills have been on the Postponed Calendar, and evidently they are not very much interested in them or they would have talked to some of us about their merits. I have heard nothing from these officials of the University of Pennsylvania as to why we should pass this legislation, nor have I received any communications from them as to the worth-whileness of this legislation.

Mr. President, rather than have the Commonwealth bear the expense of any more printing on the Calendar, we decided we would put these bills back in committee until such time as Senator Stiefel or somebody can build a fire under them to get them back out on the Calendar again.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Mahany's statement about Speaker Andrews predicting adjournment on March 22, I would like to state that I would not be surprised if, according to the official calendar, it will be the 22nd of March, but the date will be about April 15th because I have been here before and I saw what they do with the clock.

I know what happens in the last moments of the Session, Mr. President, and I am not so optimistic as Speaker Andrews.

As far as the officials of the University of Pennsylvania and of Temple are concerned, by not coming to speak to the leadership about these two bills is very plausible. They have so much at stake now that they are afraid to tamper with it. That is the reason why they are reticent. They do not dare to ask for more and they are not asking for more. I did this of my own volition.

Mr. President, I believe that Mr. Adams ought to study these bills further and instead of committing these bills to the Committee on State Government for further study, maybe we ought to ask Mr. Harrington Adams to do some more studying on these two bills.

I object to the recommittal of these two bills.

Mr. President, may I ask a question of Senator Mahany. I did not use the word "interrogate," but said plain "ask a question."

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawofrd, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be asked a question?

Mr. MAHANY. Of course, Mr. President, I will be happy to answer a question.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. Mahany, I am anticipating a little bit, but I just want to form an opinion. I saw Senate Bill No. 826 go back to committee and now Senate Bill No. 539 and Senate Bill No. 540 are going back to committee. I, therefore, got quite a shellacking, to use the slang, but are Senate Bill No. 672 and Senate Bill No. 673 also doomed to go back to committee?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Senator, I will not insist on it if you would rather have them stay on the Postponed Calendar a day or two longer. I think perhaps we have given you enough today. If you want to have another day tomorrow, why, we will hold them and do it tomorrow.

Mr. STIEFEL. If you would leave Senate Bill No. 672 and Senate Bill No. 673 on the Calendar for at least one week, why, I will have a chance to concentrate on them and maybe I can save them.

I received a nice dose of defeat today and I think you should give me some consideration.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, if it will make you sleep a little better tonight, I will go along with your suggestion and I will not give it to you too much.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

SENATE BILL No. 540 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 540, Printer's No. 302.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 540, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relinquishing Commonwealth rights in property in control of the Trustees of Temple University.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

SENATE BILL No. 816 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 816, Printer's No. 369.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 816, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" revising the school health services program and transferring the reimbursement appropriation for school nurses in such program to the Department of Public Instruction.

be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 828 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 828, Printer's No. 389.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 828, on second reading, entitled:

An Act requiring owners and lessees of land on which there are certain abandoned excavations to fill in or fence the same to prevent persons falling therein prescribing penalties imposing duties on cities boroughs towns and townships.

be recommitted to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am not going to take the time of the Senate to repeat the reasons why this bill was introduced. I am just going to say that the next boy, girl or individual who falls into one of these open excavated areas shall be on the conscience of the gentlemen who vote to send it back to committee.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I certainly think that is a very unfair statement. I do not want to have anybody's loss of life on my conscience. I do not believe that this particular bill would prevent all accidents. As long as you have highways, as long as you have high buildings, as long as you have almost anything in the modern world, you will have accidents. However, I do not believe that this type of legislation would cut down the accidents to any appreciable extent. I believe that it would be very unworkable. That is the reason why I want to recommit this bill. Perhaps the committee will be able to come up with some suggestions for amendments that would make it a more workable piece of legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

HOUSE BILL No. 1026 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 1026, Printer's No. 309.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1026, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering any administrative department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when so designated by the Governor to cooperate with the United States in the distribution and use of surplus foods and commodities.

be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL No. 1322 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 1322, Printer's No. 393.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1322, on second reading entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sell and convey two tracts of land situate in the Township of Washington Franklin County Pennsylvania with the approval of the Governor be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE BILL No. 819 CALLED UP FROM FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I call up from the Final Passage Postponed Calendar, Senate Bill No. 819, Printer's No. 378.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 819, on final passage, entitled:

An Act subjecting housing projects to taxation for school purposes be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this bill is an attempt to find some way by which we can get, for our local school districts, taxes on housing authority buildings which are not now being paid. There is a question whether this is strictly constitutional as it stands presently. We are exploring ways in which it might be amended to do the trick that is so necessary to have done.

It seems to me that we might just as well let it where it is for a day or two until that determination is made.

Mr. President, I request that the Members of the Senate vote against recommitting this bill.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I do not like to differ with my good friend, Senator Wagner, and I appreciate his sincere feeling on this matter. I have been tempted many times, when we have had the Calendar before us, to make this motion. However, I have hesitated to do it until today when I heard from the mouth of the Majority Leader the fact that they are trying to remove from the Calendar, for economy sake, a lot of these bills that have been on the Calendar for quite some time and which are controversial, and should be taken back to committee either for further study or amendment or whatever may be determined in that committee.

As has been stated by the Chairman of the Committee on Education, I feel that this bill is unconstitutional. All these housing projects that have been built, have been built under contracts that were made. Contained in the contracts were stipulations whereby a certain percentage of the rents coming in would be returned to the local community for local taxation, particularly for the schools. A community does not have to accept housing projects. If you force a situation like this, as is proposed by this bill, the practical result is going to be that there will be no further housing projects built. It is low cost housing and the reason they are able to do it is the fact that they do not have the tax load that the ordinary housing projects have.

For this reason, Mr. President, I say that this bill properly should go back to committee. If it can be worked out some way, it should be done in the committee. So long as it remains on the Calendar, it does face a certain amount of danger that probably, through laxity or somehow, this bill may be called up when some of us who are opposed to it may not be here.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask those members of the Senate, who feel as I do, to vote for its recommittal.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, nobody wants to make impossible any future housing authorities or any building of residences under housing authorities. That is exactly the reason why the bill has been kept on the Postponed Calendar. We had the votes any number of times to pass it, but we are concerned about that and we want to reconcile it.

I would suggest to the gentleman that he withdraw his motion until Senator Flack, who is a co-sponsor of the bill and who has this problem intensified in his Senatorial District, is on the floor. If it is agreeable to Senator Flack, we could take it back and amend it in committee. I think as a matter of courtesy—Senator Stiefel, a few minutes ago, had the opportunity, which was not used too successfully, to defend his bill. I think Senator Flack might or might not readily agree to the action.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, in deference to the request of the Senator, due to the fact that Senator Flack is not on the floor and does have a problem involved in this bill, I will consent to withdraw my motion and I request that the bill remain on the Final Passage Postponed Calendar.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. McPHERSON, JR. and WEINER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1013, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 24, 1951 (P. L. 1405), entitled "Estate Tax Apportionment Act of 1951" changing the method of apportionment regarding the inheritance or death tax effect with respect to charitable, public or similar gifts or bequests. Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1014, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire lands comprising the Captain William Phillpis' Rangers Memorial in Liberty Township, Bedford County; providing for the control, management, supervision, improvement, restoration and maintenance thereof by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and making appropriations.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON SENATE BILL No. 835

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. MALLERY, MADIGAN and HAYS, as a committee of conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (if the House shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to Senate Bill No. 835.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I certainly do not want any recommitment on this statement I intend to make.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I would like to state that the Watkins Farm has announced the birth of a baby girl this morning at 4:45 o'clock. The father has gotten over the shock very well. "Cat Bridge" happens to be the father. The mother, "Gondolina", says that she thinks everything is going to be all right. This beautiful little filly happens to be something that Senator DiSilvestro and I thought should be properly named.

I would suggest that Senator Taylor appoint a committee to name this filly. I would like to have her named after this Session, whether you call her "Miss Sales Tax," "Miss Long Session" or whatever you want to call her. I thought I would like that to go into the record because there is a possibility that Pennsylvania might be honoring this filly three years from now.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in line with Senator Watkin's suggestion, I am reminded of the story of the young lady who visited one of these farms like Senator Watkins runs. She evidently had many close skirmishes to certain dangers. When she got home, she sent a telegram to the Senator and this is what it said: "Safe at home, by heavens; out of danger."

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1276, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making special provision for the taxation of private forest reserves.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I prepared a long speech to deliver as an introduction to this bill, but today I was forced to take the floor a few times and I have already given my colleagues a nice ear-beating.

In order that I do not keep them any longer, I will ask that my speech be spread over the Journal.

The PRESIDENT. The statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, in connection with the bill he is about to introduce will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

It was back in 1915 when Mr. and Mrs. Maurius Harcum decided that there was a new type of education. Both of these pioneers had long felt that the time had come in the growth of America when its young women should be trained to appreciate the greatness of our country and its wonderful educational opportunities. The college went through its growing phases and since its founding more than 4,000 persons have received their diplomas. Even during the depth of the depression days, the college maintained high educational standards. During the days of World War II it went through rather vigorous moments in its fight for continuation. Finally in 1952 a group of citizens banded themselves together, under the leadership of De Haven Develin, President of the Bryn Mawr Trust Company in Bryn Mawr Pennsylvania.

Mr. Develin was elected as Chairman of the Board of Managers, which now consists of such eminent and well-known people including Mrs. Herbert W. Anderson, who is State President of the American Association of University Women and well-known as the former President of the Federated Women's Clubs; Boris Blai, Dean of the Tyler School of Fine Arts of Temple University; Dr. Rex S. Clements, Minister of the Presbyterian Church of Bryn Mawr and well-known for his educational pursuits; Mrs. Curtis Bok, wife of the eminent jurist who herself was at one time Dean of the Stevens Junior College in Columbus, Missouri; Mrs. John Rich, Publications Chairman of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters and who was President of the Philadelphia Center for Older Women; Mr. Emerson Greenaway, Chief Librarian of the Free Library of Philadelphia; Dr. Max Strumia, head of the Pathology Department of the Bryn Mawr Hospital and known throughout the world for his great experiments on blood plasma; Robert McCay Green, Attorney-at-Law and one time City Solicitor of Philadelphia; George Pasfield, the well-known builder in Haverford, Pennsylvania;

Mrs. Ralph T. Unkefer, well-known for her collegiate activities as a graduate; Mrs. Joseph VanderVeer, a popular organizer of many charities and wife of the former Chairman of the Heart Association; and Dr. Dorothy Shindell, who for some time was Chief Resident of the Northern Division of the Philadelphia General Hospital. The services of Philip Klein were secured as President of Harcum Junior College and Maud L. Marren, who served as Dean of the College for the past thirty years, was given additional duties and took on new responsibilities.

Twelve buildings were acquired and Harcum Junior College was given a charter as a non-profit institution by the Judges of Montgomery County. One of the first enterprises of the new Board of Managers was to set forth a statement. It reads:

"Believing that Harcum Junior College serves an important and vital segment of the nation, the college offers a curriculum designed to be a self-contained unit for each student and intended to prepare her for a full life for self-education rather than necessarily for further formal work in a four year college or in a professional school. Curriculum centers on the fine arts and on vocational training, and yet the student is given solid work in the field of liberal arts. In keeping with this concept of education, the policy of admission is such as to give greater recognition to interest in and aptitude for a particular vocational or avocational field than to general high academic excellence. The vocational and avocational fields of concentration offered by this college are limited to those in which we feel such we can offer unusually good educational opportunities."

The faculty consists of 32 integrated and well trained men and women, all of them dedicated to this unusual pursuit. This group has been carefully culled and selected for their particular subjects and for their willingness and capability to disseminate their knowledge.

The courses offered in the curriculum are Liberal Arts, General Education, Music, Fine Arts, Drama, Fashion Merchandising, Secretarial, Medical Secretarial, Medical Technology, Child Development and Advertising-Journalism. It is hoped that the new course in Child Development will permit Harcum Junior College to develop a new phase in education, permitting the training of teachers within a period of two years so that they can fill the gap which is gradually increasing year by year. The course in medical technology is also attracting attention all over the country. The cooperation of Jefferson Medical School and hospital and Bryn Mawr Hospital permits the students to acquire, within a period of two years, great knowledge and facility of assisting physicians in the technological operation of their offices

The College also serves as the headquarters for another first in American education, namely, The Residential Weekend School. This was inaugurated two years ago and consisted of offering weekend courses to adults in such fields as French, Bird Study, Great Men in History, Writers Workship, Artists Workshop, Spanish, Nature Study and other unusual and interesting topics. This is modeled after the weekend colleges that are now in vogue throughout Europe.

Recently, Harcum Junior College was host to the First International Conference on Residential Adult Education, when visitors from twelve foreign countries met with educators from the United States and Canada to discuss this new phase of adult education.

Harcum Junior College fits in with the new and growing pattern of encouraging young women throughout our country to continue with their studies in an effort to develop their own natural facility. There are few Junior Colleges of this kind which are developed completely to the training of young women for the pursuits and problems which lie ahead. With the realization that out of every ten of our working women are married, the administration of Harcum Junior College believes that by training these young women in a practical manner they can learn to achieve the problems they will have in the future. At the same time, Harcum Junior College is fully cognizant that by inaugurating these unique and valuable methods, they are preparing many who will forge ahead in the field of teaching. There is a great demand for good teachers and the students that have been graduated from Harcum Junior College, from science and business courses, indicate that this great void in education can be met if it has proper support in its developmental days.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1015, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of Harcum Junior College at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would just like to call to the attention of Senator Mahany the fact that Senator Stiefel is a man who may be down but he is never out. Senator Mahany killed three of his bills today and he came right back with another one.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senators, I would like to state that instead of adjourning at the present time, we intend to take a recess, awaiting the message from the House as to whether they will concur or non-concur in the selective sales tax bill. If it so happens that they non-concur, we wish to insist upon our amendments and throw this into a Conference Committee.

Therefore, if any of the Senators desire to leave and not wait until the time we receive this message, it will be perfectly all right to leave for dinner.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am one of those who enjoys being in Harrisburg and I do not mind staying here all week. However, I received a communication from the office of the Secretary announcing the schedule for today and it was written in bold letters, "Senators expected to stay all week."

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to know from Senator Mahany whether that is so or whether it is only a thing which may be interpreted in many different ways.

Mr. MAHANY. When we had some Republican Senators who were also Members of the Bar from Philadelphia up here, we were never able to hold them for more than one day at a time and I do not believe it will be possible for me to hold Democratic Senators for more than one day at a time. I know the Philadelphia lawyers are quite busy.

Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments, awaiting communications from the House of Representatives?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE NON-CONCURS IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 2009

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 2009, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the sale, use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property; providing for licenses, reports, payment and collection of tax interest and penalties, assessments, collections, liens, reviews and appeals; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, public officers, manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, corporations, partnerships, associations and individuals and making an appropriation.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 2009

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the House to the foregoing bill.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we be at ease a few moments, awaiting communications from the House of Representatives?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

and has appointed Merrs. READINGER, POLEN and GIBSON as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

HOUSE BILL No. 2009 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 2009, and move a committee of conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 2009

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs.

MAHANY, KESSLER and DENT as a committee of conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the difference existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 2009.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 10:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, March 6, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:21 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, March 6, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, MARCH 5, 1956

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend E. Luther Cunningham, Minister of St. Paul's Baptist Church, Philadelphia, guest Chaplain, and guest of the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Sarah A. Anderson, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, our Father, who art Lord of Heaven and of all the earth;—grant, this day, to the Speaker and the Members of the House, Thy guidance. Give them right understanding, pure purpose and a sense of consecration to duty. May they be strong, yet charitable. May they be diligent defenders of the right and valiant champions against the wrong. May they strive earnestly, always, to maintain the freedom and the rights and the welfare of all the people, whose servants they are.

Help them, by Thy Grace, to see that it is better to fail in a cause that will ultimately succeed than to succeed in a cause that will ultimately fail.

Here may Thy Will be done above all cleavage of class or race. Here may Thy purpose be carried out above party and personality,—beyond time and circumstance, for the benefit of the Commonwealth, the good of America and the peace of the world. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, February 29, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. At the request of the Majority and Minority Floor Leaders the Chair declares a recess of one hour for the purpose of a Democratic and a Republican caucus. The Chair hears no objections.

Members are requested to retire immediately to their respective caucus rooms.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. All bills on the final passage calendar and all bills on the third reading calendar, with the exception of House Bill No. 885, if there is no objection, will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 885, entitled:

An Act relating to plumbing providing for certification registration and regulation of persons engaged in plumbing creating a State Public Health Plumbing Board in the Department of Health prescribing its powers and duties and those of local governments with respect thereto and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Professional Licensure for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the bill before us for concurrence in Senate amendments is the Senate-written version of the sales tax bill.

The estimated yield from this bill is about $322 million. As you know, the Senate added several categories of taxable items to this bill as it had passed the House. It also removed from the bill the Ohio stamp tax plan method of collection.

The House, when it originally passed this bill, had given it a lot of thought. It was, as you know, a part of the compromise tax package. The rest of that package has now been scrapped by the Senate and they have seen fit to write the bill as it now appears before us for concurrence in their amendments.

We have been here about fourteen months now, and the state is certainly on the verge of bankruptcy, if it is not already bankrupt, in a broad sense.

I am asking the Members of the House today to vote for these amendments. We do not like the bill, we said so before, but apparently it is the best we can get from the State Senate and we have to have money.

I do not know what the actual amount of loss is per day every day we do not have this bill, or some bill like it, on the books. I am told it runs somewhere in the vicinity of $750 thousand per day, and, as you well know, you cannot go back and tax people for a past period under a sales tax. It can only be collected while it is in effect.

I say we do not like this bill any more than we like any sales tax bill before. Our party has taken a very definite position against raising this kind of money with a sales tax, but I am not going to repeat, and repeat, and repeat, what has been said before. I think the public knows our position on it, and since this is apparently all we are going to get from the state Senate by way of a tax measure to raise some $322 million, I am asking the Democrats and the Republicans to vote for these amendments and get this bill on the Governor's desk.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I must apologize today for my voice because it has been breaking. It is not breaking because of emotion and I would like that definitely understood.

If the Majority Leader thinks that we like this tax plan he has another think coming his way. Where he got his idea that it was the best that the Senate would produce and the only one that the Senate would produce, must have come from the Minority Leader in the Senate in his conference with the Chair. If that is a fact, no man in the Senate to this point as a Republican, has notified me that we either take this or else. I think if that was their attitude they would tell me, at least I am the Minority Leader of the Republican party. There has been no Republican at this point saying "It is going to be this or else".

We do not like this plan. We do not like it for two reasons. We do not like it because it is placing a tax on consumer's bills. If you can tell me how this bill is written that it is a tax on tangible property, I wish you would do so. If a telephone call in your estimation is tangible property, I do not know what tangible property is. It is no more tangible property than air or something else is tangible property that you cannot touch.

We are only suggesting two things. We are going to ask this House and you Members on that side of the House to non-concur for only two reasons, to make it a bill that at least you might like a little bit better, and to make it a bill that we feel is a much fairer bill for the people of Pennsylvania.

As far as loss of revenue is concerned let me assure you that in our plan definitely the tax will bring in approximately $2.5 million more than the way it is written today.

Let me just go into what we are proposing so that the Members of this House may understand. We are proposing a very simple change. It definitely will not cost the administration one penny, as I said, it is going to actually bring in $2 million more revenue than the present bill.

First, we are completely opposed to placing a tax on the necessities of life, such as fuel, electric light, telephone and telegraph service in a sales tax bill. It is not tang ible property as far as telephones, electric light or telegrams are concerned. I ask you who can touch a telephone call? Can you? You touch the instrument, you do not touch the call. Who in God's name believes that a telephone call is tangible property? In the first place you people on the other side of the House, I am rather amazed that you would ask to concur in such a tax, because if you do not want a broad base tax, you are certainly getting it in this.

There is nobody, who doesn't find it necesesary to have a telephone, to have electric service, to have gas service. If they are not necessities of life, let me say to you, I do not know what is. You do not have to go out and buy an article that has a sales tax on it if you do not want to, but let me see you do it in any of those categories. It is impossible.

The Economy League gave us these figures. They are not our figures. We would like to drop that entire section. We do not believe it is fair to the people of the Commonwealth to impose a tax such as that, that is, Section 13 of the present bill.

These figures were given to us by the Pennsylvania Economy League. They say that dropping this one section will reduce the revenue by approximately $25 million in the next fourteen months. They are not our figures. They are the figures of the Economy League, of whom you spoke so highly, of whom the Governor spoke so highly, and which certainly is an unbiased party.

How will we make that $24 million or $25 million up? Well, here is the way we will make it up. We are not going to tax something else to make it up. We are going to insert the Ohio plan of collection. It is a modified Ohio plan. What would this do? All right, let me explain it.

Under the bill as it passed the Senate, sales tax collections for the last month in this biennium will be paid into the State Treasury in the next biennium. That is under the present tax bill. If we go along with the plan that is now in the bill, you do not collect the tax, as you well know, until a month later. Therefore, you are losing a month in this biennium.

That month's take, if we want to call it that, will be approximately $23 million. Under the Ohio plan of a prepaid stamp, and keep that in mind, the stamps are prepaid by the vendor and the state would receive the money in this biennium. The state would not receive it in June, they would get it in this biennium. More than that, the stores and the merchants will have to have a supply of stamps on hand at all times. They have to be open for business as of the first of the month, so they buy more stamps for June 1st. So you are not only pushing some of June collections in there but you are also pushing in all of May's collections. So you are saving the same $25 million and you are not putting it on the people of the Commonwealth in a tax on telephones.

We estimate conservatively that at least one third of the tax will be paid by the public in June of 1957. This will be prepaid in this biennium. This is approximately another $8 million or a complete total of about $31 million.

I know somebody is going to come up and tell me how costly the Ohio plan is. Let me give you what the additional costs are. You have the cost of printing, and these figures came from the Economy League, of approximately $500 thousand for stamps; you have the cost of redeeming the tax stamps for one year at two per cent.

If every stamp is turned in that would be approximately $5 million that the Economy League says, and by experience in Ohio only fifty per cent of the stamps are redeemed. Therefore, you would have a cost of $2,500 thousand, approximately on that.

In addition to that we believe that the percentage of collections will go up. So that your collection will total five to ten per cent better. Many people have said, how do I know that that money is going to the state under the old plan? How do they know that it is going to the state under the plan sent to us by the Senate? They do not know that now any more than they did a year ago when the old tax plan was in effect.

Today with the Ohio tax plan, when that merchant gives you a stamp, you know that money is going into the state; you have no doubt in your mind. So your collections are bound to go up—I do not know, maybe one per cent, two per cent, but they are certainly not going down. I can assure you of that.

We like this plan because it is what the people of Pennsylvania have been talking about, if they get a sales tax. We like it because it eliminates a tax on the people to heat their homes, to light their homes with electricity, to operate their home appliances, and to cook their food, and also there will be no state tax on telephone service and telegram service. We do not know how it even would be collected. As you know, the telephone service cannot collect a tax on toll calls because of a court decision. You are going to put an additional burden on industry. You do not know what it is going to bring in and the people of the state do not want a tax on those services. Believe me, it is not a sales tax.

I can say to you if we put through today this Ohio plan with the 13th Section out, you will not lose a cent of money. You are going to gain money.

It is to your advantage to vote for it. Send it to a Conference Committee. They will solve it at a Conference Committee and you will have a decent tax bill that perhaps some of you would be able to vote for.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's amazement that I should ask the Membership to concur in these amendments is only equaled by my delight in hearing him criticize something that his colleagues in the Senate have foisted upon us.

None of us in the House knew to the best of my knowledge, that the state Senate was going to amend this bill to include a tax on some of the basic necessities of life such as electricity and gas.

Let me assure him that we do not like that feature any better than he does, but when somebody does not like part of a bill which raises a very substantial amount of money, he should be prepared to suggest some substitute for it.

The gentleman suggests as a substitute the change to the Ohio stamp plan. Many of us on this side in the past have opposed the use of a stamp plan. We voted for the bill, some of us, with that plan in it because it was the only way to get the bill passed.

Sometime ago I stated that I had written to the Ohio State Tax Commission, Stanley Bowers, asking for information concerning the operation of the plan in Ohio. By the way, Ohio is the only one in about thirty-six states with sales taxes that uses that plan. Mr. Bowers did send me a lot of information on it indicating that over the years they have found it was a very costly way of collecting their sales tax, and furthermore, that the self-policing aspect of it, the whole basic philosophy back of it, was not being carried out.

The Minority Leader has just stated that only about fifty per cent of the stamps which are purchased by the sellers and apparently handed out to the buyers are ever turned in for redemption. That is probably true, but the facts in Ohio also show that for a period of four or five months the purchase of stamps by the sellers will run along in accordance with the national trend of the market, and then in June and December the purchase of those stamps will skyrocket five or more times out of the ordinary course. This indicates that when the merchants file their semi-annual reports they look over their records and see they sold $100,000 worth of merchandise, but during that time they have only bought $50,000 worth of stamps, so they run down and buy the stamps. The state gets the money, sure, because the merchants want to be honest, they want their stamps to match the amount of sales they have made, but it must necessarily indicate that the merchants are not handing the stamps out to the people as the sales are made. If they were handing them out, there would not be any skyrocketing of purchases in June and December.

We know too from the Ohio state records that the cost of collection out there has been between five and one-half and six per cent of the amount collected, and we know by comparison with other sales tax states that the average cost of their collection is two per cent.

The gentleman may be right in saying this will only cost us $2.5 million for redemption, and so forth, but I do not think we should adopt a plan which even Ohio's officials are trying to reject if we are going to have a sales tax in Pennsylvania. The Ohio Tax Commissioner very emphatically states that the best method of collection is to have a lot of good field auditors to check the merchants who are supposed to pay these taxes and to set up the most efficient method of collection.

There are some of us on this side, including myself, who would have been willing to substitute as a means of offsetting the revenue loss we would suffer if we took the utility consumers out a tax on some clothing, but I remember the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader, very emphatically stating if clothing were included in the sales tax there would not be any votes on that side for a sales tax bill.

So there we have the dilemma. We need a certain amount of money. The Senate says in order to get it we are going to impose a tax on the consumers of utilities, and now the gentleman on the other side tells us there will be no votes for this bill as it is now written unless we take the utility consumers out. So we are back in the same old dilemma we were in before.

I have suggested we concur in these amendments because to the best of my knowledge the Senate is going to insist they be kept in the picture and they are also going to insist that the Ohio stamp plan be kept out.

If the gentleman in the minority decide to vote against these amendments and there is no concurrence, this bill of necessity will go into a conference committee. I certainly hope that we can iron out our differences if it does go there, because we do not want to lose money at the rate of $750,000 a day.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I just cannot quite go along with the Majority Leader's thinking.

I think he has been around these legislative halls a few more years than I have. He is telling us all about the state officials in Ohio and he is telling us about the Revenue Department in Ohio, that they do not like it and the Governor does not like it. I do not give a darn and neither do the people of Ohio. They have a legislature in Ohio, why don't they change it? You know why. They do not dare change it. What do they care what the officials think, the people like the tax. That is the only reason it is not changed. He knows that.

If this is such an obnoxious tax plan, their Legislature acts the same as we do, they are people like we are, but the pressure is so great on the Legislature they do not dare change it. That is the truth and he knows it. They do not dare change the tax plan in Ohio because the people like it.

The gentleman says they run down and purchase stamps. Well, perhaps they do. But what difference does it make when they purchase the stamps as long as the state gets the money? I do not care when they purchase the stamps, if they do it before they audit or after they audit, as long as the state does not lose the money, and I do not think you do either. That is what we are after, isn't it? We are trying to have the state get as much of a 100 per cent dollar as we can. What do you want, a fifty per cent dollar, a forty per cent dollar, or a 100 per cent dollar? Let us try and get them a 100 per cent dollar. That is what we are after. This bill, regardless of what the gentleman says, with the Ohio plan will bring in more money than as it is written today, and he knows it.

He says that the Senate is going to insist on their amendments. Well, I have no news from the Senate, evidently the Majority Leader is better informed than I am, but I am going on record right now and state that the Republican House Caucus gave me permission to say that we are going to insist on the Ohio plan with Section 13 taken out. That is what we are insisting on. Forget the Senate.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to belabor the point relative to the method of collection, but since the Minority Leader has raised the question of why they do not get rid of the stamp plan in Ohio, I think I can tell him why.

Over the years they have had it, I think since 1935, stamps have been redeemed to the extent of many, many mililons of dollars, at first by charitable and educational institutions, and I think now under their present law by anybody who brings in a hundred dollars worth of stamps or units of a hundred dollars. Who would not want to keep that plan if they were getting the money?

I imagine there is a very powerful lobby in the state of Ohio now to influence people and legislators to keep the plan because of the beneficial results to the various organizations. If we get into the position where we can give out five, six, seven, eight million dollars to institutions of that kind, I think we should give it to them. But today when we are trying to find money to finance schools, hospitals and other things, I do not like to see us enter into any agreement whereby we are going to subsidize various other groups.

However, I dare say if the amendments to this bill are not concurred in and it goes into a conference committee, I think the gentleman on the minority side, the Minority Leader, will find that we on this side will be inclined to take the bill any way your party wants to write it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Minority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I will be very fair with the gentleman. His voice is not in very good shape and my own it not in very good shape, so let's be fair with one another today.

I would like to ask the gentleman why he feels he can get the Senate to agree in a conference report, when it seems to me he is not on speaking terms with the Senate of Pennsylvania? What grounds does he have to assure the Members on this side of the House, or the people of Pennsylvania that we will be able to carry on the duties of the state of Pennsylvania if we allow this bill to go to a conference committee?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I think, Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, under the legislative processes in the House and the Senate under which we operate it is not necessary for either house to know what is going to happen. I believe a conference committee is appointed for that one purpose, to sit down and discuss things across the table. I believe that is a method of arbitration which is being used and it works for labor. It certainly has worked in the past here. We have gone into conference committee and come out with ideal bills, as the gentleman knows. The only reason I think the people might be on our side is exactly what the Majority Leader just said, that evidently in Ohio they have a very excellent people's lobby. I am quite sure, when the people of Pennsylvania know what this Republican House is fighting for, the people's lobby will be on our side.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman as to the amendments he is suggesting in this bill, does he think it would have been possible to have those very simple amendments agreed to over in the Senate of Pennsylvania? Has he tried at all to have these amendments taken care of in the Senate of Pennsylvania?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is rather difficult to answer that because the bill which was sent to the Senate—I believe I am right—had these amendments in it, at least, it had the Ohio tax plan, and we did not tax consumers' services.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman talk with the Senators on the amendments they made to our bill, your bill, I might say, that was sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania? Did they call the gentleman in, or did they call in any of his Republican colleagues?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, all I can do is speak for myself. I was not informed as to what the Senate was going to do, and I believe that is right. I believe we act as independent bodies. At least, if we did not in the past, I think it is about time this House stood on its feet and acted as one.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman would not say there were not any Members of his party consulted on the changes?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot speak for the Members of my party any more than the gentleman can. I can only speak for myself. I was not consulted on any of these changes.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, is it quite plain to the gentleman now that this is a sales tax bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would say definitely it is a selective sales tax bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, we have agreed on that then. At least, the Governor did not write this bill. The Senate, the Republican Senate of Pennsylvania, wrote the sales tax bill and the gentleman agrees it is a sales tax bill.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I think the gentleman can carry his statements a little bit further, Mr. Speaker, and say that the Republican House did not write this bill either.

Mr. LOVETT. May I say to the gentleman that I think the Republican House wrote quite a bit of this bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Will the gentleman be a little more explicit and pinpoint the parts that we wrote?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether I could pinpoint so much.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. We have plenty of time, Mr. Speaker. We can listen.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the membership on my side and on the other side of this House that I am not faking. I am being perfectly honest and fair in my decision on this concurrence in the Senate amendment to this bill.

For many months we have labored to try to get some form of a tax bill to protect the people and the institutions of Pennsylvania. I am certainly not pleased with what the Senate accomplished in your sales tax bill you sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania. I certainly am not pleased that they buried our part of the program over in the Senate of Pennsylvania, but they did. They made it a sales tax. The protected the money interests of Pennsylvania, as they have over the years.

Do you recall the last election? Was the sales tax an issue in the last election in Pennsylvania? You recall that it was an issue in Pennsylvania, and it will be an issue again, the sales tax in Pennsylvania. Let that be as it may. Let the people decide whether it is right to put the entire burden of a sales tax on the people of Pennsylvania, whether it should be divided, or whether it should be placed on those best able to pay.

But we will lay that all aside today. After fourteen months we now are faced with a bill amended by the Senate of Pennsylvania and we we find the Members on the other side, who got up and asked us to be statesmen and vote for the legislation, refusing today to concur in the amendments made by their colleagues in the Senate. For what reason?

Day after day the state of Pennsylvania comes nearer and nearer to bankruptcy; day after day the teachers will go without pay. Sooner or later it will happen. That is the problem we are faced with today. I am going to act as a statesman today. Since we find ourselves in this position I plead with you Members on the other side of this House to be statesmen because you have no guarantee when this bill goes to a conference committee that you will get any agreement.

Our Floor Leader stated he has been informed by someone that the Senate will insist on the very things being in the bill that you are trying to take out and on the stamp plan not being in the bill.

Day after day we continue to lose revenue. I say to you that over the years I have fought to get some form of taxation in Pennsylvania other than a sales tax which would put the burden on the backs of the people of Pennsylvania. Today I am forced, I am forced, to concur in the Senate amendments and send this bill to the Governor so that the state of Pennsylvania will be able to keep its head up and do the things that it should for its people.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, between speaking and some Vick's cough drops I am doing much better.

I enjoyed hearing the statesman, Mr. Lovett, make his very eloquent speech. If he has been taken in and believes that consumers' electric light bills, telephone bills and fuel bills should be taxed, that is certainy his prerogative. I admire him for that, but we do not think that. If he has been taken in by that he could have made that very eloquent speech in his caucus, because if there are 105 more statesmen on his side of the House the bill will not even have to go to a conference committee. Make your speech and convert your 105 statesmen and we will not send it to a conference committee. You have the vote.

The SPEAKER. He tried.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Speaker for informing the gentleman that I tried, and I tried pretty hard. I am not so sure if some of you boys over on that side got off their high horse I could get a lot of my friends over here to maybe agree and go along.

The gentleman said that if I have changed my mind and I would like to put the tax on the gas that the people use, and the phone calls that the people make, and the electricity that the people use, he knows well enough that I do not like it. Over the years he knows that I do not like it because I have continually stood here and shouted: "Let's be fair!" "Let's put the tax on the people best able to pay in Pennsylvania." But his colleagues in the Senate are those who control—his colleagues in the Senate do not agree, and as I said, only in the last ditch stand must I now bow before that power that be and say to them, "Yes, you put the tax on the people of Pennsylvania, those least able to pay." We will find out at the next election whether or not you were wrong or whether you were right.

I want everybody to understand that I am pleading for you to do this, to concur in these amendments of the Senate so that we can get the revenue to help the state of Pennsylvania keep its head up and take care of its institutions and do the things that it should do.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman take the position that the bill as amended by the Senate is a bill for which the Republican party in the Senate alone is responsible?

Mr. READINGER. I do.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Then do we assume that as far as the responsibility in the House is concerned, since the Democratic party apparently is not willing to permit the Republican party to have any say in it in the House, that the Democrats are assuming full responsibility for the bill as amended in the House?

Mr. READINGER. We are not.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Well, then, if you are not assuming the responsibility for it, why are we not permitted to have our share in the responsibility?

Mr. READINGER. You are permitted to, you can vote against the motion, as I expect you will.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Has the gentleman any indication as to whether the Governor will sign the bill as amended by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. I have no information on that subject.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger desire to be recognized again?

Mr. READINGER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, will proceed.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, as I look around and see no statesman here, I suggest we vote on the question before the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

"Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or determination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

(d) The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to permit a resettlement based upon the allowance of any deduction on account of net operating losses sustained in other fiscal or calendar years that are not allowed as deductions under the definition of "Net Income" as contained in section two of this act

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subpect to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made where notice of the settlement has not reached or does not reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made the settlement shall nevertheless be valid and binding upon the taxpayer

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the previsions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other petinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force [only] for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five one thousand

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader for just a minute, please?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if I am correct that this is the bill generally known as the Corporate Net Income Tax bill?

Mr. READINGER. That is correct.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, whether or not this bill does not provide for accelerating the receipts from corporate net income taxes by six months, or three months, or whatever it is? Will the gentleman inform me?

Mr. READINGER. It does accelerate the additional one per cent. It raises the rate from five per cent, which has already been accelerated to six per cent and accelerates the additional one per cent.

Mr. AUKER. That is all I want to know.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

and inserting in lieu the following: "take effect immediately."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have no wish to hold up the proceedings of the House, but I do not find the copy of this Senate bill on my desk. However, if the gentleman from Berks—

The SPEAKER. It is a House bill.

Mr. AUKER. I still do not find it. It has been passed by the Senate, hasn't it? Aren't we—

The SPEAKER. It should be in the House file on the Member's desk, House Bill 1591, Printer's No. 1445. Will some Member who has the bill give the gentleman from Blair a copy?

Mr. AUKER. It might save time Mr. Speaker, if the Majority Floor Leader, or somebody, can tell me what the bill provides without my looking through it.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Blair desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. AUKER. That will be all right, just so somebody can tell me. I think it is the corporate stock tax, that is what I want to know.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, the Majority Leader, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I might say I would rather apologize to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, but I just have not had a chance to look at all these bills this afternoon. It has been a pretty busy afternoon.

I should like to ask the gentleman if this is the tax bill known as the corporation stock tax bill?

Mr. READINGER. I am sorry, I did not hear the gentleman's question.

Mr. AUKER. I should like to ask the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker, if this bill is known as the corporate stock tax bill?

Mr. READINGER. The capital stock tax bill.

Mr. AUKER. The capital stock tax bill?

Mr. READINGER. Yes, it is.

Mr. AUKER. Is the rate increased?

Mr. READINGER. No, the rate is not increased. The normal time of payment is advanced for the payment of the capital stock tax.

Mr. AUKER. In other words, this is another acceleration tax bill, is that correct?

Mr. READINGER. Yes. This one is estimated to yield about $52 million for the balance of the biennium by virtue of moving up the payments, part of which would fall in the next biennium.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say a word. I again say to the membership of this House as I said in the 1953 session, that this kind of financing is definitely deficit financing. We are not solving anything by passing this kind of bill. I do not approve of it as a principle of financing. As I said before, it is not sound financing, it is not sound business. We are just putting ourselves in the hole for the next biennium.

Therefore, that is my reason for voting against it. I think it is very poor legislation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty God, Everlasting Father, again we come into Thy presence and we pray that Thy Spirit will help us to realize in this great game of life that if we expect to receive, we also have to give, and that we may think with the poet when he said:

"How many pleasant dreams we spin of fortunes when our ship comes in, Forgetting meanwhile all about the fact we never sent one out."

Guide us in our Session today that we may do Thy will. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. FLEMING and Mr. MULLIN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO DEVELOP AND ASSEMBLE CURRENT AND COMPREHENSIVE DATA RELATING TO THE IMPACT AND INCIDENCE OF ALL STATE AND LOCAL TAXES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Messrs. MAHANY and DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, March 6, 1956.

Whereas, It is frequently represented that Pennsylvania state and local taxes combined impose different burdens upon different types of business activity and different forms of business organization and place Pennsylvania at a relative disadvantage as compared to other states in encouraging business activity; and

Whereas, It is frequently alleged that the burden of state and local taxes in Pennsylvania is distributed inequitably among individuals in different economic circumstances and falls unequally upon similarly circumstanced individuals; and

Whereas, Data currently available are inadequate to permit realistic and conclusive evaluation of these contentions; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to develop and assemble current and comprehensive data relating to the impact and incidence of all State and local taxes in Pennsylvania and such data on tax systems in other States as will facilitate valid comparisons with Pennsylvania, and report its findings to the General Assembly.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, by the action of the Chair and the Senate, it appears that the Report of the Committee of Conference, appointed on House Bill No. 2009, has been adopted. Presumably, the bill will be sent to the Governor for his signature.

Mr. President, I think today is Tuesday, March 6th. I think it should be known in the history of Pennsylvania that this is "Charlie Smith Day." I hope that the Lord spares me the intellect, the stamina and the brains with which I was born to take to the rostrum of every hamlet in this State and let the people know what Charlie Smith, in his arrogance, has done to the mental institutions, the institutions for retarded children, the universities and the public health of this State. I, for one, tonight am more than ever proud to be a Democrat. If I were from the other side of the aisle, I would be very unproud to be a Republican and have to support a ticket with Charles Smith as a candidate on it. It was only through the valiant efforts, in my opinion, of several Members on this side that one more thing was not taken out of this bill and I will mention it by name and that is fuel oil. This man, ladies and gentlemen, has been afflicted, like many men who have been afflicted in these United States of ours, by the bug, when they want to run for another public office. I have seen great men and great political leaders go down the political—if you may call it—drain by just the same actions that this man has taken in the last forty-eight hours in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania.

If I have any effect on the Governor of this State, I am going to ask him, if he deems it right, to sign this bill into law. Every lawyer in this Senate has read this report. At least, I think if they have not, they should be severely criticized for voting on this bill, as they did just probably three minutes ago. They tried to improvise in this bill, at a late hour, the Ohio State stamp tax plan. However, fortunately or unfortunately, I do not know who did it, a number of those sections have been left out. This bill, as it has been passed now, in my opinion—and I am not a lawyer—is unworkable. I have read the bill and I have read it from the definition, the preamble, the title and clear down to where it says that, it will go back to two per cent at the beginning of the next biennium.

I have a little boy, Skipper Barr, who had his fourth birthday in January. If my little boy, Skipper, goes down and buys a toy in Whelan's Drug Store down here, he will have to file a tax return. How he is going to do it and who is going to hold him legally responsible for not doing it, I do not know. That is not covered in this bill.

Mr. President, to deviate for a moment, I am not at all critical of the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle who served in trying to write this bill and who served on the Conference Committee. I am not critical of others who helped on the original writing of House Bill No. 2009 which came over to the Senate. While I am talking, I want to mention Senator Mahany, Senator Taylor, Senator Diehm and Senator Kessler. I have had my personal differences many times with these gentlemen, but I am not at all holding them responsible for the bill we had to pass in this Senate tonight. In the last ten days, these gentlemen have worked morning, noon and night in trying to present to the Governor of this State an equitable tax program that would balance the budget of this State. In their opinion, it was equitable; in my opinion, it was not.

Somehow or another, these various lobbyists, from where and how they came I do not know, got their fingers in the cracker barrel and now the welfare program, in my opinion, has gone down the drain. The program for the retarded children has gone down the drain; the things which are needed in the Department of Health have gone down the drain; and the universities which we so proudly beat our breasts about in this State and the money that they need has gone down the drain. If I can, I will refer to probably just two, namely, Temple University, which is not in the part of the State in which I live. It is able to pay its professors only half of what most of the universities of this State pay. How is Temple going to be able to obtain the proper men to build men such as Doctor Salk, and so forth, who have been found in our various institutions, without the proper money to get the proper help in their universities? Gentlemen, it cannot be done and, to me, this thing tonight is not as much a political thing as it is a personal thing. I think the thing that reaches all of our souls, to me, is the travesty of it. Charlie Smith, personally, is a nice fellow. We are personal friends. If he thinks this is the way to conduct his campaign, I just want to say, "Charlie, you better make amends. Charlie, you had better find some bill, some tax bill, and present it with your name on it to make up for what you have taken away concerning the various things about which I spoke tonight."

Mr. President, I personally feel very, very sorry for the man who sits in the front office in this State Capitol tonight. If I were to advise him as to whether to sign this bill before midnight or after midnight, either thing I would do I think would be a thing which would always bother my conscience. The newspapers have printed what was contained in House Bill No. 2009 and they printed today—where they got their information, I do not know—what was originally, as I understand it, to be in the Conference Committee Report. Therefore, I do think that the public does know what items are to be taxed. On the final pages, however, it says that this bill shall go into operation or be effective the day after the Governor signs it. If I were the Governor, that would be a very disturbing feature to me tonight; whether to sign the bill before midnight or after midnight. As you probably know, each day that we dilly and dally—Charlie Smith has already cost the State three quarters of a million dollars for his campaign. I hope he thinks it is getting him votes; I do not. However, it says that the provisions of this act shall be effective the day after the Governor signs it into law.

Mr. President, I would like someone on the other side to offer to be interrogated. I want to ask someone on the other side whether, if they were the Governor, they would sign the bill before midnight or after midnight.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Mahany, I know that this is rather an extraneous thing and I presume that my question is going to result in a speech instead of an answer. However, I cannot quite blame you if you give me a speech instead of an answer.

Let us, just for a moment, close our eyes and put you over in the Governor's chair in the other wing of the building. If this monstrosity were presented to you and the effective date would be the day after signature, would you sign it before midnight or would you sign it after midnight and let the people have twenty-four hours to know what Charlie Smith did to them?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is rather difficult for me to close my eyes and put myself over in that ornate office. Certainly, Governor Leader campaigned long that he was qualified to sit over there and do all the things that, under the Constitution, he is responsible to do. Now, for me to tell him what to do, I presume he might not just like it too well. He is getting a little higher salary that I am. However, Senator Barr, if you were to ask my advice, if I were over in the Governor's chair and needed the money as badly as he says he does and as badly as you say he does, I could hardly wait for you to get over there with the bill in order to sign my name to this very fine piece of legislation.

Mr. BARR. Thank you very much.

Mr. President, I have the bill here and Article I is called, "Short Title and Definitions." I have read this bill from the first word to the last and I also have read the Conference Committee Report not only once, but I think I have probably read certain sections a half a dozen times.

Mr. President, I wonder if anyone in this Senate can give me the definition of a "secretary," which word is used in many sections. There is no definition in Article I, which is called "Short Title and Definitions," of a secretary although the word "secretary" is referred to in many, many parts of the bill. There is no definition of what a return is. The only presumption I can operate under tonight is that the men on the other side of this Senate are not responsible. I know they are men of good will and I have no malice, as they all probably know, toward any of them, but I do have a very bitter feeling toward the Minority Leader in the House for what he has perpetrated on the people of Pennsylvania. Thank God that a few stood up and did not let fuel oil be removed from the tax.

Mr. President, I just bought a house here and I finally got the mortgage yesterday, all signed, sealed and delivered. I paid a real estate transfer tax and so forth to the State, and I was happly to do it. I have fuel oil in the house and I will be happy to pay the tax.

There were some who said that if you are going to tax fuel you ought to tax coal, and they were very learned gentlemen. One of the first bills we passed this year, which I think was sponsored by Senator Taylor and Senator Wagner and signed into law by the Governor, was an appropriation for $8,500,000 to take the water out of the hard coal formations in order to put hard coal in a comparable position with other types of fuel which are being used in the Eastern States of the United States, and I thought that was a good bill.

Now, Mr. President, I understand that Charlie Smith and his boys said that if we were going to tax fuel, we will have to tax coal and they are some of the ones who voted for that $8,500,000 appropriation for hard coal. That just shows you the systematic brain that some of them have over in the House of Representatives.

As I said a few moments earlier, and I do not mean to be vindictive, my being hurt personally by what they did is of no consequence but it is of great consequence to the people. I hope that the Governor will sign this bill into law. I hope that with the mature brains we have in this Senate, on both sides, that we will do the things in the next week or so to remove the things in this bill that are just nonsensical.

Mr. President, I hate to say it, but the way I read the bill, without corrective amendments being placed in a new bill, this is just a lovely piece of paper. In my opinion, I think if you get from either side any able lawyer, he will read this bill and tell you that there is not one way for anyone to send the money into the Department of Revenue nor for the money to be put into the General Fund of this Commonwealth.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Barr has seen fit to temper the wind just a little bit to the shorn lamb over here by giving us some compliments and I appreciate those compliments, Senator, and I also want to compliment you at this time because I think you made a very fine talk and one, for a change, which was Senator Barr's type of talk and not one of those that you read and which is not down your alley. It is the kind of talk which, for once, I can understand. You did not have those big two dollar words in your speech.

Mr. President, I want to point out to Senator Barr, first, that I believe this bill is workable in regard to the type of accounting and audit system that we are going to start with.

Where we ran into trouble with this bill, Mr. President, was in connection with the stamp plan feature of it. The stamp plan feature of the bill does not start until July 1st of this year. There are some inconsistencies relative to the procedure of collection of the tax under this stamp plan, and I am going to be at least the second to admit that there are some bugs in that particular part of the act which, after the Governor signs it, will have to be corrected by subsequent legislation.

Mr. President, yesterday, Senator Dent told me that he had—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman said in his speech there, and I think it is rather important, that the stamp plan feature of the bill does not begin until July 1st. Will he show me or read to me where it is stated that the stamp plan is to become effective July 1st?

Mr. MAHANY. It is in here somewhere. It is supposed to be July 1st.

Mr. BARR. I am reading at the top of page 40.

Mr. MAHANY. "The provisions of this act shall take effect"—

Mr. BARR. That is Section 604. I am not trying to interrupt your thought.

Mr. MAHANY. Well, I am glad you did, Senator, and I will be happy to give you the information. I notice on page 40 that the "Effective Date" says:

"The provisions of this act shall take effect the day following final enactment but the provisions of Article iv shall not be operative until July 1, 1956"

If you will turn to Article IV, you will find that this is the article which provides for the stamp plan. Does that answer your question?

Mr. BARR. Yes, but I will answer you after you are finished, because I do not want to spoil your trend of thought.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we were discussing this stamp plan yesterday. I believe that Senator Dent said he had about seventeen different changes to correct some technical defects in the bill. I told him that after the bill has been signed by the Governor, we could put in an amendment to take care of these defects.

For instance, under the strict wording of this bill, it does not exempt newspaper machinery; the printing presses and those things. It just exempts the tangible personal property and tangible personal property, as defined in this act, is the categorical items which are referred to as taxable items. Inasmuch as a newspaper press would not be under that definition of tangible personal property, strictly speaking, the press would then be taxable. It is not our intention to tax printing presses or machinery of bakeries, meat markets and that sort of thing. For that reason, we expect to put in an amendment to this bill, if the Governor signs it, which will correct these things.

When we talked to Deputy Attorney General Adams relative to this, we asked him whether there was any fatal defect in the bill, other than the stamp plan portion, which would prevent us from adopting this report and I believe he said there was not and we could go ahead and adopt it, and the main portion of the tax bill would be effective one day after the Governor's signature.

Mr. President, I appreciate Senator Barr naming this particular day as "Charlie Smith Day." At least, I presume Senator Duff will be pleased to see that Senator Barr has seen fit to take off his guns from Duff. Although Senator Duff does not need any defense from me, at least for one day we have "Charlie Smith Day" instead of some other kind of a day. I just wonder how Senator Barr can put this whole responsibility for eliminating certain items from the bill, as we passed it, onto Charlie Smith.

I received my Titusville Herald this morning, which was published yesterday, and I want to call Senator Dent's attention to the fact that it is the Herald and not the Bugle, although he says, "What good is a herald without a bugle?" I want to read the first headline in this paper which states: "Both Sides See House Passage of Sales Tax." The next headline in large print is: "Readinger Aims at Elimination of Levy on Electric and Gas Bills."

Mr. President, Mr. Readinger, of course, the gentleman referred to, is the Democratic Leader of the House of Representatives.

When this bill passed the Senate, Mr. President, we had in it electric, gas, telephone, telegraph and fuel oil. We thought we needed those particular items in our setup for needed revenue. Although only four Democrats voted for that at that time, we passed the bill with those utilities in it. It then went over to the House and the first fellow I noticed in the public print who was against the taxing of these utilities was Mr. Readinger. He had the idea that if we eliminated these utilities, we could do so and put the tax on clothing.

Certainly, Mr. President, if the Democrats want to take that position and get back of the Majority Leader's statement in the House, that they would prefer to take these utilities out of the bill and put the tax on clothing, that is up to them. I certainly am not going to be a party to placing a tax on the poor working man's shoes, the clothes for his children, his working clothes and all the other items which go to make up a great part of the working man's budget. I thought back to the time when Senator Dent had all those shoe boxes out here last July, when we were discussing the classified income tax, and he so impressed me that we should not put a tax on working man's shoes and kiddies shoes that I never forgot it.

I want to tell Senator Dent that that lecture which he gave us, using the shoe boxes, did not fall on deaf ears and I still remember it to this day. Therefore, Mr. President, rather than put a tax on clothing and shoes, we decided we would prefer to put it on utilities. So, the blast was made by Mr. Readinger that he wanted these utilities out of the bill and I think that was the thing which gave rise to certain Members of the House, both Demosratic and Republican, to take out these utilities from the tax bill.

Mr. President, I do want to say that it was just not the efforts of certain Democrats which kept fuel oil in the bill. Both sides, I think, decided that fuel oil should be in and that these other items should be in. We decided that perhaps inasmuch as electric, telephone and telegraph paid a gross receipts' tax and the customers were indirectly taxed on these items, we should eliminate those and we did go along, therefore, with part of Mr. Readinger's suggestion that we eliminate the electric light bills.

I was glad to hear Senator Barr say that he is happy, as a resident over there in Senator Wade's county of Cumberland, to pay the sales tax on his fuel oil. We are happy to know, also, that he is admitting that people, not only he, but people generally over the State, will be happy to pay not only a sales tax on fuel oil but a sales tax on all commodities which are taxed under this bill. It just proves our contention that people over the State will be very happy to pay the tax, Senator.

Mr. President, I also will be happy to put those three pennies which Senator McGinnis sent to me, as a contribution from Senator Barr, on the first dollar of tax that I pay.

I cannot go into detail about all of the things which Senator Barr brought up. I can see that he intended to make a political speech. I am going to let Mr. Smith make his own political speech, in rebuttal to Senator Barr, as I think he has plenty of ammunition.

I want to say to Senator Barr that we, on this side, are happy that we are Republicans. We stood up here to a man and delivered twenty-six votes for a bill to give the Governor some money. Perhaps you would have liked to give him $20,000,000 more, but the other day you did not vote to give any part of it to the Governor. We stood up here and we voted to give the Governor around $320,000,000. If Governor Leader will examine Governor Fine's budget which, when he was running for Governor, he stated was a way too high, he will find that this is just about $320,000,000 more than Governor Fine asked for. If Governor Leader had been satisfied with just the taxes we had passed up to the passage of this tax bill, they would have covered all the money which Governor Fine asked for in his budget.

Mr. President, I suppose we will hear a lot of political speeches from now on in connection with his, but I want the Senator to know that we are happy and proud on this side to know that we Republicans stood up and voted for a tax which we felt was needed by the people and needed by the State of Pennsylvania. We feel we will go a long way, Senator, to do all of the things which you suggested in your talk. We expect to get back of the college program. We are going to give more for colleges than they have ever received before. We are also going to give more for hospitals than they ever received befor. We feel just as proud tonight as we can be for having had a part in raising this money for these various institutions and causes. We are sorry that you did not see fit to go along with us and vote for any part of it.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, my question of personal privilege is based upon a television show that was put on tonight. A young man, who is a Member of the House, decided to start the campaign for the election of the year of 1956 by basing his hope for the success of the Republican Party on the fault or lack of fault, blame or the lack of blame, upon a political party for the situation we find ourselves in and for the delay that has cost approximately $2,000,000 since the sales tax was first agreed upon in this Senate Body. That man is a young hopeful who prays that "Fuel Oil Charlie" will be elected to the Auditor General's Office so that he can be the Republican Leader. In his remarks, he said that the Minority Leader in the Senate had kicked up a fuss about the section of the act which deals with utility taxation.

Mr. President, if I remember right, and I think my memory has served me over a great many years and it certainly should serve me back to Friday of last week, I believe the records of the Senate will show that I voted for the tax bill. My reasons are contained in the records of the Senate.

There may be men here who are more entitled to the floor than I, but at the moment I think the President recognized me.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman cease for just a moment? Will somebody up in the balcony please tell whoever is talking out in the corridor that they must either cease the talking or leave the balcony over in that end? Will some Sergeant-at-Arms please take care of that?

The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, you know I have been heckled in many places, but never did I think it would happen in the Senate. It is not popular, you know, to fight the cause of the people and ofttimes when you do, you find yourself the brunt of a great many misunderstandings, brickbats and criticisms. However, those through the years have persevered in fighting for the people have probably created the kind of life that we enjoy. The hecklers and those who dispose of their time in destroying those who would fight for the people usually end up in an unmarked grave.

I started to say that I was a little disturbed when I heard this statement by the young man from the House tonight. I voted for the bill and went home, secure in my belief that when twenty-six Republican Senators had voted for this legislation, there would be no difficulty in obtaining Republican support in the House for bill sponsored in its passage and through its passage by the Republican Majority in the Senate. However, lo and behold, over the week end, their developed opposition.

My good colleague on the other side said that this opposition developed because our Floor Leader on the other side, under the usual prodding by a newspaperman, made a remark which was interpreted to mean that he was opposed to the legislation which had been passed by the Senate because it contained taxes on utility consumers. From that day until yesterday, Republicans found great refuge in the statement made by our Democratic leader. However, they only read the statement halfway. They say, "We are going to take utilities out of this bill because Mr. Readinger wants them out." I said to them, "Well now, if you take everything that Readinger says, we will go along." Readinger said that we could take utilities out and put taxes on certain types of clothing. The same Charlie Smith said, in his speeches on the floor, that under no condition can any sales tax pass this House if clothing is taxed. Then we find the same Charlie Smith saying, "Not one Republican vote will go along with the bill passed by the Senate if utilities are included."

Mr. President, consistency is the hobgoblin of small minds and for fear of being accused as one of those who has a small mind, I am going to be inconsistent. If you will look at the Conference Report, you will find that it was signed by my two colleagues in the Senate, the Honorable Edward Kessler and the Honorable Rowland Mahany. It was not signed by Senator Dent. However, I do have a copy signed by Senator Dent. I have a Conference Committee Report that was signed by Senator Dent and by Senator Kessler and by Senator Mahany, and by Mr. Readinger and Mr. Dean Polen and Mr. Gibson, on the part of the House. For the first time in twenty-two years of experience on this Hill, I have seen a Conference Report agreed to, signed and printed and discarded before it could reach the floor and another one take its place.

I am not being inconsistent with my conscience and that, to me, is more important than any other item at issue in this or any other Legislature. I stood on this floor and defied and probably should have been condemned by the Democratic Party of Pennsylvania for voting for a sales tax last week, after fighting for twenty-one years against sales taxes. However, when I voted, I said to this Senate that I realized that we had reached the stage where Republican obstinancy had pointed itself in one direction, where it said that there can be no tax pass this Senate unless it is a sales tax. Being a realist, I realized that that would be the kind of a tax which would pass in this Session. I realized it last year in February and on through the summer, the fall, the winter and again this spring. I said that I am not so concerned anymore about how; I am concerned about how much. At that time, I paid compliment to my colleagues who had worked with me, from the other side of the aisle, in the conferences to determine the amount of appropriations that we would allow, or that they would allow, which would, at least, give the Governor some finances and revenue to carry on the unusual expenses of government, plus some additions that all of us recognize are needed in the field of mental health, in the field of public health, in the field of industrial redevelopment, in the field of anthracite coal—aid to that stricken area, and the carrying out of the promises made over the years not by the Democrats or the Republicans but by both political parties. So, I felt that inasmuch as we had in this bill the ingredients of how much, in my conscience I had a right to vote for the legislation. However, when they started to hack away at how much, they threw me right back on the rocks and shoals of how. Having been buffeted around in the seas of indecision for fourteen months, I could not stand the whip tide of indecision and false promise. When I signed that Committee Report last night, it had been cut, yes. We had acceded to the dictatorial demands of a minority in the House; we had agreed to the infamous, ridiculous Ohio stamp tax plan in the hope of reaching a Conference Committee Report that could be accepted by all. We had acceded to the demand and the request of the Telephone Company—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would the Senator yield, please? The all important moment has arrived. Senator Dent, the bill has been signed by the Speaker of the House and I wonder if you would yield for a moment while the President pro tempore signs the Conference Report. Would you be willing to do that, sir?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not particularly interested in whether he signs it or not, if you do not mind.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would you yield for just a moment, until we get the communication from the House?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not mind yielding if you think it is proper, but this is the first time in the history of this Senate that a man has been interrupted on a question of personal privilege.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Dent thinks his speech right now is worth $1,000,000 and, because of it, this bill will not be signed until after 12:00 o'clock, that is all right with us. I have often wondered what value Senator Dent placed on his speeches. If it is a $1,000,000 speech, we will be happy to listen to him. Go ahead and give it.

Mr. DENT. That is a rather funny statement and I should have laughed at you. However, my speech is worth $1,000,000 if Mr. Charlie Smith's obstinancy is worth $2,000,000. It cost us $2,000,000 to accede to the House demands. If you want the people of Pennsylvania to have the bill before midnight so that it goes into effect at 12:1 o'clock, and so that the pampered press of this State can condemn the Governor of Pennsylvania for putting a bill into effect within two minutes, that is perfectly all right with me. You waited fourteen months to pass this legislation and all of a sudden, for three more minutes of my speaking, I am to be blamed, like your Assistant Floor Leader in the House blamed me, for stopping the wheels of progress for two days.

You know, your peculiar philosophy on the Republican side is that it does not matter whether you have sense to what you say; just so it is printed.

I yield, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair thanks the gentleman for yielding.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Mr. President, I will permit myself to be interrogated. However, I do want to say first—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to interrogate the gentleman. I am not asking him for a speech.

Senator Mahany, do you have a copy of the Conference Report?

Mr. MAHANY. I do.

Mr. BARR. Would you turn to page 18?

Mr. MAHANY. I have it, Senator Barr.

Mr. BARR. After the Conference Committee, of which you were a member, met last evening, I was told, in confidence and I kept the confidence, what was in the report. I mentioned nothing to the press about what was in the report. It was told to the conferees that part of the money which was taken out of the bill by exempting these utilities would be made up by the fact that we would be able to get the May collections for the 1955-1957 biennium. May I, Senator Mahany, call your attention to Section 531, on page 18, which says:

"Time of Payment (a) Monthly Payments The tax imposed by this act and collected by a licensee shall be due and payable in monthly installments on or before the last day of the month succeeding the month during which the purchases subject to the tax were made and shall accompany the return for such preceding month."

Senator Mahany, can you tell me under the wording—and it is very clear to me—whether the sales tax collected under this bill in May of 1957 will go into the General Fund of this biennium?

Mr. MAHANY. From the wording of this particular section, it would not if we did not have the stamp plan in effect. However, on July 1st of this year, the stamp plan will go into effect. It is then certainly our intention to have the bank charge the merchant who comes to get stamps from the bank, or whoever the issuing agent is, for those stamps and then remit, before the final day of the month, to the State for the stamps sold. If this act does not do that, then, as I have said before, we will be happy to put in amendments which will carry out that provision.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to ask the gentleman another question. Have you read the section, Senator Mahany, which defines the distributor as a bank or trust company and which says that they shall only report every six months to the Department of Revenue?

Mr. MAHANY. Again, Mr. President, I would call the Senator's attention to the conversation which we had this afternoon with Mr. Adams and Mr. Dent, wherein we plan to correct the language of this act relative to the stamp plan part of it. We expect to introduce amendments to this act so that it will take care of these objections which you have. If you would cooperate with us in helping us draw a bill, instead of criticizing the bill after we have it, I believe we would have a much better piece of legislation. I know that you did help us for a little while. I gave Senator Dent credit the other day for being the father of the child and I will be glad to count you in on it, too, if you will just cooperate with us. We will be able to perfect the bill and correct all of the objections which you have, if you will help us.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I remember last Friday when this legislation was being passed that my colleague, Senator Lane, from Washington, asked the Majority Floor Leader in the Senate if he had talked to candidate Smith—he referred to him as the Minority Leader—concerning whether or not they were going to be a part and party to House Bill No. 2009. I cannot stand here and criticize because I cannot give his answer verbatim, but he told Mr. Lane that he had talked to Charles Smith and foresaw no difficulty. Now Senator Mahany is telling me that they are legislating by conversation. He conversed with Harrington Adams, and Adams conversed with Dent and Dent conversed with Mahany and he conversed with Kessler and they conversed with Gibson. How do I know, and how do you know, that an act such as this will be amended when even the President pro tempore, the leader in Dauphin County, cannot control his own delegation? Yesterday he asked them to vote and only two of them voted for the bill.

Senator Mahany, I want to ask you how you, as the little man from Titusville, are going to control Dauphin County, Chester County, Lacakawanna County and Delaware County? Answer that one if you can.

Mr. MAHANY. First, I want to clear up your report of the interrogatoin on the floor between Senator Lane and I the other day. I said that I had talked with Mr. Smith and, as I remember, he did not commit himself one way or another on it. He said he wanted to see the bill. I did say that if I were a betting man, I would bet they would go along and vote for the bill. All that proves is that it is a good thing I am not a betting man. It is just one of those bets which I would lose and I would have lost this one.

I feel assured that if our Governor signs this legislation and Senator Barr finds something wrong with it, he will aid me in trying to line up votes to pass an amendment which will correct the legislation so that it will be workable. The only reason we are doing this now is so the Democrats and the people of Pennsylvania will have some revenue to do the things which Senator Barr said they would like to do. We also would like to see the school districts paid. We also would like to see some appropriation bills start flowing through here so we can take care of the colleges, hospitals and all these other things.

Mr. President, if Senator Barr would prefer not to have our President pro tempore of the Senate sign this bill and let it go two or three days more, it is all right with me. We can start another bill through and maybe we can do all these things. However, each day we delay will cost us $1,000,000. I am not insisting that Governor Leader sign this bill two minutes before twelve o'clock. He can wait until tomorrow, he can wait until tht next day, he can wait ten days and have it become law without his signature or he can veto it. I am not in the Governor's chair and I am not going to tell him what to do. He can sign it any day he wishes to do so or he does not have to sign it at all. That is entirely up to him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, it is unfortunate that the gentleman on the other side are having to bear the brunt of this thing because the blame for the situation we are in tonight has not been effected by the Republican side of the Pennsylvania State Senate.

I can remember that many times when we had the classified income tax before us, Senator Mahany stood up to such an extent that we used to call him Justice Mahany. I would like to ask him if he can give me or show me where the definition of "vendor," "secretary" or "returns" is contained in the bill. If he can find that in the bill, I will run over with it to the Governor and ask him to sign it immediately. Can you find that, Senator Mahany?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we have adopted the bill now in the Senate and the House has adopted it and it is up to the Governor to sign it or veto it. It is silly for us to keep arguing about what is in the bill since we have adopted it. If there were any defects in this bill, certainly Senator Barr should have called them to our attention before we adopted the Conference Committee Report. I noticed that he waited very silently over there until after we had adopted it, and then he jumped up out of his seat like Nashua getting out of the starting box.

I would say to Senator Barr that we have now adopted the bill and it is up to the Governor to decide what he wants to do with it. If there are some features in it which need correction, then I will do everything I can, Senator, to see that they are corrected.

As I said before, the reason for the haste on this was so the Commonwealth could start getting some money. I do not think there is anything in this bill which would prevent us from starting to collect the sales tax on the items listed one day after the Governor signs the bill.

Mr. BARR. I would like to further interrogate the gentleman, Mr. President.

Senator Mahany, do you not think that "Fuel Oil Smith" knew there was a certain haste also yesterday?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, Mr. President,—

Mr. BARR. That was probably an unfair question, Mr. President, and I will withdraw it because I do not think Senator Mahany should have to answer that. I want to ask one further question.

Mr. MAHANY. I will be happy to answer your question if you will let me have an apportunity, Senator.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman withdrew the first question and now he wishes to further interrogate you.

Mr. BARR. "Senator Rowland," have you read this bill from top to bottom? Have you read the title?

Mr. MAHANY. Oh, yes, I have read the title.

Mr. BARR. What is the last word in the title?

Mr. MAHANY. The last word in the title is "appropriation."

Mr. BARR. Where is the appropriation in the bill?

Mr. MAHANY. I understood, Mr. President, that we were appropriating $5,000,000. I would like to quote from:

"ARTICLE VI

"Miscellaneous Provisions

"Section 603 Appropriation So much of the proceeds of the tax imposed by this act as shall be necessary for the payment of refunds provided for hereunder is hereby appropriated for the payment of such refunds"

Well, that does not sound like it. It was our understanding that there would be an appropriation. I believe that this section is the appropriation which is referred to in the title. If the general appropriation act ever comes over from the House, we will probably have to add to the Department of Revenue needs, an amount which can be agreed upon for the amount of extra money necessary to collect this tax.

I understand our sights now are around a $6,000,000 appropriation. The appropriation referred to in the title, Senator, is probably the appropriation which is in the bill on page 39. That is the appropriation clause, even though I said it was not.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not blame the gentleman for trying to wiggle out of that one. He knows very well how you have to make an appropriation. We have to specify an amount of money. If our good friend, Senator Chapman, were here he would tell you or if his good man Friday—Mr. Stoner, were here on the sidelines he would tell you, as you know, Senator Mahany, that you must specify an appropriation.

Mr. President, I am not trying to filibuster until twelve o'clock, if that is what you think. I am just trying to show the fallacy of a supposedly responsible Party listening to the vindictiveness and the dictates of one man who was bitten by the bug to run for political office.

I want to tell you a story about an old friend of mine.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may I say the gentleman is beginning to talk more like Pennington now?

Mr. BARR. I was just going to tell him, Mr. President, about a famous National Chairman of the Democratic Party, who is still a personal friend of mine. I think this story should be told. I am referring to the Honorable James Farley who, in my opinion, started as a committeeman up on the banks of the northern Hudson River and became Boxing Commissioner, State Chairman and National Chairman of a great Party. Lo and behold, Mr. President, after eight years as National Chairman, the bug bit him and, politically, Jim has never been the same. He never could run for political office. I think the whole Republican Party has geen subjected tonight to the ill wishes of a man who has cost the universities, mental health, public health, welfare and schools a loss of appropriations.

Senator Mahany, I think you were sincere when you said that the money would be in the appropriations for the universities, etc., but the money is not in here. You probably will vote for those appropriations but, as you know, the Governor of this State cannot sign appropriation bills for more revenue than the Department of Revenue's budget comptroller has coming in. Therefore, you will have to cut them item by item, and I think it should be known.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 2009, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for Commonwealth purposes by imposing a tax on the purchase use storage or other consumption of certain tangible personal property and utility services herein defined as tangible personal property providing for licenses reports payment and collection of tax interest and penalties assessments collections liens reviews and appeals conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue public officers manufacturers wholesalers retailers corporations partnerships associations and individuals and making an appropriation.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair now recognizes Senator Dent, who had the floor and yielded for the purpose of receiving a message from the House.

The Chair would also like to apologize to Senator Dent for inadvertently breaking in on his very fine talk. It was done only because the Chair felt the occasion demanded it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am sure we all enjoyed the signing of that bill and it probably was more entertaining than the things I have to say, but the things I have to say have to be said for the record, just the same as the signing of this bill is a matter that has to be made a part of the record.

Mr. President, I was going to tell the Members of the Senate how much had been cut from the bill, using the figures that had been determined by the conferees to be as nearly accurate as we could determine them to be on the basis of past performances in tax legislation.

If this amendment which Senator Mahany is talking about passes both Houses and becomes law, this bill cuts $19,000,000 from the bill which was passed last Friday. If the Legislature does not pass the necessary remedial legislation required by this act and admitted to my Senator Mahany, himself, and others, there will be a shortage of $40,000,000.

Mr. President, when you realize that the budget of $364,500,000 was already cut $58,000,000, reducing all of the appropriations for the services to be rendered by the departments in the State government by $58,000,000 from the Governor's request, and then you add to that $31,000,000 passed by this Legislature for schoolteachers added increments; $900,000 passed by this Legislature in non-budgeted items; $8,000,000 passed by this Legislature as a non-budgeted item for school building subsidies; $4,000,000 required for the operation of White Haven Institution, which was just turned over to the State last Wednesday; the judges pensions and salaries amounting to somewhere near $1,700,000; $2,000,000 for local airport construction to meet matching funds of the Federal Government; $700,000 non-budgeted for Mercy-Douglass Hospital; many other legislative acts, both in the hopper and through one or the other of the Houses, which will amount to at least $11,000,000; and if we just take the specifics, those which have already been passed and signed by the Governor, we find ourselves in a position of being $115,200,000 short in the budget requested by the Governor.

In this budget requested by the Governor, we find that the only additions he made were the additions to the hospitals of $7,200,000, the additions to the universities of $14,200,000, the additions to the Department of Welfare of $43,800,000 the additions to the Department of Health of $9,600,000 and the additions to the Department of Commerce of $35,500,000. Taking into consideration that these appropriation requests had been cut, in the original $58,000,000, by $11,000,000 in the Department of Welfare, by $15,000,000 in the Department of Commerce and by $6,200,000 in the Department of Health, we find ourselves in a position of now adding to that immense shortage of funds to perform the duties of this Commonwealth and the services required and demanded by the people, $19,000,000 cut through the willy-nilly stubbornness and conceit of one man. We find ourselves in a position, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, of giving to the schoolteachers an empty promise, of paying lip service to the needed additions to our mental health program and of talking public service in the platforms and on the huskings in the campaign and denying the revenue to perform the services.

Mr. President, I went along last week because I felt that this Governor would judiciously spend the money which was given to him. Every man in that conference knew, and I know, that perhaps intellectually we were a little dishonest in that we had overestimated the sum of approximately $22,000,000, in the hope that the grand prosperity which has been promised and is with us would build up sufficient in the old revenues to meet the shortage that we had put into the budget. I cannot, in good conscience, stand here tonight and allow myself to vote, and that is why I voted "no" and that is why I would not sign the conference report. I would not, in good conscience, stand here and according to that which was before us at that time, without any promises of future action, allow approximately $40,000,000 to be taken from that budget. I do not believe it is fair for the Legislature to say to the schoolteachers of this State, "We have passed for you a $31,000,000 increase in your salaries and wages," and then so deliberately disallow the money and the revenue so that the Governor who was innocent of the promise made by the Legislature, would find himself in a position of using the only power he has, the power of the Governor to veto appropriations beyond the amount of revenue allowed him.

You cannot say to the hospitals that we are going to give you the greatest increase you have ever had, and that is what Senator Mahany said. Yet, he knows that if the Governor takes any estimates—and he must take the estimates of the Revenue Department of this Commonwealth under the Constitution—he will have before him at least $40,000,000 more than the $58,000,000 already cut from the budget, or $98,000,000 of regular budgetary requests by the Governor, plus the additions added by this Legislature.

Mr. President, I am hopeful that the Legislature will correct some of the faults in the bill. I am wondering whether the Governor of this Commonwealth will do an unprecedented thing. I am wondering that if at twenty minutes of twelve tonight he will accept such a far-reaching and important piece of legislation without calling upon his Attorney General to review it. Even the most unimportant piece of legislation, in all the years I have been here, has been reviewed by the Attorney General. I defy any man who is a Member of this Senate to read this bill and in twenty minutes, or twenty hours or twenty weeks tell me that on the face of the bill—and that is all he has to work with—he would advise the Governor of this State to sign it.

I know that the Governor is not only swallowing, and that, of course, is the intent and purpose of the whole act, a pledge to the people of this State that he would not sign a sales tax but in my conversation with the Governor, I am sure that he is going to put his personal feelings in the matter beneath the needs of this Commonwealth. Although those who rave and rant about the Governor's breaking of a promise have deliberately, and without any rhyme or reason, cut $19,00,000 from this budget to please a few, they have forced him in fifteen to twenty minutes to accept an admittedly faulty piece of legislation only in the hope of reaching that platform soon in the huskings of this State and saying, and I can just picture Big Red from Washington trotting up to Pennsylvania, wobbling in among the bullrushes and breaking all the China in the shop, forgetting his own inabilities as Governor and his own weaknesses and saying, "There is the man who broke his promise." My answer and the Governor's answer ought to be, "I can probably tonight sign this bill and break a promise under the force of a blackjack, but nothing on God's earth will allow me to accede to blackmail to break the State of Pennsylvania."

Mr. President, tonight in this young man's life he is making a decision and without any outside pressure. I am sure that as much as he hates to do it, both as a man, and, second, as a politician, he will accept this bill and he will sign it. For those who want to take pleasure and glory in forcing this young Governor of ours to his political knees by the force of a majority vote in the Senate, they can perhaps go to bed tonight and sleep easily upon their bed of political satisfaction but, deep down in, I believe their bellies will rumble inasmuch as they are forcing a young man to do that which is not only distasteful to him, but must have been distasteful to the majority of the people of this Commonwealth because on his promise to veto this legislation, they elected him Governor of Pennsylvania and the promise that he made, he would keep. The breaking of the promise is on the conscience of twenty-six Republican Senators, not upon Governor Leader. I am sure that the people of this State will understand, beyond our ability to understand, that what Governor Leader is doing tonight is for the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth. He is living up to a sworn duty to uphold not only the laws of the Constitution, but to promote the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I say to George Leader tonight, for all who can hear my voice, you are a bigger man by far to accept this than those who forced you to accept it. For fourteen months, Mr. President, he promoted legislation before us. On three separate occasions, he sent over to this Senate the kind of legislation that he would have signed and for which he would have accepted the responsibility, not that he liked it. There is no kind of a tax that you can pass that people will like. There is nothing we can do in this Senate that will make taxation palatable to the people. However, to find those few, selfish, strong persons, always needling, pushing and pulling for their own interest, in order that in the end what we tried to stop for fourteen months, the Governor, I am advised, has just signed.

He has, in my estimation, Mr. President and Members of this Senate, lived up to my expectations of him as a man. Remember, all of you, that although some of you have said that he has held it up for fourteen months, this is the first tax bill that has reached his desk. This is the first time that he ever had an opportunity to meet the needs of the Commonwealth. Can we say the same in the Senate? There have been three separate occasions when tax legislation has reached us but did we set aside our small, personal, political desires? We did not. We played our petty string way out to the end. The Governor tonight, at the first opportunity in fourteen months to show to the people of this great State the caliber of his forebears and the character of himself, has signed and voted for the first bill that reached him, although I am as sure as I stand here that it was personally obnoxious to him, that it offended every fiber of his body and every sensibility of his character, that it destroyed, perhaps, for this night his peace of mind and the quiet sleep that a man deserves. Can we say that we measured up in our moments to the same heights? Was there anything that was passed to us in the way of taxation that was more obnoxious than that which the Governor signed tonight? Was there anything that any of us could say we hated more or disliked more, or loved less? Yet, we in this Senate played our pretty cards one at a time, and we refused to take the legislation that the Governor would have been glad to sign. We set ourselves above the State of Pennsylvania. If, for fourteen months, we have labored here fruitlessly in this vineyard of demagoguery, it is because we did not have the personal courage and intestinal fortitude to deny those who whispered about us and to set aside our personal desires.

Mr. President, so far as I can see, the honorable people of this State and the great multitudes of citizens will recognize in this not a Republican victory, not a Democratic defeat, but they will recognize it for what it was; a campaign to elect in the years of 1956—Republican candidates, headed by a man who headed this State once before and who is probably more responsible for the crossroads we have reached than any other man in this Commonwealth. The whole fourteen months have been devoted to building that campaign and, if you please, in an effort to destroy in the minds of the people the strength, the character and the decency of the finest young man who has ever been Governor of this State, George Leader.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not intend to go over one by one the many points which Senator Dent has tried to make. The hour is growing late and I do not have time to do it. However, I want to point out to Senator Dent a couple of things. First, Mr. President, it is not up to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to dictate to us the legislation that we should lay on his desk. That is our job. We feel that we have laid on his desk the kind of tax legislation that is wanted by a majority of the people of the State of Pennsylvania. We felt that we turned down the type of legislation that he tried to force upon us and which was not wanted by the people of Pennsylvania.

As I said before, Mr. President, if you want to make some kind of a political football out of this, all that it is necessary to do is what you said before, and that is to make this the first plank of your platform to repeal this sales tax. It is now a permanent tax and not a temporary tax. However, this time when you go out among the huskings, as you have referred to it, to tell the people that you are going to repeal this sales tax, please tell them what kind of a tax you are going to put on instead of that "Malarkey" about how you are going to balance the budget by a lot of economies which you know you cannot make. This time, when you go out there, tell the people that you are going to take the sales tax off, but you are going to put an income tax on them, instead of the other stuff that you were giving us a year or so ago.

Secondly, Senator Dent, I want to tell you that you made a statement here a short time ago that Senator Kessler and I and others had signed a Conference Committee Report last night which was diflerent than this one. As I said before, I am not a betting man, but I want to say this to you, Senator Dent. If you can produce any Conference Committee Report which I signed last night or that Senator Kessler signed last night—you had all of the papers; I did not take any out of the room and neither did Senator Kessler—I will be glad to donate $100 to your favorite charity. In return, if you cannot produce that, you give $100 to my favorite charity.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I will be glad to give the gentleman a printed copy. There are six names printed on it. I am sorry if you did not sign it, but it was printed.

If you are interested in the charity that I am most interested in at the moment, you can make the check payable to the John H. Dent Campaign Fund.

If you want a copy, I will give it to you.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not want the printed copy. The printer can print my name on some kind of a bill that Senator Dent sends out there. However, I want to know where my signature appeared on any Committee Report.

Senator Dent knows full well that I, nor Senator Kessler nor anyone else who attended that Conference-Committee meeting last evening signed any Conference Report. I would like to see my signature on such a Conference Committee Report. I am not interested in the printed name; I want to see my signature. If we signed a Conference Committee Report, it must be in existence some place. I will be happy to contribute $100 to the John H. Dent Campaign Fund if he will show me my signature on any report which I signed last night.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to announce to the Senate that we seemingly are—and it is the Chair's fault—permitting great latitude in the debate or remarks that are going on. The bill has passed the Senate. It is now signed into law by the Governor of Pennsylvania, and I would submit to the Senate that the only thing before the Senate is the next order of business which, at this moment, would be Executive Nominations.

If some Senator does want to address the Senate, I would suggest that he ask for unanimous consent of the Senate.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE SECRETARY OF MINES TO INVESTIGATE THE CAUSE OF SUBSIDENCE IN AND AROUND THE CITY OF ARNOLD

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 6, 1956.

Whereas, there appears to be a very severe disturbance in and around the city of Arnold, Pennsylvania due to mine cave-ins, and

Whereas, this is the first major appearance of subsidence in this area which covers a vast acreage of now depleted coal mines, and

Whereas, this may be the beginning of a very serious and disastrous incident, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Secretary of Mines, immediately start an investigation to determine the source and causes for said subsidence, and be it further

Resolved, that the Secretary of Mines, the Honorable Joseph T. Kennedy, make a report to the General Assembly during this Session, if possible, for the purpose of enacting whatever legislation is required if such legislation be deemed necessary.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it would appear as though this is an emergency type of resolution and I will not object to its immediate consideration.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 7, 1956.

Mr. YOSHO. Just a minute; I have been standing up here. Can't you wait a minute?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman withdraw his adjournment motion if the Senator from Northampton has any remarks he wishes to make?

MOTION TO ADJOURN WITHDRAWN TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I withdraw, temporarily, my motion to adjourn.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the hour is late and I certainly had no intention of taking the floor this evening. However, since I heard Senator Mahany say that the people of Pennsylvania got the kind of a tax bill they wanted, I just had to arise and take exception to that statement, if he was referring to a sales tax.

I want to reiterate now what I said on Friday night, that the Republican Majority passed the sales tax at a previous Session and that the sales tax became an issue in the gubernatorial campaign. It became a part of both platforms. The people of Pennsylvania very decisively decided, by their vote, that they did not want a sales tax in this State. The Republicans had a 1,000,000 registered majority in Pennsylvania and still were defeated, as I said the other night, by 280,000 votes. If the people did want a sales tax, and I know they do not because I got enough sentiment over the week end, I am sure they did not want a sales tax, Mr. President, with the shipbuilders out and all the common people in, with the railroads exempted and all the common people in, with the soft drink people out and all the common people in, with machinery exempt while many, many other taxable items are included, which the rank and file of the people have to buy and pay a tax on. I do not believe they wanted a sales tax with the manufacturers out and I do not believe they wanted a sales tax with public utilities out. They did not want a sales tax with the franchise trucks out and they did not want a sales tax with automobiles, used as demonstrators, exempt. I am sure they did not want the newspapers left out, the newspapers which have been crying for a sales tax over the months. I do not believe the people wanted that type of a sales tax. I am sure they will show their resentment to it at the proper time. I am sure the voters of this State, the people of this State, do not want a sales tax with the Ohio tax plan which the facts prove costs at least seven per cent to collect, when every other State that has a sales tax collects its tax for, in some cases, less than one per cent and a maximum of two per cent.

I do not believe the people of this State want a sales tax that is going to give everybody and his brother a chance to dip into the fund and convert a part of the money that is paid by the taxpayers to the use of those who collect it. I do not believe the people want a sales tax that opens the door for fraud in many, many ways. I do not believe the people of this State want a sales tax which they will have to pay to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth, but that will never reach the State Treasury and will never be applied to the purposes for which the tax is paid.

Mr. President, the bill that was passed tonight, and which was sent to the Governor's desk, is just that kind of a bill that I described. It places the tax load on the common people, on those least able to pay and exempts the privileged, those who have the ability to pay. I do not believe the taxpayers of this State—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would say that the gentleman is entitled to be heard. There is too much conversation around the aisles. I could not hear him myself sitting here. They should at least grant the gentleman the courtesy of keeping still while he is speaking on the floor of this Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I agree with you, Senator Lane. Senator Yosko, because Senator Lane did not hear your speech, would you please repeat it for him or will you let him read it in the record tomorrow?

The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1311, entitled:

An Act providing a permanent allocation of a part of the fuels and liquid fuels tax proceeds to cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships for their road street and bridge purposes conferring powers and imposing duties on local officers and the Department of Highways and making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1848, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "The Vehicle Code," excluding the weight of safety devices in determining gross and axle weights.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1987, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 2, 1925 (P. L. 448) entitled "The Fish Law of 1925," authorizing in certain cases fishing in farm ponds without licenses and regulating the transportation of fish taken from such ponds during closed seasons.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his point of information.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I noticed that the Majority Leader has already moved that all bills reported from committees be read for the first time. What are we going to do about the Calendar today? We have not acted on it, have we?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Lane would like to stay with me, I will be happy to take up the Calendar. I thought maybe you were growing a little bit tired and would like to go down to the hotel and go to bed.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I feel it is appropriate, according to the order of business, that the Majority Leader should have made a motion to have all bills on the Calendar go over in order today and I thought that maybe he had erred.

Incidentally, Mr. President, I was not at all impressed with the remarks of the Chair when I stated that I did not have an opportunity to hear the subject matter in Senator Yosko's speech because of the fact that there were too many side bar conferences.

I think the Chair stated that the Senator could repeat his speech. I sort of think that was uncalled for, because all I wanted to do was to make sure that Senator Yosko, as a Member of this Senate, had the right to be heard. I feel that the remarks of the Chair were not exactly appropriate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair feels that the gentleman is right. The remarks of the Chair were not in order and they were facetious. The Chair meant them to be facetious and did not mean to be offensive. If I have offended either Senator Lane or Senator Yosko, I publicly apologize for so doing.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Lane, I would state that on a motion to adjourn at this time, the Calendar would be exactly the same as it is today, execpt that the bills which were reported from committee would appear upon the Second Reading Calendar. I do not believe it will be necessary to do anything with the Calendar if we now adjourn.

I do want to add, Mr. President, though, relative to Senator Yosko's speech, that I did hear most of it and that he did make a statement that some States which do not have the Ohio stamp plan have a minimum of one per cent collection cost and a maximum collection cost of two per cent. In order that this does not get out into the press without contradictian, I do not believe there is any State that collects for as little as one per cent or even as little as two per cent. Most States pay at least two per cent to the merchant who collects the tax. In addition to that, they would have their accounting cost and their field cost for service and so forth. I believe there is an average of around four per cent collection cost in those States that do not have the stamp plan.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, in answer to the Majority Leader, I know it is late but I have a publication here which contains statements made by fiscal officers. I will read off the States which I have here and the cost of collection. In Alabama, it is 1.5%.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for just a clarifying question relative to these figures?

What I wish you would do, Senator, is to include in any statement of costs whatever amount the merchant gets. Perhaps those figures just have what it costs the State, without taking into consideration the amount of credit which they give the merchant for distributing the stamps. If the precentages which you are going to give us include that cost, plus all the costs of collection, then it is perfectly all right but I want that made clear.

Mr. YOSKO. These figures which I have here, I understand are the over-all cost of collection of the sales tax. In Alabama, it is 1.5%; in Arizona, it is 1:5%; in Kansas, it is 1.5%; in Louisiana, it is 1%; in Maryland, it is 2%; in Mississippi, it is 1.5%; in Missouri, it is 1%; in North Carolina, it is 1.66%; in Ohio, it is 7%; in South Carolina, it is 2.1%; in South Dakota, it is 1%; and in Utah, it is .84%. Those are the ones which I have here.

INTERROGATION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOSKO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Yosko, in one of those States, any one of them, which you mentioned that is under 2%, do you know how much percentage they allow the merchant for his compensation in collecting this tax?

Mr. YOSKO. I repeat what I said before, the over-all cost of collection is what I gave you. I will turn this publication over to you and you can read it for yourself.

Mr. MAHANY. Then, Senator, before we get the plan into effect and it will not go into effect until July 1st, would you be satisfied then to give your department over here 1.9% of the amount to be taken in for their cost of collection?

Mr. YOSKO. I will yield to Senator Dent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sure that Senator Mahany recognizes that in the budget which we figured out, and I am sure Senator Kessler will back me up, when we estimated the cost of collecting this tax we only put $6,000,000 into it. The cost of collection, in all of these cases, is based upon the actual cost of collection, disregarding the amount of kickback that you give to the merchants and the others whom you pay.

I will be glad, if Mr. Mahany will see to it, if the Administration is given 1.9% of the total of the cost of this tax for the cost of collection, because that would be about three points less than what was given to Governor Fine because it cost $5,000,000 to collect $99,000,000 under Governor Fine. If you will give us $1,900,000 for each $100,000,000 of tax, and disregard the percentage that you are giving to the people who are collecting old stamps, green stamps and all of the prize coupons that you put in this bill, that will be fine.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not wish to continue this any further but, you see, Senator Dent has brought out the point there that your figures probably do not include the cost to the merchant for collecting the tax. I will be happy to go into this with you, Senator, and try to figure out about what these other States are doing. If there is some way we have of cutting down the cost, I will be glad to try to cooperate with you in that connection.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mahany, there are a few of these States that pay nothing to the vendors for collection. If you do not know that, I am telling you.

Let us assume that it is four per cent to adopt a plan that none of the other States have adopted and that Ohio, itself, wants to get rid of, and for this State to adopt it when it knows before it is adopted that it has the highest percentage of collection in the United States is just a waste of money that is paid in sales taxes, which is intended to be used to finance the obligations of the Commonwealth.

It seems to me, Mr. President, and I may be wrong, that somebody, and I am making a guess, probably made some kind of a deal with the people who sell these stamps and it was for that reason that it was insisted that the Ohio stamp method be incorporated in this bill. Certainly, when the sales tax bill was drafted in the first instance, and since you, as the Majority Leader, said on the floor of this Senate that the Republican Party was taking the responsibility for passing the sales tax bill as prepared last Friday night, the assumption was that the Republican Party is also a part of the House of Representatives and when that bill passed here, it would be accepted by the Republican leadership in the House. Since that was not true and they insisted on a more expensive cost of collection method, which only one State of all the States uses and that one State is trying to get rid of, it certainly creates a suspicion in my mind as to the reason why it was incorporated in this sales tax bill which was passed here tonight.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Senator here has made a grave charge that somebody was in on a deal connected with selling stamps. Certainly the Senator knows, first, that if this job is not to be put out on bids, the ones who will be consulted relative to who sells the stamps are not the Republicans but the Democrats. Second, if it is put out on bids, and I understand that would be the legal way to do it, whoever is the lowest responsible bidder will get the bid.

How he can make such a groundless charge as he has made, casting suspicion on all of us, is more than I can understand. He seems to be investigation conscious and I would say to him that if he has any such an idea as he has expressed, if he has any grounds for that, then he should certainly investigate it. If he finds there is anybody in on some kind of a deal, as he suggests, to sell stamps, I would like to know what it is. If he cannot find such a person or will admit that he has no grounds for suspicion, I think he should apologize to all of us.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I was one Democrat who voted for this bill as it was last Friday. I could not vote for it tonight for exactly the reasons pointed out in the last two statements and that is why I rise now.

This amended monstrosity is going to be a waste of millions of dollars because of this childish, foolish insistence on a play thing or the tax stamp plan. The amount of money involved in just printing the stamps alone and making them available to merchants is going to run into millions.

I understand, Mr. President, that Ohio's experience with it has been bad in so far as collections are concerned. It is strange that now that the bill is passed, the Majority Leader begins to worry about the cost to the businessmen. Has anybody yet thought of the thousands and millions of dollars that the businessmen of Pennsylvania are going to have to invest in stamps to buy them in advance before they make any sales? In the cases of many stores, it is going to mean the outlay of thousands of dollars in cash to buy the stamps first, and they will probably have to borrow money to provide that cash for the stamps from banks at high interest rates.

How about the little grocer or the little storekeeper on the corner who should die while he has a couple thousand dollars worth of stamps in his possession? How long will it take the Commonwealth, with the usual delays, to refund his estate for those stamps? This silly stamp plan raises a multitude of questions, helps the enforcement of the act not at all and can only result in the waste of millions of dollars.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for just a moment? The Chair must insist if any person wants to address the Senate, that they ask for unanimous consent to do so.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have been frequently amazed at the prodigious memory of the Majority Leader. He goes back many years and remembers in detail what Senator Dent or some other Senator on this side said five or six years ago without any trouble.

I was here when the Senator made the speech defending the initial tax program which the Republicans in the Senate voted for and I think I heard him say that the Ohio tax plan was not a good plan and that he was opposed to that plan. I would like to know whether he is now repudiating what he said then, or was he kidding us then or just what is the situation?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first, I want to tell the Senator that when you have a habit of remembering in detail things which happened years ago and you do not remembered what happened a short time ago, that is the first sign of senility.

I also want to say to the Senator, Mr. President, that I am happy that he, for one, was listening to what I said the other day when I stated the reason why we did not put the stamp plan in our bill as we voted on it in the Senate. I was hoping that some of the Members of the press would pick up some of those remarks and put them in their papers so that it might possibly have some affect upon the Members of the House. However, in looking over the papers, I did not see any reference to the statement which I made.

I do not repudiate anything which I said the other day, Senator. I still say, and agree with you, that the Ohio stamp plan is a costly one and if I had my way about it, we would not put it into effect here. Due to the fact that a majority of those who were voting on it in the House said that they could not vote for it unless it did have that plan in, we were forced to go along and accept what they wanted to do rather than what I wanted to do.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to join Mr. Mahany and just as a closing remark say that that is true. Senator Mahany, in fairness to you and Senator Kessler who were my colleagues on this conference, I will admit publicly, and with pride, that they fought every inch of the way not to insert the Ohio stamp plan in. They felt, and had figures to prove, that it was more expensive than the project that we had proposed in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I want to further say at this moment that probably I have been unkind many times because I, like other men, have a sharp taste on my tongue when I rise to my feet, but I hope that we all understand that at no time do I really feel personal about it.

Although at times I have been awfully unkind perhaps in my remarks and references to Senator Kessler, I have learned to know him very well during the last two weeks, at least much better than I knew him, and I know that he does not ask for this and it is given in an honest effort to undo perhaps some of the things which might have accrued from the remarks I made. He is intellectually honest; he is conservative, yes, but that is no sin and he does not wear the badge with dishonor. I have never learned to doubt his word and am proud to say that all along the line Senator Kessler, in my opinion, was a good Pennsylvanian.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want the Majority Leader, and the gentlemen on the other side who went along with the Ohio stamp plan, to know that if it goes into effect, the Commonwealth will probably have to buy a fleet of trucks if they use the same method of distributing as they use in Ohio.

As I understand it, there are two trucks that leave the treasury vault, in the State of Ohio, every Monday morning. It takes five weeks to make the routing of the entire State. Since Pennsylvania is a great deal larger than the State of Ohio in territory, I am assuming that it is going to take a longer period of time for these trucks each week or periodically to make the rounds, and hence the need for the fleet of trucks and the personnel to man them which, of course, figures in the cost of collection.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just want to state that tomorrow morning, Mr. Jones, who is the Personnel Director, will have 2,000 applications to drive those trucks. They will all be from worth-while Democrats. I am sure you will be able to sort them out.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 7, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, March 7, 1956, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1956.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend Arleigh Cale, Pastor of the Bentleyville Baptist Church, Washington County, guest Chaplain and guest of the gentlemen from Washington County, Messrs. Capano and Williams, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, and kind Heavenly Father, look down upon us as we humbly pause before Thee this moment in our lives, for we know that it is in Thee we live and move and have our being. We know that Thou art the way, the truth and the light and that there is none other except Thee.

As we come before Thee, O God, we pray as we have gathered this afternoon here that we too would be concerned with Thy will and Thy wondrous creation. As we come to Thee we know that the daily wheels of life seem to wear ruts in our souls. Such things as temptations, such things as jealousy, all of these which we can think of which take away from the beauty of Thy creation.

We pray, O God, as we come to Thee that such things as these would find no fertile soil in our being. Help us, O God, as we come to Thee not only to shape our lives around the material, but around the spiritual. We are going forth like the prophets of old not knowing where we go. So help us, O God, that we would walk by faith in Thee and not by sight of the temporal things of this vale. We thank Thee, Father, that we can come knowing of thy guidance, knowing of Thy wonderful and Thy marvelous life. We pray, Father, that Thy holy spirit will find itself working within Thy creation this day, that these things will be concerned of Thy will. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, February 13, Tuesday, February 14, Monday, February 20, Tuesday, February 21 and Wednesday, February 22, 1956? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, March 5, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. At the request of the Majority and Minority Leaders the Chair now declares a recess of one half hour for the purpose of a Democratic caucus and a Republican caucus. The Chair hears no objection, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

By Mr. DOWN. HOUSE BILL No. 2053.

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds association, reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, associations, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; repealing existing laws," authorizing payroll division between classification risks by employers.

Referred to the Committee on Insurance.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 215

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 215.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill, the report will lie over for printing by the Senate.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. PETROSKY and LOVETT.

RESOLUTION No. 161.

In the House of Representatives, March 6, 1956.

Whereas, there appears to be a very severe disturbance in and around the city of Arnold, Pennsylvania due to mine cave-ins, and

Whereas, this is the first major appearance of subsidence in this area which covers a vast acreage of now depleted coal mines, and

Whereas, this may be the beginning of a very serious and disastrous incident, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Secretary of Mines, immediately start an investigation to determine the source and cause for said subsidence, and be it further

Resolved, that the Secretary of Mines, the Honorable Joseph T. Kennedy, make a report to the General Assembly during this Session, if possible, for the purpose of enacting whatever legislation is required if such legislation be deemed necessary.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. BOIES asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Professional Licensure to meet during the session of the House.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 2009

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 2009.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

The SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE. Does the gentleman desire to make a statement with respect to printing or any other matter?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do.

The Conference Report, which is the sales tax bill, is now at the Printer's and should be back here roughly about 6:00 o'clock. We are hoping to have it by that time so that it can be called up before the House for adoption or rejection and so the Members can be relieved of their duties for the day by no later than 6:45 o'clock.

Tomorrow will be a full working day and we expect the Members to be here to process the bills on this calendar. If they do not come tomorrow, we will have so much more work to do in a later week. If we expect to get out of this session finally on or before April 1st, as we are now hoping, I advise you to be here so we can get this work done.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to make a statement regarding procedure.

The Members will remember that quite a number of months ago the House adopted a Resolution fixing a final day for the introduction of bills.

The Chair, in view of the circumstances that surrounded our convening, did not enforce or, better say, did not observe that Rule.

The Chair wishes to state that beginning next Monday no bills will be referred to Committee by the Chair except at the direct instruction of the House. Members who have bills in preparation can introduce them by title and can file them in the Speaker's office even when the House is not in session.

The Chair desires to repeat, beginning next Monday no bills will be referred to Committee except the House so directs.

A further comment. If we are to clear the calendar, bills must be voted upon. If the majority party in this House does not have the votes with which to pass legislation upon which there is party disagreement, it is within the province of the majority to object when bills are passed over.

We cannot terminate this session unless we clear the calendar. The Chair hopes arrangements can be made so the calendar, in both the House and the Senate will soon become closed books. The Chair thinks the Senate should be informed as to the bills we expect to send over there. In turn, the Chair believes we are entitled to know from the Senate the bills they intend sending to us. If we cooperate, we can reach the point in orderly fashion where our calendars are clear because the bills have either been acted upon or have been dropped from the calendar.

Insofar as the Chair can encourage definite action upon the part of this House on pending legislation, the Chair so will do. We will work with the Members of this House and with the other branch to bring about a termination of this session in orderly fashion.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 667

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 667, Printer's No. 1256, entitled:

"An act providing for the determination and effect of comparative negligence in actions of tort and providing that contributory negligence shall not bar recovery" was defeated on final passage on Monday, February 27, 1956, be reconsidered.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELFAND. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please state for the information of the House the bill which you are now seeking to resurrect from the graveyard?

Mr. GELFAND. This is a bill dealing with comparative negligence.

Mr. JOHNSON. I did not understand the gentleman.

Mr. GELFAND. I say, this is a bill dealing with comparative negligence.

Mr. JOHNSON. When the bill was defeated on final passage last week, how many affirmative votes did you have for the bill?

Mr. GELFAND. I do not recollect, but I believe in the vicinity of 72.

Mr. JOHNSON. Then you are 34 votes shy of a constitutional majority, is that right?

Mr. GELFAND. At that time there were a considerable number of absentees in the House and I believe if those Members were present there would be a considerable number of votes more in favor of this bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. Do you know how many absentees there were on that day? Do you have the Journal in front of you?

Mr. GELFAND. At the time there were approximately 48 absentees in the House.

Mr. JOHNSON. Would you state what the purpose is of bringing this bill back at this time?

Mr. GELFAND. The purpose of this bill is to have reconsideration, inasmuch as I now feel the bill will pass if it is called up.

Mr. JOHNSON. Do you not believe you are unnecessarily taking up the time of the House at this late stage for a bill that only received 70-some votes when it was first voted on?

Mr. GELFAND. I do not believe so, inasmuch as I think this is very meritorious legislation and I think it would be a fine improvement in legislation in Pennsylvania. I also feel that if it were called up it would pass in this instance.

Mr. JOHNSON. You say there were 48 Members absent on the day that we voted on it last week?

Mr. GELFAND. That is what I said, I said approximately.

Mr. JOHNSON. If there were 48 Members absent, I would say you did not have a square deal, shall I say, on the bill. I was going to object to reconsideration, but I certainly will not object if that were the case, although I am against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1731

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1731, Printer's No. 1387, entitled:

"An Act amending the 'Elevator Regulation Law' approved May 2, 1929, (P. L. 1518) regulating the repairing and renovating of elevators requiring permits and fixing fees for permits and inspections."

was defeated on final passage, Monday, February 27, 1956 be reconsidered.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1242

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1242, Printer's No. 1376, entitled:

"An Act to amend subsection (b) of the 'Pennsylvania Election Code' * * * by removing prohibition against unincorporated associations making political contributions."

was defeated on final passage, Monday, February 27, 1956, be reconsidered.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Welsh vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is about to take up bills on final passage. The Chair would like to have the attention of the Members during the consideration of this calendar. Many important bills will be laid before the House and, unless there are requests to hold them over, they will be put to a vote.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 68, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April twelve one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" authorizing the transfer of certain retail licenses to clubs defining the effect of such transfers upon quota limitations

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 461 act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) known as the "Liquor Code" is amended to read

Section 461 Limiting Number of Retail Licenses to Be Issued in Each Municipality (a) No licenses shall hereafter be granted by the board for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages in excess of one of such licenses of any class for each one thousand inhabitants or fraction thereof in any municipality including retail liquor licenses transferred from a restaurant or a retail dispenser's license from an eating place to a club as defined by this act or to a veteran's organization incorporated and existing under the laws of this Commonwealth but exclusive of licenses granted to hotels as defined in this section and clubs except that club licenses transferred to a club from a restaurant or retail dispenser shall be counted in the quota but at least one such license may be granted in each municipality except in municipalities where the electors have voted against the granting of any retail licenses nothing contained in this section shall be construed as denying the right to the board to renew or to transfer existing retail licenses of any class notwithstanding that the number of such licensed places in a municipality shall exceed the limitation hereinbefore prescribed but where such number exceeds the limitation prescribed by this section no new license except for hotels as defined in this section shall be granted so long as said limitation is exceeded

Section 2 Subsection (a) of section 468 of the act amended August twenty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1340) is amended to read

Section 468 Licenses Not Assignable Transfers

(a) Licenses issued under this article may not be assigned The board upon payment of the transfer filing fee and the execution of a new bond is hereby authorized to transfer any license issued by it under the provisions of this article from one person to another or from one place to another or both and may transfer a retail liquor license from a restaurant or a retail dispenser's license from an eating place to a club as defined by this act or to a veteran's organization incorporated and existing under the laws of this Commonwealth within the same municipality as the board may determine Provided however That in the event that a majority of the voting electors of a municipality at an election held under the provisions of any law so empowering them to do shall vote against the issuance of distributor or importing distributor licenses in such municipality the board is hereby authorized to transfer any such distributor or importing distributor license from its place in such municipality to a place in any other municipality within the same county upon application prior to the expiration of any such license and upon payment of the transfer filing fee and the execution of a new bond but no transfer shall be made to a person who would not have been eligible to receive the license originally nor for the transaction of business at a place for which the license could not lawfully have been issued originally nor except as herein provided to a place as to which a license has been revoked Except in cases of emergency such as death serious illness or circumstances beyond the control of the licensee as the board may determine such circumstances to justify its action transfers of licenses may be made only at times fixed by the board In the case of the death of a licensee the board may transfer the license to the surviving spouse or personal representative or to a person designated by him From any refusal to grant a transfer or upon the grant of any transfer the party aggrieved shall have the right of appeal to the proper court and therefrom to the Superior Court in the manner herein before provided

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 68 has to do with clubs securing a liquor license. I have cleared this with all the different groups who objected to it. I cleared it with the church people and all others who questioned any part of it. I know of no opposition to it now.

What it does, it permits a club, that is, a bona fide club, which does not have a license to secure one by purchasing a retail license that is already in effect. It does not create a vacancy in the quota.

If this bill is passed, it will merely permit these clubs, as I stated before, to purchase one of these licenses.

I would like to see every Member of the House support the bill if they can see their way clear.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1176, Printer's No. 1415

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1562, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" redefining the term "population"

Section 1 The definition "population" of section 102 act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) known as the "Liquor Code" is amended to read

Section 102 Definintions The following words or phrases unless the context clearly indicates otherwise shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, are we proceeding to a roll call on House Bill 1928, Printer's No. 1425?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I was holding a series of conferences on this bill and the gentleman I was to confer with again has not come back as yet. Will you hold this bill over?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair understood that Majority Leader wanted this bill put before the House.

Mr. PETROSKY. I would like to have the opportunity of securing the material I have been using to confer upon this bill, it is in my desk upstairs. I would like to bring it down and debate the bill.

Would you put it over temporarily until I secure my material?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to make a motion to postpone action on this bill—temporarily, at least?

Mr. PETROSKY. I am agreed. I ask that it be held over until I secure my material.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to make a motion to postpone action on this bill temporarily?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. PETROSKY. I so move, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to object to this motion for this reason: I had the same understanding that the Chair had from the Majority Floor Leader. The bill has been on the calendar for, I believe, at least four weeks. It was amended, I think, as long as two weeks ago. It has been in its present form for at least two weeks. It was agreed last week by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, that it would be held over.

The Members on this side of the House are ready to vote on the bill in its present form. I object and ask the Members to vote down this motion.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with what the gentleman states. However, I had asked that this bill be held over until such time as a gentleman who was concerned with this measure had conferred with the Department which would administer its provisions.

The gentleman has not come back to me for a further conference, and I was awaiting his pleasure.

Mr. Speaker, in the event that you want to move on the bill, I would like to pass it over at least temporarily so I can get my material and debate on the bill. As the bill now stands, I wish to oppose it.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. How much time would the gentleman desire in order to obtain his material?

Mr. PETROSKY. About five minutes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. What is the pleasure of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to be unduly pressing in this situation. I would not have any objection to waiting five minutes, although it seems to me, there has been ample time. Being one of the sponsors of the bill, no one has consulted me about any difficulties in the bill at all, if they exist.

Possibly any difficulty which the gentleman speaks about could be taken care of as a departmental matter in enforcement or procedure or the technicality could be taken care of when the bill reaches the Senate, if it does. If it does not reach the Senate, he does not have anything to worry about.

I still object to the motion as it stands before the House now.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair would like to suggest that we pass over this bill temporarily for about five minutes. In the meantime we will take up the next bill, then we will return to this bill immediately following.

The Chair hears no objection. The gentleman will get his papers and return to the House.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HOCKER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 319, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" permitting the exchange of certain retail dispensers licenses for liquor licenses and establishing procedure therefore and establishing procedure therefor

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 461 act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) known as the "Liquor Code" is amended to read

Section 461 Limiting Number of Retail Licenses To Be Issued In Each Municipality (a) No licenses shall hereafter be granted by the board for the retail sale of malt or brewed beverages or the retail sale of liquor and malt or brewed beverages in excess of one of such licenses of any class for each one thousand inhabitants or fraction thereof in any municipality exclusive of licenses granted to hotels as defined in this section and clubs but at least one such license may be granted in each municipality except in municipalities where the electors have voted against the granting of any retail licenses Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as denying the right to the board to renew or to transfer existing retail licenses of any class or to issue a restaurant liquor license to a holder of and in exchange for an existing eating place retail dispenser's license issued under the provisions of this act or to issue a club liquor license to a holder of and in exchange for an existing club retail dispenser's license issued under the provisions of this act notwithstanding that the number of such licensed places in a municipality shall exceed the limitation hereinbefore prescribed but where such number exceeds the limitation prescribed in this section no new license except for hotels as defined in this section and except in exchange as above provided shall be granted so long as said limitation is exceeded Every licensee surrendering a retail dispenser's license issued under the provisions of this act shall furnish bond as required by this act The fee for a liquor license thus issued in exchange for a retail dispenser's license shall be the difference between the amount which the applicant paid for the retail dispenser's license and the fee prescribed for the issuance of a liquor license No liquor license shall be issued in any locality where the electors by local option have voted against the granting of liquor licenses

After a liquor license has been issued to any applicant as herein provided he shall be entitled to the same privileges and shall be subject to the same restrictions as other holders of liquor licenses

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 319 is not opposed by the Liquor Control Board. It will not increase licenses under the quota law.

The beer license is counted in the quota law as a full license at the present time, but is deprived of the full right or the equal rights of a full license. It comes under the same restriction as retail liquor licenses.

House Bill 319 will give the beer licensee equal rights. It will give additional thousands of dollars to the municipalities where those licenses are located, as well as to the state.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission of the Chair to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, what does this bill purport to do?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, sometime back this bill was debated at length on the floor. This bill will allow a man who holds a beer license only to turn that beer license in to the Liquor Control Board and pick up a beer and liquor license by paying the additional fee required for the two licenses.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, are both retail liquor licenses and retail dispenser licenses under the quota system?

Mr. HOCKER. They are. It will not add any new taverns, if that is what the gentleman is getting at.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, are both the quotas filled today?

Mr. HOCKER. They could be filled, I mean, the extent that a man holds only a beer license, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. What I mean, Mr. Speaker, is that under the existing law today, if I were to apply to the Liquor Control Board for a retail dispenser license, the right to sell beer alone, would I be able to get such a license?

Mr. HOCKER. Very definitely, no.

Mr. McCORMACK. If I were today to apply to the same Board for a retail liquor license, would I be able to get a license from the Control Board?

Mr. HOCKER. No, the gentleman would not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Because the quotas are filled, is that correct?

Mr. HOCKER. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. In order for me to purchase a retail beer license in the open market today, can the gentleman tell me what the cost would be?

Mr. HOCKER. I have no idea. I am not a dealer in liquor or beer licenses.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would it surprise the gentleman to know, Mr. Speaker, that I could purchase an existing retail dispenser license, that is, a license which would permit me to sell beer, for approximately $2,500?

Mr. HOCKER. I have no idea what the gentleman could buy one for. I imagine it would depend upon the location, how much business they do, and so on and so forth.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am speaking about Philadelphia in particular now. The gentleman does not know those figures?

Mr. HOCKER. No, I do not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman happen to know the figures insofar as the market value of a retail liquor license today in Philadelphia?

Mr. HOCKER. No, I would not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would it surprise the gentleman to know that in order to purchase a retail liquor license in Philadelphia you have to pay approximately $14,500?

Mr. HOCKER. I would not know that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. If I were to apprise the gentleman of the corrections of those figures today, Mr. Speaker, would he still say this is a fair bill?

Mr. HOCKER. Yes, I think it is a fair bill. I am sure it is a fair bill, because all over this Commonwealth there are people who have been laboring under a beer license. All over this Commonwealth there are some veterans' clubs and other clubs that only have a beer license. I am of the opinion, and I honestly believe, that irrespective of price I do not think this is going to put anyone into the business of buying or selling licenses. I do not think so.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not saying that this bill on the calendar today applies to veterans' organizations?

Mr. HOCKER. If some of them only have a beer license.

Mr. McCORMACK. It should apply to them only incidentally then, is that right?

Mr. HOCKER. Incidentally is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. It would not limit it?

Mr. HOCKER. No, it would not limit it. It would take in anyone that holds a beer license, and there are 1,400 licensees in this state who only hold a beer license.

Mr. McCORMACK. When these people who presently hold licenses to sell beer only applied, they applied for that license, is that right?

Mr. HOCKER. A lot of that happened way back under the old method of issuing licenses, when the county treasurer had the power to issue a license.

Mr. McCORMACK. I mean, they were not deceived in any way, were they?

Mr. HOCKER. I do not think so.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I think in the face of the answers elicited from one of the sponsors of the bill this is so fundamentally unfair to those who hold valuable liquor license today that we should not in conscience vote to change the law.

I, therefore, ask the House to vote against it.

Mr. LOVETT. May I interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I am getting awful tired, but I would never turn down my old friend.

Mr. LOVETT. I will be very fair about it. Does the gentleman have any knowledge of how many beer licenses are now held by people who do not serve beer in their establishments?

Mr. HOCKER. How many beer licenses are held by people who do not serve beer?

Mr. LOVETT. That is right.

Mr. HOCKER. That is like a fellow holding a marriage license and not intending to get married. I do not know of any, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. I may enlighten him of at least one or two that I know of personally who hold a beer license but do not serve beer in their establishments. I am sure if you transfer it to a liquor license, they would be very glad to go into the business.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(1) If the purchase price is ten cents (10c) or less no tax shall be collected

(2) If the purchase price is eleven cents (11c) or more but less than sixty-two cents (62c) one cent (1c) shall be collected

(3) If the purchase price is sixty-two cents (62c) or more but less than one dollar and one cent ($1.01) two cents (2c) shall be collected

(4) If the purchase price is more than one dollar ($1) two per centum of each dollar of the purchase price plus the above bracket charges upon any fractional part of a dollar in excess of even dollars shall be collected

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this Conference Report which is before us is the sales tax bill. Admittedly, it is not perfectly drawn. There will have to be some amendments made following its enactment. They are mostly correctional amendments. There is no intention to change any of the substantive parts of the bill, but in going over it in the last two days, we have found it is so worded in parts that it will be difficult to work out. The fact that the stamp plan was included when it passed the House, that it was removed in the Senate and is now back in the Conference Report has in some sense complicated this bill.

The conferees discussed all of these different matters and have agreed that amendments are necessary. Those amendments will be prepared as speedily as possible and will probably be before us next week.

I do not think it is necessary to say much more about the merits or the demerits of this bill, so much has been said before. We on this side of the House are going to furnish a substantial number of votes for its passage. Many of us will vote for it without in any degree liking to do so, and perhaps many persons on your side will be voting for it who do not particularly like it.

One of the items upon which there was a compromise agreement was the matter of removing from the tax utility consumer bills. The conferees have agreed to take out of Section 13 of the original bill relating to this particular tax the tax on electricity and the tax on telephone and telegraph services. I might say that the conferees on this side objected to removing those taxes, because we felt the yield of the entire bill was being reduced below what it should be, below what is needed

The conferees on the Republican side compromised also, by finally agreeing to allow some of the utility services included in that section to remain under this tax. There has been a lot of give-and-take in this matter in order that Pennsylvania might get a tax program. We do not like it, as we have said so many times, but we are here today and we are ready to vote for it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we do not intend to debate the bill on this side of the House. I am in complete agreement with the Majority Leader as far as this bill and, in most respects, as far as the compromise is concerned. We on this side of the House, even though it is a sales tax bill and came from a Republican Senate, do not completely agree with some of their thinking.

The main subject of debate was Section 13, which taxes telephone and electric light service to the consumer.

We also would have liked to have taken out of the bill fuel oil, natural gas and steam for heating purposes, we feel those things are necessities of life, but we were unable to do so. To agree on a compromise bill, we had to take what was given to us on that Section 13.

If I could interrogate the Majority Leader at this point, I would like to do so.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said there are some corrective amendments needed at this time because of the necessity of swinging around some of these sections of the bill. I would like to ask you in good faith whether he will supply to the best of his ability votes for this side on any of these corrective amendments to make this a workable bill?

Before the gentleman answers, I would like only to say there may be some people, and he is not one of them, who would probably do everything humanely possible to kill this bill. We do not want a tax bill, after we have passed it in this House and in the Senate, to die because of technical disagreements. If he will give us an answer in good faith that he will supply votes, that the bill will remain basically the same and there will be no main clauses torn out of it, but so that we can make the Ohio plan, and whatever other technical amendments are needed workable, that is the only answer I ask.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying that we are acting in good faith in helping to pass this bill. We certainly would not be maintaining good faith on this side if we tried to distort and remove main sections of the bill by amendments after it became law. I will certainly pledge him my most earnest endeavors to have all of those on this side who vote for this bill support these corrective amendments. That includes corrective amendments to the stamp tax plan, which I sincerely detest, but which I will vote for. I will vote to help correct any defects that might be in this bill because we desire to get it passed now.

I pledge my support of his proposal, if you can call it that.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I thank the gentleman because I felt sure that would be his answer.

Mr. LOVETT. You members were not in any hurry yesterday. You had lots of time yesterday. I was in a hurry yesterday.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman admit that this is the bill that he—this bill, this conference report on the bill that was worked out in conference and sent to the Senate, is this the bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I wish the gentleman would re-word his question. I may be stumbling a little bit, I have a couple of lozenges in my mouth with a sore tongue, but would the gentleman just reword that question so we get it exact?

Mr. LOVETT. I ask the gentleman if the Conference Report that we now have before us is on the original bill that was part of his program, nonpartisan program, that was sent to the Senate with the income tax that we sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is a five or six edged question. I think the gentleman knows that the bill which came back from the Senate is not the bill that went over to the Senate. I think he will agree with that.

As far as the Conference Report goes, that I do not believe is our Conference Report any more than it is his. There happen to be five signatures on the back, one Senator Kessler, one Senator Mahany, one Representative Readinger, Mr. Polen and Mr. Gibson. I think the Conference Report is an agreed upon report on both sides of the Legislature.

Mr. LOVETT. I then ask the gentleman, is the bill the same number bill as was sent to the Senate?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. We will buy the number.

Mr. LOVETT. The gentleman will go by the number?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Yes, we will take the number. It is the same number, yes.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman said there were five names on this Conference Report. Does the gentleman miss any names on that Report?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Yes, I would say there might be the gentleman who is quite willing to sign his name and add his voice to most things who did not seem to want to sign this Report.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman state to the House just who that Member is?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would say that under the Speaker's ruling I do not believe it would be proper for me to state the gentleman's name in the Senate. I think the gentleman knows who it would be.

Mr. LOVETT. Would the gentleman admit that the names of the two Members of the Senate which appear on this bill are Republican Members of the Senate and that the one who does not appear is a Democratic Member of the Senate?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would agree with the gentleman on that statement, yes.

Mr. LOVETT. Could the gentleman give me any good reason why the Democratic Member's name does not appear on this Conference Report?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. One of the policies I have learned during my term as Majority Leader, as Speaker and as the Minority Leader is never to try to speak for any individuals in the Senate. I do believe, if the gentleman is interested in knowing why, he could probably consult with the gentleman himself. I could not answer that question and be honest and be sure that I am right in my answer.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the gentleman that I am trying to be fair and honest. The Senator's name which does not appear on this Conference Report happens to be my Senator from Westmoreland County. Naturally, I am interested. I did not have an opportunity to ask the gentleman why. This has been a pretty hurried-up job in a way, and in another way it has not been too hurried.

If I have embarrassed the gentleman by my questions, I apologize. I was only trying to learn why the name of my Senator from Westmoreland did not appear on the Conference Report.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The only answer I could give the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, would be this,—it would be two answers: First of all, I presume he is on speaking terms with the gentleman he is talking about. Secondly, there is a gentleman sitting at his left who was on the Conference Committee, who sat in, and who probably would know a lot more about those answers than I do, because I did not sit in on any of the meetings except for a period of about three minutes. I would suggest that the gentleman interrogate the Majority Leader, who could probably give him an answer.

Mr. LOVETT. May I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, for his information as to where I can receive the information I would like to receive, but since the gentleman is not on too good terms with the Senate Members of his party, from what I understand, and he admits himself—

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I object to the gentleman's statement he has just made.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the question before us on adopting the Report of the Committee.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, may I say that I think I am not out of order when I talk about the name of a Member of the Conference Committee that is not on this Report.

I ask the House in all fairness, do you Members think it is unfair to ask that question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Westmoreland knows the various Members on the Committee, and by examination of the Report can determine that the Democratic Senator has not signed it. That can be determined without interrogation. As to why the Senator did not sign, that would not be a proper interrogation.

Mr. LOVETT. Does the Speaker mean it is not proper interrogation to find out why a particular member of the Conference Committee refused to sign the Conference Report?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is not proper interrogation of other Members of that Committee. It might be proper interrogation of a Member of the Committee were he a Member of this body.

Mr. LOVETT. But to ask any other Member is not proper interrogation? Do I understand the Speaker to so rule.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair rules that it is not proper interrogation for the gentleman to inquire, about the reasons of someone other than a Member of this House for not signing this Report.

Mr. LOVETT. I will gladly abide by the Speaker's ruling, and I want to again thank the gentleman.

I just want to say to the membership of this House that while yesterday I fought very vigorously here to have this bill enacted and sent to the Governor, that in the Conference Report which we now have before us there is very little difference in the bill now than there was yesterday, and you have lost thousands of dollars by delaying action on this particular legislation.

I am not here trying to delay action, I am only seeking to find out where we are going. I will be glad, if you gentlemen feel now that you have improved this bill, to go along with you and vote for it. I personally do not think you have made very much improvement. I would prefer if you had gone along with me yesterday and passed the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

NOT VOTING—10

Connelly,	Kornick,	Lawyer,	Rosen,
Heavey,	Kratz,	Pettigrew,	Rubin,
Jones, G. E.,			Sigman,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. FRANK filed the following reasons for his vote.

Today I voted for a three per cent sales tax, a tax that will not be welcomed by many taxpayers, but what tax is?

I openly opposed and campaigned against a sales tax. I did not and do not favor this means of raising revenue. However, after fifteen months of futile attempts to reach the opposing political faction in the Legislature with the tax proposals of the Democratic Party, during which time the welfare of the State was in the balance, I felt it was time to forget partisanship and my own personal inclinations and go along with the sales tax.

I am willing to take my stand behind the sales tax, which I did not and do not favor, for the general well being of our Commonwealth, so that we have a functioning tax program whereby we can obtain revenue to adequately provide for our schools, hospitals, institutions and the overall program of our State.

The delay in providing for the general welfare of our Commonwealth is of no political value to either party.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. REIBMAN filed the following reasons for her vote.

As we start the fifteenth month of this Session and I see the essential services in the community being curtailed and in many cases stopped, when I see that the mental hospitals are unable to function and many school districts have been forced to close their doors because of lack of funds, I feel that it is my duty as a responsible Legislator to provide the funds for our future generation's schooling and our handicapped and helpless people, regardless of my personal convictions.

In the face of the inflexible obstinacy of the Republican Party and their wilfull refusal to accept any tax bill based upon ability to pay, and moreover their adamant and callous refusal even to consider a compromise, I am placed in a most difficult position.

Not for one moment do I abandon my opposition to a tax which will cast an unfair burden upon the average citizen of this Commonwealth and in particular will unfairly jeopardize the competitive position of Easton merchants. But, nevertheless, since there is no alternative I am compelled to vote for the Republican Tax program with all its unfairnesses which will at least provide minimum funds for essential services and prevent bankruptcy, chaos and disregard for the helpless citizens of the entire State who need our help most. These considerations must out weigh my personal feelings.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. TOMPKINS filed the following reasons for his vote.

If we had not spent so much time already in trying to resolve our tax problems, and if the Commonwealth were not in such dire need of funds, I would vote against this bill.

I would vote against it because of the rank discrimination against natural gas and fuel oil consumers which has been left in the bill.

Electric, telephone and telegraph utility consumers and users of coal for heating purposes have either been amended or exempted out of the bill. Why then penalize natural gas and fuel oil consumers? Why discriminate only against the gas utility?

With a pistol at our head, however, there is not much choice left at this time but to vote for the bill. I urge, however, that this legislature will at a very early date take all steps necessary to eliminate the gross inequity contained in this bill against natural gas and fuel oil consumers.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. VARNER filed the following reasons for his vote.

Reasons for vote on Report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 2009.

I have not voted for the Conference Committee Report, the "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" for the following reasons:

1. The Bill does not exempt Natural Gas, a fuel used for heating.

2. The Bill requires merchants to make monthly reports rather than quarterly reports as required under the 1953 Sales and Use Tax Act.

3. The Bill does not specifically ear-mark the revenue produced thereby for educational purposes.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WALSH filed the following reasons for his vote.

In connection with my voting on House Bill No. 2009, otherwise known as the 3% Sales Tax, I desire to make a brief statement.

For the past fourteen months the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have patiently awaited a tax program from the General Assembly in order that the needs and services so strongly necessary would be provided. Each day of these fourteen months it has been stated the Commonwealth was losing approximately $1 million dollars of revenue. The wheels of progressive government have almost ceased to function, turning ever so slowly on routine governmental matters. Now and then the General Assembly breathes hope and life that some type of program was forthcoming and that the services deprived to every man, woman, and child would eventually be available. That breath of life, however, was a false alarm and the Commonwealth, the patient, sank back gasping for relief.

Mr. Speaker, for months I have been opposed to various tax programs because I sincerely believed that the type of program offered was not in the best interests of the people of the Commonwealth and to my way of thinking was an extreme burden to most of them.

Although I feel today that House Bill No. 2009, the 3% Sales Tax Bill, contains several undesirable features, it will nevertheless, produce the necessary revenue to provide services and carry out the functions of government. No tax measure can satisfy every interest or all the people of Pennsylvania.

Since services are vitally needed in the field of education, mental health, care and assistance of the aged, blind, indigent and the handicapped and since other valuable services too numerous to mention are vital to the general welfare of the people of Pennsylvania, I therefore cast my vote in favor of House Bill No. 2009 and do so with a deep, sincere and honest conviction.

For all the above reasons my position is clear; the needs of the Commonwealth must supercede my personal feelings and beliefs.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mrs. PASHLEY from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 11, 1917 (P. L. 758), entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession, control, dealing in, giving away, delivery, dispending, administering, prescribing, and use of certain drugs, and keeping records thereof; by regulating the use of drugs in the treatment of the drug habit; by providing for the revocation and suspension of licenses of physicians, dentists, veterinarians, pharmacists, druggists, and registered nurses for certain causes, and by providing for the enforcement of this act, and penalties" further defining drugs coming within the scope of said act and changing the penalties for the illegal sale dispensing or giving away of drugs.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July eleven one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 758) entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the possession control dealing in giving away delviery dispensing administering prescribing and use of certain drugs and keeping records thereof by regulating the use of drugs in the treatment of the drug habit by providing for the revocation and suspension of licenses of physicians dentists veterinarians pharmacists druggists and registered nurses for certain causes and by providing for the enforcement of this act and penalties" further defining drugs coming within the scope of said act and changing the penalties for the illegal sale dispensing or giving away of drugs.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. FRANK and BULLEN.

HOUSE BILL No. 2063.

By Messrs. BRETH, FILO, WILLIAM B. SMITH, AUKER and BANKER. HOUSE BILL No. 2065.

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," further regulating the issuance of antlerless deer licenses, and imposing penalties for the unlawful issuance thereof.

Referred to the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the Members, the Chair is about to declare a recess of the House until 11:00 p. m.

There will also be a session of the House tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock. That will be a full session and the calendar will be taken up.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think for the information of the Members it would be wise if the Chair would announce why we are coming back into session this evening.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The presence of the Members will not be required tonight. The session will be a token session for the purpose of signing the tax bill, covered by the Conference Report which we have just adopted. It must be signed in the presence of the House. However, tomorrow morning there will be a session at 10:00 o'clock. It will be a full session and all Members are required to return tomorrow.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. HAUDENSHIELD, FLYNN and MAGEE.
(Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 6, 1956.

The Honorable William Flinn (1851-1924) was the father of the first chemically prepared hard surfaced road in Pennsylvania. While a member of the State Senate from Allegheny County, this man of extraordinary character, originality and courage, originated and introduced in 1879 in the General Assembly the first recommendation to amend the State Constitution to permit and provide a State-wide improvement of its rural highways. His recommendation as to surfacing highways, like the recommendations of many great men before him who offered new and progressive ideas, was met by the opposition who voiced the opinion that surfacing highways was an impossible engineering feat. However, Senator Flinn, who was a fearless fighter no matter how strong the opposition, never gave up. In 1895 through his untiring efforts and devotion to his progressive concept, and after he solved all the problems to the satisfaction of both the Senate and House as to administering the act, such legislation was passed.

When the first hard surfaced road was laid in Washington County under the "Flinn Road Bill" there were very few people, besides Senator Flinn, who could envision the impact such surfacing would have on the commercial advancement of this great nation. Within a relatively short time, every state followed the example set by the genius from Pennsylvania and paved their highways.

Today beautiful highways are taken as a matter of course. In the passage of time, great achievements and contributions made in realizing such highways by such men as Senator Flinn are sometimes forgotten, except by the few. These few, led by their chairman, Colonel Charles C. McGovern, the county controller, conducted a memorial service in 1926 at which they dedicated a monument, which they placed on the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial" in memory of the ingenuity of a great Pennsylvanian who devoted his entire life to the betterment of this Commonwealth. This memorial to Senator Flinn should be made known to and recognized by all the citizens of this Commonwealth in honor of this great man; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the monument known as the "William Flinn Highway Memorial," which was erected in 1926 by the public at the dividing line between Allegheny and Washington Counties, be accepted by the General Assembly and dedicated to the perpetual memory of the late Honorable William Flinn who in 1895 as the father of hard surfaced roads, built the first such road in Washington County, Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly, when accepting the monument on behalf of the Commonwealth, shall give it such supervision as will be necessary to carry out the spirit and intentions of the public donors in preserving for posterity a perpetual historical monument in memory of the Senator who contributed to the perfection of a rural highway system in this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to Charles C. McGovern, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for the benefit of members who served on the dedication committee and for the benefit of any surviving kin of Senator Flinn.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 7, 1956. No. 150.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 7, 1956.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Dear Lord and Father of all mankind, we thank Thee for another opportunity on this new day to serve Thee.

As we look around ourselves and see new life struggling to burst forth in nature, all around us, which will soon come into a lovely spring, so as we feel Thy Spirit working in our hearts, may it, too, enable us to live a more efficient and abundant life so that Thy Name may have all the honor and the glory in a world without end, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. FLEMING and HAYS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 1361, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1361, entitled:

An Act authorizing the creation of regional planning commissions by counties, cities, boroughs, towns or townships; authorizing interstate participation in regional planning under certain conditions, and conferring powers and imposing duties on regional planning commissions.

and has appointed Messrs. WHEELER, STEBBINS and HELM as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McGINNIS, from the Committee on Elections, reported as committed, House Bill No. 698, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code" increasing the compensation of election officers in counties of the first and second classes.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STEVENSON and FLEMING read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1019, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 12, 1943 (P. L. 259), entitled, as amended, "An act providing for the payment by the State Treasurer of the amount of the tax on premiums paid by foreign casualty insurance companies . . . ," further defining policemen and changing the time when unused funds are returned to the General Fund for redistribution.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. BARR and FLEMING read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1020, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 26, 1949 (P. L. 1828), entitled "Fiduciaries Investment Act of 1949," further prescribing the eligibility for authorized investments of the obligations of municipalty authortes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. LANE. Mr. Presdent and Members of the Senate, no wthat we have mastered the tax crisis, temporarily at least, I feel that it is the consensus of opinion of the Membership of both the House and Senate that we try to adjourn this Session sine die as soon as possible.

Mr. President, I feel that we still have a job to do here. There is lots of legislation over here in the Senate Committees which should be seriously considered. However, I have always said that a good job is a job that is well done. I realize that the newspapers throughout the months have criticized the Legislature, and I know that there are a number of editorials being written and have been written whereby we have been a do-nothing Legislature. I disagree with most of the newspapers, because I feel that the Membership here in the Senate has tried to do a job. I do believe, however, now that the tax program is passed, we should get down to the sensible problem of properly legislating.

Not long ago, Mr. President, I introduced into this Senate a series of bills pertaining to atomic energy. In my conversation with the Membership of the Senate, I find that some of them take the position that perhaps this program is too expensive. I want to advise the Membership of the Senate that the figures I used were approximately one-half of what the State of New York has appropriated for atomic energy. I was reading in the newspaper the other day about the President of the United States being in contact with Premier Bulganin, of Soviet Russia, and they are negotiating in regard to atomic energy. I say to you that this Congressional Act of 1954, giving the States the power and responsibility to establish peacetime atomic energy commissions, is certainly a step in the right direction. We, in Pennsylvania, must not be a backward State. I feel quite confident that in the very near future, atomic energy is going to revolutionize industry as a whole. I feel that this State of Pennsylvania should get in on the ground floor. I feel that we should give serious thought and consideration to establishing, at least, a temporary Atomic Energy Commission for the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have heard it said on the floor of this Senate many, many times that industry was leaving Pennsylvania. Sometimes it was attributed to the tax structure, many unfavorable conditions and a number of other items which are too numerous to mention here today. However, I feel that industry, itself, is interested in the development of atomic energy for peacetime purposes. This Commonwealth should get on the job and do something at this Session of the General Assembly in order to get the wheels going. If you look around you today, you can see that the other major States are taking definite action in regard to the conducting and the construction of atomic energy plants. Pennsylvania should be no exception.

I have felt, and I feel now, that in the future, in all probability, the United States Government may subsidize some of these States that are forward-looking on atomic energy. We might be in a position of being subsidized by the Federal Government for the construction of a couple of peacetime atomic energy plants here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Prsident, I prevail upon the Membership of the committee, to which these bills were committed, to give them their serious consideration. If you feel that they are too expensive, let us cut the appropriation. However, let us get a start in the right direction and I believe that if we go forward at this Session, we will be proud of our activities at the next regular Session of the Legislature.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, started his statement by saying that he believed there were a number of bills in our Senate Committees which should have attention. He also said that the Senate Session should be continued until these bills have been considered. The conclusion or major part of his discussion was centered around the consideration of three or four bills that have to do with atomic power for peacetime uses within the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I wonder if the Senator would agree to an interrogation?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I wanted to ask the gentleman if there were other bills which should be considered? I take from the first part of his statement that there were a number of bills that should be considered, in addition to these three or four so-called atomic bills.

Mr. LANE. I would say to the gentleman from Cumberland that I have in my files upstairs a compilation of the various bills that have been submitted to the various committees. I think there are quite a number of bills in your Committee on Highways, Senator Wade. I will be glad to supply you with this information. I have a compilation of all these bills which have been referred to each committee here in the Senate. I would say, as an offhand guess, that we have at least 300 or 350 bills over here that we should at least review; the ones which were passed by the House.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman and I think he has answered the question very well.

I would like to ask him further if it would be possible for him to make a copy of his digest, or listing of these bills, so that the chairman of each of the Senate Committees might have a copy by next Monday. Perhaps, he could add a reason for the need of the particular bill as they are listed.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will be glad to supply the gentleman from Cumberland County with a compilation of all the bills. As a matter of fact, I have them set up whereby we have notations as to the committee they were referred to and the approximate date. I do not have an analysis of each particular bill. Of course, that would be a mighty big job. However, I feel that the Chairmen of the Committees should have a little responsibility. They should have the responsibility of looking at the number of the bill and then reading the bill. That way they can arrive at their own conclusions. They generally always do that anyway.

I will be glad to supply you with the information you desire, with the exception of a brief analysis which I do not have.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman.

I want to say for his information, however, that we had a rather lengthy committee meeting of the Committee on Highways. We have a number of bills in that committee, but I do not believe that we have a half dozen in that committee which we have not considered. For time immemorial, the practice around this Senate, and I think in the House of Representatives, has been to consider the bills and if they are deemed not to be necessary at that time, they are shelved, so to speak, by the committee and laid aside. If we are to continue in Session until each one of those bills are brought out to the floor and put on the Calendar and considered in that way, it would be necessary, I think, to provide two chairs for each desk. This Session would reach long into the next Session.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I did not say that we should remain in Session until each bill is brought out on the floor. What I did say was this. I said that we should remain in Session until we have considered the major portion of the bills that are now referred to committees. A number of these bills have passed the House. If they passed the House almost unanimously, there should be some merit to them. I do not insist that we act on every bill and have it reported out on the floor. We never did that and I do not expect that we ever will. However, I do say this. Although Senator Wade's committee may be an exception, rather than the rule by doing a lot of work, a number of the committees here in the Senate—I think you will agree—have not done their job so far.

We should go into these committee meetings, start holding them and consider these bills. When we want to discard them, let us kill them off or let us report them out. Let us not, however, close up the Session by just forgetting all about the bills that are now in committees here in the Senate. If we do that, we certainly are going to receive a lot more criticism.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, when it comes to sartorial spruceness, elegance and courtesy, I know of no one who can beat Senator Wade. In my opinion, he is second to none. I enjoyed very much attending yesterday a meeting of his committee. I had one of those pigeons or turkeys, or whatever you call them, but anyway he gave all the consideration to it.

Mr. President, there is one committee which, in my opinion, can be likened to a burial ground and I wonder whether we can put some life in it. I happen to have a lot of bills in that committee and I would like to see some action on them. I am speaking of the Committee on Judiciary General. Senator McPherson, whom I highly respect and who, if my eyes do not deceive me, has been promoted to a Commissionership, may be preoccupied with his duties in Washington. My question is, what will happen to the bills on which I labored. I burned my midnight oil working on them and now they are going to nothing.

I may say this. I am very proud to serve on the Committee on Local Government. I think Senator Stevenson is a scholar and a gentleman. He is giving consideration to each bill. Therefore, there will be no rush in his committee. However, some committees ought to meet around the clock and, at least, take action.

I do not want to see any of my bills remain in committee without action. If they are buried and pickled, they are buried. However, I want some pronouncement on them. My question is, what will happen to those bills, which run into the hundreds, not only my bills but other bills, which are in the Committee on Judiciary General. Will we get some action or not?

Therefore, Mr. President, I would ask Senator Wade to answer some of my questions.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WADE. I will agree to be interrogated, but I will not agree that I know the answers to the Senator's questions.

Mr. STIEFEL. It may sound a little bit out of line, but here is my question. Can Senator Wade use his influence, and his tact and felicity of expression in prevailing upon Senator McPherson, as a colleague on the other side, to call a meeting in which all the bills, now lingering in the Committee on Judicial General, will be considered?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the Senator paid me a very high honor when he implied that I have prestige or influence with the Senator from Adams County. However, I should like to tell him that the only Senator that I can cooperate with or influence in any other way is the other Senator, living in the Thirty-first District, Senator Barr of Allegheny County.

Mr. STIEFEL. Thank you, sir.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not going to hold the Senate in a long debate, but I would like to have just a little time. I would like to say that I have been working for two days, in the spare moments that I found, to prepare all of the bills that have passed the House and which are in Senate Committees. I have each Committee of the Senate in a separate envelope. By the next day, I hope to name one Member of each committee from this side and ask him to contact the chairman of the respective committee, in order that, between the chairman of the committee and the member from this side, they can arrive at some listing of bills on which we can operate or work before the end of the Session. If we do not do that, in my opinion, we will probably be floundering around for another five or six weeks. I am very hopeful that by doing this and with the coopeartion of the Republican Chairmen of the Senate Committees, we might be able to work for a target date of a couple of weeks for the final Sessions of this General Assembly.

If you can, I would appreciate it very much if you would give an appointment, you, as the chairmen, to the Member of the Senate who comes to you with this folder of bills that the Administration is interested in and other bills that are over here from the House and the reasons for the bills and the argument for their passage. If the chairman feels that such a bill is not to be taken up at this Session, he will just strike it off the list. It will save us a great deal of time and it will work out a schedule that we can get a target date for final adjournment.

Now, Mr. President, with permission of the Senate, I would like to read an article that appeared in a daily newspaper and one which I think is of grave importance. It is one that I believe is of such importance that this General Assembly ought to do something official about it.

Mr. President, this article appeared in The Pittsburgh Press on the editorial page and it contains a very good looking picture of Senator Mahany and one of Senator Dent. We are not objecting to the picture and I want the paper to know that. We thank them and we are also grateful that they spelled our names right. The substance of this editorial, in my opinion, is a dangerous interpretation of a great American freedom. It is a freedom that I would stand here or anywhere else to defend. I believe the service record of many of the Members of this Senate can testify to the fact that, as a former Senator used to say, "They bared their breasts to the weapons of the enemy in order that the freedoms that we hold dear may survive." I am sure that the Membership of this Senate feels that it, as a body or the Members as individual Senators and citizens, would never hesitate to fight that this particular freedom be held high, and that is the freedom of the press.

I have had on occasion remarks to make about this great American right and I do not think anybody can ever find in any of my utterances any derogatory remarks about the freedom itself. I have, I thought up until now, had the right to criticize what appeared in the press of the State. I thought that perhaps not only as a public servant but as a citizen I, too, enjoyed some rights. I enjoyed the right against false witness, if you please. I enjoyed that right just as much as a press enjoys the freedom of the press. To me it is just as important that we battle to maintain the freedom against false witness as we have the right to battle for the freedoms of the press.

Mr. President, let us see what a large metropolitan newspaper says about this freedom of mine, yours and every yet unborn child of the future generations that is contained in our way of life. Let us see wht they have to say. It is a criticism of Senator Mahany and Senator Dent, because they say we attacked the press on the floor. We did not. We attacked what the press carried as a statement. We felt that such a statement, being untrue, would add to what they called chaos. We felt that intemperate utterances on the part of a newspaper writer could damage the situation to such an extent that instead of fourteen months it could stretch on into eternity. I want to read you what the paper says:

"For the record, we can state that it is none of Mr. Dent's business—or Mr. Mahany's either—what any newspaper prints about them or the Legislature of which they are a part. Both the federal and state constitutions contain guarantees of freedom of the press. They accord to no official or no legislator the right to decide how freedom of expression shall be exercised.

"Newspapers have the right and duty to print the news objectively." We say "amen" to that. "They also have the right to color the news, to be biased, to be prejudiced and to be unfair, if they wish. No law can silence them, and some—like the Communist 'Daily Worker'—take full advantage of this freedom.

"The ultimate test of a newspaper is in public acceptance. If a newspaper serves the interests of its readers, informs them faithfully on the news of the day, gives them the honest information necessary to their understanding of events and maintains its editorial integrity, it can make a strong claim for public support."

Mr. President, we agree, we agree; "If a newspaper serves the interests of its readers, informs them faithfully on the news of the day, gives them the honest information necessary to their understanding of events and maintains its editorial integrity."

Now they say if a newspaper does that, it is fulfilling its public duty. How can a newspaper do that if it holds for itself the right to be above criticism and to reserve to itself the right to be prejudiced, to be unfair, to color the news and to be biased? If they are these things, how can they fulfill their contract to their own conscience when they say that a newspaper must give honest information necessary to their readers' understanding of the events and the problems? They say that is editorial integrity.

Certainly, Mr. President, we do not expect when an editor writes an editorial in a newspaper that all of us will agree with him. If he writes an editorial in the spirit of integrity, I am sure that our criticism would fall upon deaf ears. However, when they hold to themselves the absolute right to be above criticism, are they fostering and maintaining the strength of that inalienable right of freedom of the press? If they practice what they themselves preach to be their doctrine, are they not invading the other inalienable rights of the people to be served by this newspaper? If they publish to the people of this Commonwealth an untruth, a deliberate untruth, and can hide behind such an interpretation of their freedoms, how then can the people ever know the truth about the events or incidents that they are being informed about?

I do not expect to receive any editorial favoring my remarks today, Mr. President, and I go back to Mayor Walker's famous admonition when he said, "Never fight with a newspaper because they go to press too often." I know that, but then I go on back over the century and I think back to that little man, who I believe was named Zenger and who withstood the onslaught of all the criticism of his day, and even suffered in jail and his family starved and his business was sold out from over his head because he would not bow to the destruction of the freedom of the press. He laid in prison to guarantee the right that these people would pervert. He guaranteed the right of a press to criticize government, and men in government, and I stand for that foursquare, but he never guaranteed the right that it could be done in a perverted sense. He never guaranteed the right that it could be done, as they say it shall be done, unfairly, prejudiced and biased. No respectable newspapermen would ask for this right.

Oh yes, Mr. President, it is proper to write an article on the information they have. However, when that information is proven to be untrue, is it not also right for them to make a retraction? Is it not also right for them to correct their error? If I have been critical of a newspaper and have no foundation for my criticism, I will be the first to stand on this floor and apologize to that person who wrote it and to the person I criticized and to the editor or the newspaper itself. Can they be any greater in stature than to do the same, or must they hide behind an inalienable right that we all wish to keep guaranteed for them and to write on the grounds of bias, prejudice, untruth and unfairness?

Certainly, Mr. President, if they are misinformed and they write it, then the paper and the editor or the writer cannot be condemned. When they say they have an inalienable right and that no Member of the Legislature or anybody else has any business criticizing them, have we not reached the stage where they are endangering the very thing they are talking about protecting? They try to draw a comparison, if you please, between the remarks I made on the floor and Hitler, Peron and other dictators. Let us see what they say and I quote:

"Senator John H. Dent, minority floor leader, joined with Mr. Mahany in denouncing the press. He is quoted as saying:

" 'There is a difference between the freedom of the press to print news, and the freedom of the press to express that news in such a fashion that it is editorialized to their own benefit or some party, or some interest that they espouse.' "

Mr. President, I believed that when I said it and I believe it now. I do not believe, even if they claim that right, that they have a right to take a piece of legislation which is in the interest of the public and print a deliberate false account of that legislation in order that the people become enraged or aroused against a piece of legislation when the merits are not known to them. I still believe that the function of a newspaper is to be as truthful as it can possibly be.

The editorial then goes on to say:

"This has an ominous sound." They are referring to my remarks. "It is almost exactly, word for word, the way dictators like Hitler, Mussolini, Peron and various communist functionaries have justified the steps they took to extinguish the right of the people to know what is going on, through a free press. The fact that Mr. Dent saw fit to utter such sentiments on the floor of the Senate indicates that he needs re-education in the processes of democracy."

Mr. President, I have a faint suspicion as to the man who wrote this editorial, and I would like to put my record for democracy up against his. I would like to just take my record, both as a father, grandfather, laborer, businessman and a Members of his body, and I would like to have, with him, the same right and challenge him to a proposition that I write my interpretations of democracy in his editorial pages, line for line and word for word, and let us see who believes in the kind of democracy that I have stood willing to die for before and would be again. Let us see which one of us utters the words that ape the press of Mussolini, Peron and Hitler and the communists.

Let me ask this membership a question in all fairness. What is wrong with the press of these totalitarian countries? I will tell you what is wrong with it. They enjoy the right to print the news biased, prejudiced and unfair. That is what makes them so contrary to what we believe in. They have the absolute right to write anything they want and they are beyond criticism. If there are communistic and Hitlertistic and Fascistic doctrines being promoted or expersed, it is in that paragraph of this paper which says that they want the same rights enjoyed by the press of totalitarian governments. They want the right to write anything they want and if it is biased, it is their business and a right. If it is untruthful, it is their business and a right. If it is unfair, it is their business and a right. That is the way they write the newspapers in those countries and they, too, are beyond criticism. The only difference here is that they cannot get their long, sinewy fingers around Mr. Mahany's neck and mine physically like they can in these other countries.

Mr. President, I am saying this today and I am not caring one hoot what they write about me because, in my own mind and in my own heart and in my own conscience, I have absolutely no distrust of my Democratic feelings. I know that so long as there are men like Senator Mahany and your humble servant to raise their voice against prejudice, bias and untruth and to raise their voice in a legitimate criticism of the action of anybody, whether it be a newspaper, a corporation, a labor union or anyone else, then so long will the freedoms which are contained in the freedom of the press and the inalienable rights of citizens be contained in our way of life.

I only say to the editor of this paper, whoever is responsible for it, that if ever an enunciation was uttered that strikes at the very freedom of the individual, particularly to that individual's right and freedom against false witness, they have clearly written it here. I shall keep, if I can, this editorial, in order that my children and grandchildren will grow up, if I can help them to, with the same fierce feeling of love for freedom that my father gave to me.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, the early part of Senator Dent's talk was on this matter which we have been discussing at some length, the matter opened up by Senator Lane. I know that the casual visitor, or ever a Member of our Body, might receive the impression from his statement this afternoon, and others, that we, as Chairman of the Senate Comimttees, are prone to hold all bills in committee, and not give them any consideration.

Mr. President, I think that page 173 of the current Senate History, dated March 5th, would be beneficial to all of us. For the purpose of the record, I would like to point out that the Senate Bills passed in the Senate and sent to the House of Representatives total 288. The next category, Senate Bills passed in the House of Representatives, totals 167. In other words, just a few over half of the Senate Bills that were passed by this Body have been passed by the House.

We all are well acquainted with the fact that the House Committees are all chairmaned by members of the Democratic Party. I fail to find in the House History a similar analysis. It would be very interesting I think to have that. However, Mr. President, I did not want to let this matter that we were discussing go without pointing out the fact that we, in the Senate, do consider many bills. I think if Senator Lane sits down over the weed end, he will find that the bills which have not been brought to the floor of the Senate or from the various Senate Committees do not have, at least, State-wide merit.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it seems to be invariable that as soon as we start to talk about legislation, it becomes political. I did not have the thought in mind of criticizing the chairmen here because they are Republicans or of praising the chairmen in the House because they are Democrats. The point I am trying to make is this. We have a lot of bills over here which I think we should at least consider.

When Senator Wade quoted his figures here, it looks very good on paper. However, we do not know how many bills passed the House, which are House Bills, and came over here to the Senate. I think quite a lot came over here. I do not have the percentages. The way Senator Wade is trying to make it appear is that the Senate Bills which passed here and went over to the House seem to be greater than the House Bills. That may be correct; I do not know. Percentage wise, though, I believe the House has passed a lot more bills than what the Senate has and quite a lot of them are over here.

I am talking about getting the constructive legislation out, regardless of whether it is sponsored by Republicans or Democrats. After all, we want to get the legislation passed and I feel that each committee chairman should sit down, and I will supply them with the lists. They should look over the legislation and if they do not approve it, kill it. If it has merit, report it out and let us act on it. Let us not close up this Session of the Legislature in a hurry-up way because if we do, we are doing to make some terrible mistakes. That was the gist of my argument here today.

Mr. President, Senator Dent has advised me that he is going to appoint a number of persons on our side to contact the chairman over there, and sit down with them and give them the list of the bills. That is the idea.

Senator Wade, I wish to assure you that I was not thinking along political lines when I made my speech here today.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there is very little I can add to what Senator Dent has stated relative to our position in connection with newspaper stories which were circulated, charging us with having lobbyists, who pester people, come into our meeting that was held a week ago in my office, relative to our tax legislation. Even after Senator Dent and I denied that there were lobbyists in our office and attending this meeting, the next day the newspaper still insisted that there was something wrong. I notice that in the same newspaper to which I referred in my remarks at the time, the next day it had headlines: "Mahany-Dent Deny Visits By Lobbyists." Then, in the subtitle: "Pressure Boys just Disappeared Or So They Say."

Mr. President, there were a number of people at that meeting. We gave their names to the newspaper reporters. Had they desired to show that we were wrong or that we were falsifying our account of the meeting, they could have done so. They could have interrogated people who were there. They could have interrogated any of the people who were in my office and they would have found that they were definitely wrong about these people being at that meeting.

Then, Mr. President, they started to soften up a bit and said that they did not mean that they were in my room, but they saw these people come into a suite which is commonly known as "Committee Alley." They said that they went into a room there and the newspapermen just thought they had gone on back to my office. However, the editorial writers then took it up and in this same newspaper they had the editorial. The first paragraph is as follows,

"While the State Senate permits lobbyists to riddle with exemptions a three per cent sales tax, the citizens of Pennsylvania may reflect sorrowfully upon the lamentable inadequacy of their mental health facilities."

You see, a false story leads to somebody writing an editorial based upon the story which was false and, therefore, the editorial has a false base to it. That is the thing that worries me most. The newspapers, perhaps, take it for granted that they can color a story or they can slant the story or they can be unfair. However, they know that they cannot be untrue and have an untrue statement injure someone's character or their reputation. We have, on the books, libel laws and if someone comes out here and puts into a newspaper some statement that is false about me and that statement would tend to injure my reputation, character and cause me damage, I have a right to take that newspaper into court and sue it under the libel laws. Of course, we kind of let it go and get up here and say, "Well, rather than bring suit or anything such as that, we are just going to try to correct the story which appeared in yesterday's paper so that our people back home will not think that we are doing the things which are alleged in the newspapers."

I was not irate, although they said I was. I do not believe Senator Dent was. We were just trying to correct a false story which eminated from Harrisburg. We were then both hopped upon by the newspapers and they said that we were blowing off steam; we were doing all manner of things down here that were silly. I do not think we were silly at all. When I see a story in a newspaper relative to me that is untrue, one which I feel is unfair in its implications, then certainly I feel that I have the right to stand here in the only forum that I have available to me at this time and certainly contradict the story and say that it is untrue and ask that the same newspaper that printed the untrue story also take space to print a retraction, if it finds that its original story was untrue.

Mr. President, I feel that the fact that we did keep out newspaper reporters at that particular meeting, and all others, helped us in trying to solve this tax difficulty which we were in. We worked long and hard that afternoon in order to come up with what we thought was a solution to the tax problem. As it turned out, I think we did ninety per cent of the work which resulted in solving this tax problem at that particular meeting.

Then since that meeting and including yesterday, when we had conferences at the rear of the Senate, we had reporters on us everytime we got our heads out the door. I suppose they were trying to get a story that their editor was asking them to get and I do not blame them. However, we just cannot do our work properly if we have to spend so much time getting pulled around by people for stories as to what we are doing minute by minute. When we were in that conference room, I even looked up on several occasions and saw reporters jumping up as high as they could to peek in the window which looks into the conference room. They were trying to see who was there. Then every time I would come out, they would want to know everything we were doing; what did Dent say and was it true that the Governor said this or that, and what was I going to do and all such stuff as that. If we had taken time out to answer all those questions, we still would be there today. We would not have solved our problems.

Mr. President, I ask the newspaper reporters—and I have a lot of respect for them—to try to be a little bit more respectful to the Members of this Senate, to understand that they are trying to do a work for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to try to allow us to do that work so that we can do our jobs for the people. When we feel that there are stories that should go out relative to what we are doing and also when we feel that the questions they ask are pertinent to what we are doing, we will be happy to answer them. However, please give us an opportunity to do the work we were sent down here to do.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 50, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 50, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF MINES TO INVESTIGATE THE CAUSE OF MINE SUBSISTENCE IN THE BOROUGH OF FORTY FORT

In the Senate, June 29, 1955.

It has come to our attention that a mine subsidence of unknown cause and origin has occurred in a large part of the residential area of the Borough of Forty Fort, Luzerne County; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Mines be requested to make a thorough investigation of the cause, extent of damage and responsibility for the mine subsidence that has occurred in the Borough of Forty Fort, Luzerne County, and what steps can be taken to prevent further damage therefrom; and to report its findings and recommendations to the Senate at its present legislative session.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 50, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 78, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 78, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

URGING THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION MAKE A STUDY AND RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING PLANS OF ALL SCHOOL BUILDINGS BUILT WITHIN THE PAST FEW YEARS

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

The General Assembly is currently considering legislation increasing the total amount of reimbursable costs for the construction of public school buildings from $425,000,000 to $925,000,000.

It is of prime importance to the Commonwealth that school buildings be built as economically as possible consistent with efficiency and practicability.

In many instances certain phases of school construction do not always meet with the best requirements of the school districts. School officials and architects can well profit by the experience of the past. It becomes mandatory that information be collated and disseminated with respect to school building in view of the fact that the Legislature may increase the amount of reimbursable costs by $500,000,000.

Better schools would be built and in some instances at a great saving, if the information were made available to school districts and architects. This information may be best obtained by the Department of Public Instruction through the School Plant Division; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Public Instruction:

(1) Study the various plans of all school buildings built within the past few years.

(2) Send questionnaires to all architects and school districts involved in school building construction designed to elicit information with respect to the relative efficiency and operating costs of one-story and two-story buildings construction of gymnasiums and auditoriums, together with ideas on how they could be utilized in connection with other school programs, costs and efficiency of heating systems, time loss due to the moving of pupils from one room to another, the number, dimensions and types of entrances and windows as well as the dimensions of classrooms, unforeseen defects, general and specific maintenance costs and, in the light of their experiences, suggested changes in plans and specifications which would result in better school buildings.

(c) Collate the information, make a study thereof, and make it together with recommendations, available to the General Assembly and to school districts erecting school buildings.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 78, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 143, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 143, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE PENNSYLVANIA MORTGAGE SYSTEM

In the Senate, August 30, 1955.

Due to economic changes, the raising of the standards of living and the facility of financing the purchase of property for business and dwelling purposes, each year untold thousands of deeds and mortgages are left for recording with the recorder of deeds of the several counties of this Commonwealth.

As a result of the recording of this vast number of deeds and mortgages, the various offices of the recorder of deeds are being filled to capacity.

Our Legislature saw fit years ago to enact legislation providing for a "short form" deed which was designed to conserve space in the office of the recorder of deeds.

Many states have appropriate legislation, which provide a title abstract system and the incorporation of descriptions in conveyances which result in shorter deeds and mortgages.

Attorneys at law, financing institutions, public officials and the general public would be greatly benefited by legislation that would simplify the conveyancing and mortgaging of property; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate:

1. The various types of "short form mortgages" and the integration thereof into the Pennsylvania system of mortgaging property;

2. The establishment of abstract of title systems with respect to the ownership and conveyancing of property together with methods whereby descriptions of property may be incorporated into deeds and mortgages by reference to prior deeds; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 143, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 150, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 150, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

REQUIRING THAT PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS BE ESTABLISHED IN ALL PUBLIC SCHOOLS BY THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

In the Senate, September 26, 1955.

Recently, at a White House luncheon, the problem of the physical fitness of the youth of the United States was brought to the attention of the President of the United States in the form of a report given by Hans Kraus, M.D., Associate Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at New York University and Miss Ruth Prudden, Director of the Institute for Physical Fitness at White Plains, New York.

The President said that the problem is a very serious one and even more alarming than he had imagined.

According to studies and tests, the percentage of American youths who are physically unfit with respect to muscular strength and flexibility is any where from thirty-four per cent to forty-nine per cent higher than that for youths of European countries.

This condition has been brought about to a great extent by indulgent parents, unwillingness of children to participate in exercise and excessive use of buses, automobiles and television.

Our country will not long endure, as a leading power among great nations, if our youth is allowed to waste away and the time has come for us to attack the problem with a constructive program.

Our public schools are ideal places for carrying out a program of rehabilitating physically unfit youths. There, children may be made to engage in drills, calisthenics and exercises that will help to build healthy bodies; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Department of Public Instruction require that all public schools meet the present minimum requirements established by the State Council of Education.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 150, ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 16 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Concurrent Resolution No. 16, for consideration at this time.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

DELAWARE RIVER

In the House of Representatives, February 16, 1955.

The Delaware River has been an important factor in the development of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It has been used in the transportation of raw materials and products to and from the Commonwealth to all parts of the world.

Because of the size of sea-going vessels and the great volume of shipping, the Delaware River fails to meet present day needs and to play a greater part in the progress of this Commonwealth, the channel in the Delaware River should be deepened.

The Governor, George M. Leader, and the several members of Congress from Pennsylvania have worked diligently and with perseverance in soliciting the Federal Government to use its facilities and funds to deepen the Delaware River; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly commend the Governor of Pennsylvania, George M. Leader, and the members of Congress from Pennsylvania for the stand they have taken in the matter of the deepening of the Delaware River; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact legislation providing for the deepening of the Delaware River at Federal expense; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor of Pennsylvania, George M. Leader, the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 16 ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY, Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 1361 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 1361, entitled:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1693, Printer's No. 1011;

House Bill No. 1848, Printer's No. 1463; and

House Bill No. 1987, Printer's No. 1378.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

INTERROGATION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator McMenamin.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. McMenamin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McMENAMIN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator McMenamin, you and I and other Senators are interested in the Censor Board bill and we both are interested to see that this Session of the Legislature does not adjourn sine die until we do something relative to censorship of movies, books and other matter. I want to ask you the question whether or not the Administration has a bill, in either the House or the Senate, which they feel is constitutional and can stand the test of the courts in the light of the recent United States Supreme Court Decision and which will do the job of censoring motion pictures properly.

Mr. McMENAMIN. It is my understanding, Senator Mahany that House Bill No. 675, which is now in the Senate Law and Order Committee, was drafted by the Attorney General's Office, keeping in mind the United States Circuit Court Decision which invalidated a part of the old Pennsylvania act.

I understand that before this bill was drafted, our Attorney General's Office was in communication with the Attorneys General of Ohio and New York, who had similar legislation nullified by United States Courts and redrafted legislation to meet constitutional objections. I understand that this bill is drafted with that in mind. It is the thought of the Attorney General's Office that it meets the constitutional objections, in so far as it is possible to determine in advance which were expressed in recent Supreme Court cases.

I have tried to find out, and have not yet been informed, whether or not the new New York and Ohio acts have been tested in court. I am not sure about that. However, it is the belief of the Attorney General's Office that this bill, which is in the Senate Committee on Law and Order, in so far as is possible meets the constitutional requirements.

Mr. MAHANY. Then, Senator, from your information, I will try the first of next week, at least by Tuesday, to request Senator Watkins, who is the chairman of this committee, to hold a committee meeting and consider House Bill No. 675 and ask that he do all he can to see that this bill is released to us for consideration in the Senate so that we may have a censorship bill enacted.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. Mahany, I am sure that with your support, which has been constant on this matter for several months, we can look for some success in the near future and that will be good news not only to me but to the church groups, the moral groups and the thousands of mothers and fathers in Pennsylvania who are concerned about lewd and lascivious movies which their children might see.

JUNIOR CLASS OF PORTER TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, seated in the gallery is a rather large delegation from Reinerton, Pennsylvania. It is the Junior Class of Porter Township High School, under the leadership of Mr. Jack Heycock.

These folks are constitutents of Senator Wagner, who had to leave the Session a short time ago. Mr. Heycock is a former resident of the Thirty-first District. May I ask you, Mr. President, to extend the official greeting of the Senate to this fine group of constitutents of Senator Wagner?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is very happy that the constitutents of Senator Wagner, the Junior Class from Porter Township High School, are in attendance here today.

We are, indeed, happy that Mr. Heycock, their sponsor and a former resident of Senator Wade's District, is here and we welcome them all to the Senate halls today.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chairs hears none.

Messrs. McMENAMIN, DENT, WADE and DIEHM read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1023, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law," changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes.

which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1024, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 720), entitled "City State Highway Law," adding certain new routes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1025, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594), entitled "Rural State Highway Law," changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes.

which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 929 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 7, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 929, Printer's No. 535, entitled "An act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled 'An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws' providing for the exercise of discretion in the forfeiture and condemnation of property illegally possessed or used," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 169, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Rules, to which was referred resolution offered by Messrs. Mahany and Dent, on March 6, 1956, reported the same without amendment as follows:

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO DEVELOP AND ASSEMBLE CURRENT AND COMPREHENSIVE DATA RELATING TO THE IMPACT AND INCIDENCE OF ALL STATE AND LOCAL TAXES IN PENNSYLVANIA

In the Senate, March 6, 1956.

Whereas, It is frequently represented that Pennsylvania state and local taxes combined impose different burdens upon different types of business activity and different forms of business organizations and place Pennsylvania at a relative disadvantage as compared to other states in encouraging business activity; and

Whereas, It is frequently alleged that the burden of state and local taxes in Pennsylvania is distributed inequitably among individuals in different economic circumstances and falls unequally upon similarly circumstanced individuals; and

Whereas, Data currently available are inadequate to permit realistic and conclusive evaluation of these contentions; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to develop and assemble current and comprehensive data relating to the impact and incidence of all state and local taxes in Pennsylvania and such data on tax systems in other states as will facilitate valid comparisons with Pennsylvania, and report its findings to the General Assembly.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions reported from committee to lie over for one day, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—46

Barr,	Hays,	Mullin,	Taylor,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 7, 1956.

The House met at 10:00 a.m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, in these quiet moments we beseech Thee to cleanse and purify each one of us and make us instruments of Thine.

Grant that we may be:

Noble instead of ignoble;

Sincere instead of being glib;

Bold for the right instead of timid;

Staunch and unwavering instead of vacillating;

Peace loving instead of pugnacious;

Teachable instead of being impulsive and headstrong;

Enthusiastic rather than melancholy;

Extravagant in our love rather than resentful and peevish.

Lord, save us from ourselves and deliver us so that we may become memorable saints instead of memorable sinners. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal of Tuesday, March 6, 1956, will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 2008, Printer's No. 1425 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1219, Printer's No. 383, on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calender by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1226, as follows:

An Act requiring the State Treasurer and other State officials to deduct the tax imposed by any first class city upon salaries wages and other compensation paid to officers and employes of the Commonwealth residing within that city and to make a return and remit the tax so deducted to the Revenue Commissioner of the city

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer or other appropriate State official to deduct at the time of payment of the salary wage or other compensation to any officer or employe of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the exception of elected officials residing within any first class city the tax imposed by the city on the salary wage or other compensation due by the Commonwealth to any officer or employe thereof The State Treasurer or other appropriate State official shall on or before the last day of April July October and January of each year beginning with October 1955 make a return on a form furnished by or obtainable from the Revenue Commissioner of the city and pay to the Revenue Commissioner the amount of tax so deducted for the three months period ending on the last day of the month preceding

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request a slow roll call and only those present be entered on the roll.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I ask for an extension of five days on House Bill 1226 and ask the Speaker to have the bill go over.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am objecting to passing the bill over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

The Majority Leader has called this bill from the final passage postponed calendar for action.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. BELL filed the following reasons for his vote.

This bill extends the provisions of the unjust, discriminatory, and confiscatory Philadelphia Wage Tax. I condemn a tax which levies tribute upon the right of a working man to earn his daily bread. This is a tax on the right to have a job. A tax without representation.

What has happened to the principle so sacred to America's freedom, "no taxation without representation?"

I denounce a wage tax, a tax not based upon a man's ability to pay. Any extension of the grasp of the greedy tax monster of City Hall Philadelphia over the wages of non residents is to be condemned by all free men.

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 1379, Printer's No. 1196, on page 9 of today's calender, bills on final passage postponed.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I request that there be no further action on the calendar until this Committee returns.

The SPEAKER. The Committee has been given permission of the House to retire. The Chair would hold it would be within the province of any Member to object to procedure if there is not a constitutional majority present on the floor. If there is a constitutional majority present on the floor, a Member can ask that no bills be considered if the Majority Leader is so disposed. That arrangement can be concluded by mutual consent. The request of the gentleman from Blair of itself is not compelling unless acquiesced in by the respective Floor Leaders.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I suggest for the gentleman's information that Mr. Polen is about to ask for permission to address the House on some matter not relating to the calendar, and I presume this Committee will have returned before Mr. Polen has finished speaking.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, prolong his remarks, which I know he can do long enough so we can get back.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Governor today has authorized the Department of Public Instruction to send the warrants for the payment of the subsidies for the third class school districts to the Auditor General.

I know that will be good news to many of the Members who have been pressed by third class districts in their respective districts asking when they are going to receive their money.

It is anticipated when the warrants go over today that within the next twenty-four to forty-eight hours the checks will be on their way to the third class school districts.

I might state that making this move and approving the payment at this time will reduce the balance in the State Treasury below what is considered a safe figure, and both the fiscal offices and the Budget Director realize it, but at the same time the need for the payments to the third class districts is so great, and with the anticipated revenues we expect to receive during the month of March and the heavier receipts in the month of April, we feel we still will be able to have a sufficient balance to carry on the business of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Auker requested that I prolong my remarks until the Committee returned, but I see the gentleman—

The SPEAKER. The Chair might observe that the gentleman from the western part of the state is waiting and anxious to be recognized for the purpose of saying something or other.

Mr. POLEN. I was just going to state, Mr. Speaker, I note the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, is before the microphone, so I will close my remarks and I feel sure Mr. Johnson will prolong the matter until the Committee returns.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last evening I was referred to in the Senate as the "local yokel from McKean County." Just so they spell my name right, that's all I care about.

Mr. Speaker, I again want to say I am sure the various school boards in third class school districts and the teachers in the third class school districts will be very, very, very pleased to hear the news Mr. Polen has just imparted to us.

The most significant thing he had to say was his first sentence. He said, "I am happy to say that Governor Leader has just given the Department of Public Instruction—or, I believe the State Treasurer orders to start at once to pay the third class school districts." In other words, here is a public admission of the fact that nobody turns a hand on this Capitol Hill unless they get orders from the Governor.

I pointed that out sometime ago when we were arguing the bill whether the Governor should succeed himself, and I pointed out what a powerful chief executive we have in Pennsylvania by the very nature of the office in our state. The way we are set up constitutionally and the various Acts of Assembly we have passed make our Governor, not as an individual in his own right, but as Governor, probably one of the most powerful chief executives in the nation.

I have said here repeatedly at this microphone that back in October when we called the State Treasury and asked how much money there was in the bank, they reported, $40, $50 or $60 million, or whatever it was, and anticipated revenue of $30-some million to $40 million a month. When the query was asked, "Why haven't you paid the schools," the answer would always come back from the Treasurer's office, "If you fellows would pass the revenue bill, then we would get orders from the Governor's office to draw the checks and we would pay the schools."

In October, as you know, when we had the bill up and it was weighted down with amendments which you knew would kill the bill in the Senate, the schools were not paid.

I brought it up again in December, on December 22nd I think it was, when the bill was finally signed. We called the State Treasurer and wanted to know, "Are the checks going to roll to the schools?" They said, "If the Governor will give us orders to release the checks, the schools will be paid."

I have said repeatedly the reason the schools were not paid was not that you would reduce the cash balance of the state down to a dangerous minimum, I still say the reason for it was a deliberate delay in order to create chaos in Pennsylvania so that the finger of scorn would be put on the Republican Party who have been here trying in all sincerity to pass what we felt was a fair, sensible tax program for this great state of ours.

Finally I think the Governor was smoked out and he just simply had to release the checks to the fourth class districts. They could not hold out any longer in good conscience and good grace.

Today, finally, the third class school districts are getting their money. I am very glad to hear it. As I say, I think it has been an unconscionable delay. It could have been done long ago with absolute safety as far as the finances of the state are concerned, because there was no great emergency facing this state which would require an unusually large amount of cash at any given point. So, as I say, I am very pleased to hear the schools are being paid.

As a result of what we call a side bar conference here, I have received a list of the banks in Pennsylvania who have state funds on deposit. I believe the total for all funds in the banks throughout the state was some $79 million at a time when the banks were lending state funds to fourth class school districts, some of them at four per cent, some of them at five, and a great number of them at six per cent, when the state could have borrowed for one per cent, 1.2 per cent, in that area. So let us not say, let us not have it heard, that the state did not have the money. We had the money, or we had a great facility to borrow the money at cheap rates, so that our schools could have been paid on time.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, stated that the Governor could and did order the State Treasurer to make payment of these school subsidies. That is not correct. The Governor does not order the State Treasurer to make payment of anything. The State Treasurer makes the payments on warrants which are sent from the Department of Public Instruction.

What the gentleman says is true, in October the warrants could have been sent to the State Treasurer and he could have paid the subsidies due the fourth class school districts. But, Mr. Speaker, there would not have been any money left to run the other affairs of this Commonwealth, and the gentleman from McKean well knows it.

He says there is not any large amount of money due at any particular time. I do not know what he calls a large amount, but on the 29th day of February there was around $30 million in debt service due. I explained to him on previous occasions that we could not proceed any faster to pay the fourth class school districts until we knew with a good degree of certainty that we were going to have the funds available to make this debt payment, because we certainly could not default on our bonds and on the interest.

We did sell $27 million of tax anticipation notes. That amount was not sufficient to even pay the debt service. He speaks of $79 million, I believe that was the amount, which was in different banks in the Commonwealth.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean regarding that amount.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the funds the gentleman mentioned as being in different banks in this Commonwealth are in the General Fund of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. JOHNSON. No, Mr. Speaker, the sheet I have in front of me encompasses all of the various funds throughout the state.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman give me the amount that is in the General Fund deposited in banks of Pennsylvania from his figures?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, on close examination of this report, which I believe is required by law to be published by the State Treasurer, it gives the balance in the several funds at the close of business on November 30, 1955. It is currently being advertised now according to law. So any figures that I would give the gentleman from this sheet would be outdated.

I would venture to say from figures I have received from the Treasury Department in recent weeks that the sums now are even greater than they were back in November, particularly in the Motor License Fund, a fund from which we could with safety have borrowed within the last several months had the bill passed which we introduced on this side to permit that type of borrowing. So I must say that the $79 million figure that I gave was November 30, 1955. I again repeat that I think the figure would be greater as of today if we had the figures in front of us.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, although the figure is rather ancient as of this date in considering financial affairs, the question I asked the gentleman was how much of that $79 million deposited in banks was from the General Fund? That is the amount I would like to know.

Mr. JOHNSON. Before I give the gentleman this figure, I want to add a word of explanation.

This figure shows the balance in the General Fund, that is, the cash balance, on November 30th was $15.7 million, but in addition in the General Fund by reason of the purchase of Federal securities, as I stated here once before, in effect, the loaning of money to the Federal Government by the state, there were bonds purchased which ranged anywhere from $45 million to $60 million, depending upon the cash in what we shall call the "floating fund."

I know our State Treasurer in order to garner interest on what is considered surplus state funds generally purchases Federal securities, or loans the money to the Federal Government during interim, so they can get interim interest on idle funds.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry I do not have the figure in my possession, I have them upstairs, as to what money the state had loaned the Federal Government on December 1st. I have that figure upstairs, but I do not have it here. I know it is over $40 million and is closed to $60 million.

Mr. POLEN. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The gentleman is speaking about the Commonwealth loaning money to the Federal Government. The gentleman well knows, as everyone else knows, that the Commonwealth is not loaning money to the Federal Government. It has been a practice for many years that funds temporarily held in the State Treasury were invested in short term securities that do give an interest return and bring some money into the Commonwealth.

But as to $79 million being available, that is not correct. In any event, and we have been checking these balances daily to see if there would be any time when we could make these payments, you will find when you take into consideration that we have $30 million of debt service due there was not any time until we did pay these fourth class districts that it could have been done with any degree of security to the credit of the Commonwealth.

Those figures and that statement was not made by me, it was made by the fiscal officers of this Commonwealth. They say that a safe operating balance should be around $50 million, and by the gentleman's own statement the cash was down to $15 million, and I would say for his information at that time the temporary investments were about $30 million, so we had approximately $55 million available. If you take the $40-some-odd million off that was due, you can see to what extent the cash balance would be reduced.

At all times we must keep in mind that we have a stated obligation, the credit of the Commonwealth pledged for the payment of bonds and bond interest due at the last of February. We simply had to maintain a reserve sufficient that under all conditions we would not default upon the obligations of the Commonwealth.

I am not going to prolong this debate any longer. I think any Member of this House or the public who wants to check the daily balances in the State Treasury and check the receipts and ordinary expenses that go on from day to day—they are readily available—will find that at no time was it safe to have made the payments until such a time as we were certain of the sale of the tax anticipation notes to provide the funds necessary at the end of February to pay the bonded indebtedness and the interest on the indebtedness of the Commonwealth.

Mr. McCANN. I would like to have permission of the House to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the gentleman from McKean is aware of the payments that are due by law for the second and first class districts, the total and the date they were due?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the amounts due are a matter of public record and they are in our Journals. If the gentleman wants to state them, I will accept the figures, because I believe they are correct as he has previously given them to us.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean stated that the payments could have been made at the time they were designated. The first and the second class payments constitute $19 million, and the period we are in now, March, the second payment to the fourth class districts is due. Would the gentleman state to the House that in his opinion these payments could have been made, as he stated, on a given date according to the report that he received from the State Treasurer?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I am going to give you a rather lengthy explanation. I would say this, here we have the great state of Pennsylvania, our state government—as I previously stated there was $907 million of taxes on our books which would come into the coffers of this state whether we passed a tax program or whether we did not. I have repeatedly said, yes, there was not enough cash in the State Treasury to retire in full the obligation to our schools, but I said I did not think it was a bad idea, in fact, I think it is a good idea, for this great corporation that our state is to borrow, if necessary, $300 million during this period at a nominal rate of interest and pay it out to the school districts. I say that is good husbandry. That is good business.

All corporations borrow money during times when they are getting in heavy inventories. There is nothing wrong with borrowing money to do business in anticipation of future business.

Everybody in this state knew that eventually we would pass an adequate tax program, whether it was a sales tax or an income tax. We had bills offered which would have made it possible to have borrowed on tax anticipation notes, and bankers would have bought our notes. I noticed the last time the state borrowed the $30 million it was around 1.5 per cent the state paid for those.

For me to say there was cash enough in the till to pay those obligations which amounted to over $100 million, no, I could not say that. I said there was cash enough and there was certainly borrowing power enough, which could have been given them in three or four days' time, to have done the job and given the schools their money.

My local district, for instance, went to the local banks and I believe they said, "If you will borrow money from us on a period longer than a year or two years, something like that, we will give you a very attractive rate of interest. But when you come in here and borrow just a few thousand dollars for a short period of time, it will be six per cent." I believe that is what the interest rates were throughout the northern tier up there.

I believe I have made myself clear. I did not say that we had cash enough, but with the cash and with the great borrowing power of this state we could have paid our schools and saved all this hardship, all this trouble and all this turmoil in the state.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, to preside temporarily.

Mr. HELM IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean has made his statement, but time and time again the statements have been conflicting, as to the facts and figures presented to this House. I believe everyone in this House sincerely wants to pay, as well as every fiscal officer of this Commonwealth wants to pay, the obligations of the state when they are due.

You will have to admit it was absolutely impossible to meet those payments on any given date by the fact of the figures that were presented by the State Treasurer.

A moment ago a discussion was held regarding the $27 million which is the normal operating expense of this state in any given month. I believe every effort has been made—and I believe I have lived through this problem the worst that it has ever been and it has been rather rough living with it for many months.

I do not believe any of us should try to insert anything into the record except the facts as they are and present them in a true light. As to the statement regarding the amount of money in the General Fund in the banks, I would appreciate any time the gentleman is ready that he present that report as to the amount of money that is available.

This report, I am sure, would be the same report we have received from the State Treasurer. I believe the question can be answered at this moment as to the amount of money that is available from the General Fund.

I realize the third class district payments had to be delayed; the second and first class districts are delayed. Also, the fourth class district payments which are due this month on the second round will necessarily have to be delayed.

I think everything is being done, they are trying to have enough funds in the treasury to pay these obligations, realizing full well that they have been delayed many times in the past, but never as long as this.

I believe I would like to insert into the record that the facts be presented as they are and not be twisted at any given time for any particular purpose, particularly when they deal with school problems.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. LOVETT. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, is the rule of courtesy and honor between these two bodies the same in the House and the Senate?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair does not understand the question of the gentleman.

Mr. LOVETT. In other words, may I make this statement: If it is unfair, or unethical, or discourteous, in this House of Representatives to refer to a Senator in the Senate, or the Senate—I have noticed we have been calling it "the place" lately, not even the Senate, but call it "the place." I want to know if the rules of courtesy between these two bodies are the same, if they owe us the same courtesy in the Senate as we owe to the Senators in the House of Representatives?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under parliamentary procedure the Rules of this House apply to the operation of this House. Of course, we feel the same Rules should apply in the Senate.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I thank you.

I just wanted to say I have noticed lately that we are ruled out of order, ruled as being discourteous to the Senators, when we refer to them by name.

I sat in the Senate last evening and as Mr. Johnson stated, "Mobile," "Mobile something," Mr. Johnson from McKean County. I also heard Candidate Smith being referred to in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Now, if the courtesy exists between the two Houses, I certainly feel if we extend that courtesy to them, they should extend it to us as Members of the Legislature.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1753 entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 8, 1941 (P. L. 288) entitled "An act relating to the extradition of persons charged with crime and to make uniform the law with reference thereto" enlarging the power of the court on habeas corpus

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that only those answering to their names be recorded. I may ask for a verification.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. At the request of the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, only those Members answering to their names will be recorded.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I believe this bill originated because of extradition proceedings that were instigated through some one of the southern states, North Carolina or Georgia, it does not matter which, on the return of a criminal to that state. It largely devolved around the treatment by that state—

Mr. READINGER. May I request that the gentleman yield for a question?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Auker, yield to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger?

Mr. AUKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he would object to this bill's being passed over until we have a full membership so they can hear his remarks on the bill?

Mr. AUKER. No objection, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Then I request the bill be passed over.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair withdraws its decision as to this bill having been passed on third reading.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1753, Printer's No. 1420

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1782, Printer's No. 1114

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1801 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous permission to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, during this entire session I do believe the Majority Leader has had quite a job on his hands. He has had sometimes an unruly majority and sometimes no majority at all.

Just recently a friend of mine, who is also very well acquainted with the Majority Leader, happened to see something which reminded him very much of the Majority Leader. It was a little cowboy riding a horse. He said, "I can see Al Readinger with his spurs dug in riding and holding on there and really doing a job." And he said, "I remember when he gave you that little bear with a cymbol that you have there on your mantel in the office that claps every day as you walk in."

So we have a little gift here which we would like to present to the Majority Leader and we hope he will wind it up for the benefit of the Members, just show them how it works.

I might suggest that if the Majority Leader will lift the horse's tail up it works much better, it bucks a lot more.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I fear I am going to be embarrassed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, hold it up so the Members can see how it works?

Mr. READINGER. I certainly will. I am trying to figure out how it is operated.

Mr. Speaker, I hope the Chair will indulge me while I play with this for a moment.

Mr. Speaker, I am deeply indebted to the Minority Leader for this beautiful gift. It puts that monkey to shame that I gave him.

I do not know whether you can see this cowboy riding a donkey or not, but I am glad he is fixed on good and solid or he would be like me, all over the lot, the way things have been going up here.

I do wish to say thanks for the thought and consideration of the Minority Leader and to assure him I hope I can keep those spurs dug in real deep until we adjourn sine die.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would like to inquire of the Majority Leader whether it is a bucking bronco or a jubiliant Democratic donkey?

Mr. READINGER. The latter.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1809, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" providing for the release of land subdivision improvement encumbrances in certain instances

Section 1 Section 4005 act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932) known as "The Third Class City Code" reenacted and amended June 28, 1951 (P. L. 662) is amended to read

Section 4005 Approval of Plans of Building Lots Conflict of Jurisdiction All plans plots or re-plots of lands laid out in building lots and the streets or other portions of the same intended to be dedicated to public use or for the use of purchasers or owners of lots fronting thereon or adjacent thereto and located within the city limits or for a distance of three miles outside thereof shall be submitted to the city planning commission and be approved by it before it shall be recorded No plan plot or re-plot shall be received or recorded in any public office unless the same shall bear thereon by endorsement or otherwise the approval of the city planning commission as required by law The disapproval of any such plan by the city planning commission shall be deemed a refusal of the proposed dedication shown thereon

Where the plans plots or re-plots have been approved by the city planning commission purchasers and mortgagees of lots within the plans with or without buildings thereon or on any of them shall be relieved of any and all liability for any deficiency in lack of or failure to complete the improvements as set out in said plans plots or re-plots and any failure to complete or properly complete said improvements shall not encumber any or all of the lots of the subdivision

The approval of the commission shall be deemed an acceptance of the proposed dedication but shall not impose any duty upon the city concerning the maintenance or improvement of any such dedicated parts until the proper authorities of the city shall have made actual appropriation of the same by acceptance entry use or improvement No sewer water or gas main or pipes or other improvement shall be voted or made within the area under the jurisdicition of said commission for the use of any such purchasers or owners nor shall any permit for connection with or other use of any such improvement existing or for any other reason made be given to any such purchasers or owners until such plan is so approved Where the jurisdictional limit of three miles outside of the city limits as provided in this section may conflict with the zone of similar character connected with another municipality the jurisdiction of said commission shall extend only to the point equidistant between the city limits and the limits of said municipality

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1810, as follows

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1927 (P. L. 1011) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one creating a department of city planning providing for its organization and powers regulating the platting of ground prohibiting the recording of plans and sales of lots therein before their approval under penalties making it a misdemeanor for the recorder of deeds to record an unapproved plan restricting accepting laying out opening and improving private streets prohibiting the erection of buildings on land not abutting on public streets not shown on the official master plan or an approved plat transferring to the department of city planning powers conferred by other statutes over plats or subdivisions of land the reservation of locations of mapped streets for future use and authorizing the assessment of damages for same the preparation and compilation of an official street map providing penalties for the violation of this act and repealing certain statutes" providing for the release of subdivision improvement encumbrances in certain instances

Section 1 Section 10 act of May 3, 1927 (P. L. 1011) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one creating a department of city planning providing for its organization and powers regulating the platting of ground prohibiting the recording of plans and sales of lots therein before their approval under penalties making it a misdemeanor for the recorder of deeds to record an unapproved plan restricting accepting laying out opening and improving private streets prohibiting the erection of buildings on land not abutting on public streets or streets not shown on the official master plan or an approved plat transferring to the department of city planning powers conferred by other statutes over plats or subdivisions of land the reservation of locations of mapped streets for future use and authorizing the assessment of damages for same the preparation and compilation of an official street map providing penalties for the violation of this act and repealing certain statutes" amended May 11, 1939 (P. L. 123) is amended to read

Section 10 Platting Regulations Before exercising the powers referred to in section nine the planning commission shall adopt general regulations governing the subdivision of land within its jurisdiction Such regulations may provide for the proper arrangement of streets in relation to other existing or planned streets and to the master plan for adequate and convenient open spaces for traffic utilities access of fire-fighting apparatus recreation light and air and for the avoidance of congestion of population including minimum width and area of building lots

Such regulations may include provisions as to the extent to which streets and other public ways shall be graded and improved and to which water and sewer and other utilities mains piping or other facilities shall be installed as a condition precedent to the approval of the plat The regulations or practice of the commission may provide for a tentative approval of the plat previous to such installation but any such tentative approval shall be revocable and shall not be entered on the plat In lieu of the completion of such improvements and utilities prior to the final approval of the plat the commission may accept a bond with surety to secure to the city the actual construction and installation of such improvements or utilities at a time and according to specifications fixed by or in accordance with the regulations of the commission The city is hereby granted the power to enforce such bond by all appropriate legal and equitable remedies

All such regulations shall be published and be available for distribution upon request

Where the subdivision plan has been completed as tentatively approved and the plat has been finally approved by the commission or if prior to completion of such improvements and utilities and final approval of the plat a bond with surety to secure the city the actual construction and installation of such improvements and utilities has been accepted by the commission subsequent purchasers and mortgagees of lots in the subdivision with or without buildings thereon or on any of them shall be relieved of any and all liability for any deficiency in lack of or failure to complete the improvements and utilities above mentioned as set out in said plat or required as a condition precedent to the approval of the plat and any failure to complete or properly complete such improvements and utilities shall not encumber any or all of the lots of the subdivision Final approval of the plat by the commission shall be considered as proof that the improvements and utilities have been completed and accepted by the commission or that a lawful and adequate bond with surety has been approved and accepted

In exercising its said powers the planning commission shall take into consideration the local conditions of the particular district affected by the proposed subdivision of land the existing buildings or improvements on adjoining or adjacent land and the building line established or observed thereon the extent of the use of any streets or highways upon which the proposed subdivision abuts by motor or other vehicles and pedestrians and the effect of the proposed subdivision upon the public welfare with particular reference to the district of which the proposed subdivision is a part and irrespective of the minimum requirements of any zoning regulations shall disapprove any subdivision which would be detrimental to such public welfare

Agreably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1989, as follows:

An Act adopting an interpleader compact for the complete and expeditious adjudication of adverse claims to property in the hands of a stakeholder where one or more claimants are in different jurisdictions and entering into the compact with other states territories and possessions of the United States and the District of Columbia that adopt the compact and are acceptable to this Commonwealth for the purposes of the compact

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Interpleader Compact Law"

Section 2 The following interpleader compact is hereby approved ratified adopted and entered into by this Commonwealth as a party to take effect between this Commonwealth and any other state or states of the United States of America when entered into in accordance with the terms of the compact by the other state or states and not disapproved by the Governor of this Commonwealth under paragraph (c) of article seven of the compact

The Interpleader Compact

The contracting states solemnly agree

Article 1 Purpose The aims of this compact are to promote comity and juicial cooperation among the states party thereto and to relieve from undue risk and uncertainty a person who may be subject to double or multiple liability because of the existence of adverse claimants one or more of whom in the absence of this compact may not be subject to the jurisdiction of the adjudicating court when such person makes all reasonable efforts to secure judicial determination and discharge of his liability

Article 2 Definitions For the purpose of this compact the following definitions shall apply

(a) A state shall mean (1) a state of the United States or any territory or possession of the United States and the District of Columbia acting under Article 1 Section 10 clause 3 of the Constitution of the United States in entering this compact with an American or a foreign jurisdiction or (2) a state of the community of nations and any component governmental unit of such a state which under the laws thereof may validly become party to this compact

(b) A person shall include any entity capable of suing or being sued in the state in which the interpleader is pending

(c) Interpleader shall mean a judicial procedure by which two or more persons who have adverse claims against a third person may be required to litigate these claims in one proceeding

Article 3 Service of process (a) Service of process sufficient to acquire personal jurdisdiction may be made within a state party to this compact by a person who institutes an interpleader proceeding or interpleader part of a proceeding in another state party to this compact provided that such service shall fulfill the requirements for serve of process of the state in which the service is made and provided further that such service shall meet the minimum standards for service of the jurisdiction where the proceeding is pending

(b) No such service of process shall be valid unless either (1) The subject matter of the proceeding is specific real property or tangible personal property situated within the state in which the proceeding is pending or (2) One or more of the claimants shall be either a permanent resident or domiciliary of the state in which the proceeding is pending or (3) A significant portion of the transaction of which the proceeding shall have arisen shall have taken place in the state in which the proceeding is pending or (4) One of the claimants shall have initiated the action

Article 4 Scope of interpleader unaffected Nothing in this compact shall be construed to change any requirement or limitation on the scope of interpleader of the state in which the interpleader proceeding is pending except in relation to acquisition of personal jurisdiction

Article 5 Finality of judgment No judgment obtained against any person in any proceeding to which he had become a party by reason of service of process effected pursuant to the provisions of this compact shall be subject to attack on the ground that the adjudicating court did not have personal jurisdiction over such person

force and effect as to a state one year from the date it it has taken whatever action may be necessary pursuant to its required processes to make this compact part of the laws of such state and the appropriate authority of such state shall have deposited a duly authenticated copy of its statute proclamation order or similar official pronouncement having the force of law and embodying this compact as law with the appropriate officer or agency of each of the states party thereto In the statute proclamation order or similar act by which a state adopts this compact it shall specify the officer or agency with whom the documents referred to in this article shall be deposited

(b) Unless the statute proclamation order or similar act by which a state adopts this compact shall specify otherwise and name the states with which the state intends to compact such adoption shall apply to all other states then part to or who may subsequently become party to this compact In the event that a state shall enter this compact with some states but not with others the deposit of documents required by paragraph (a) of this article shall be effected only with those states to which the adopting state specifies an intention to be bound

Article 7 Withdrawal (a) This compact shall continue in force and remain binding on a party state until such state shall withdraw therefrom To be valid and effective any withdrawal must be preceded by a formal notice in writing of one year from the appropriate authority of that state Such notice shall be communicated to the same officer or agency in each party state with which the notice of adoption was deposited pursuant to article six of this compact In the event that a state wishes to withdraw with respect to one or more states but wishes to remain a party to this compact with other states party thereto its notice of withdrawal shall be communicated only to those states with respect to which withdrawal is contemplated

(b) Withdrawal shall not be effective as to service of process accomplished pursuant to this compact prior to the actual date of withdrawal

(c) Any state receiving a notice of adoption from another state may by action of its executive head within a year from the receipt of such notice in the manner provided for withdrawal in paragraph (a) of this article specify its intention not to be bound to the state depositing such notice and such adoption thereupon shall not be binding upon the state so acting

Article 8 Severability and construction The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase clause sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or in the case of a component governmental unit to the constitution of the state of which it is a part or the applicability thereof to any government agency person or circumstances is held invalid the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government agency person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby provided that if this compact shall be held invalid or contrary to the constitution of any government participating therein the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining governments and in full force and effect as to the government affected as to all severable matters It is the intent that the provisions of this compact shall be reasonably and liberally construed

Section 3 The Secretary of the Commonwealth is hereby designated as the officer to receive all documents deposited pursuant to article six and seven of the interpleader The Secretary of the Commonwealth is also directed to act as the repository for all such documents and to keep and make available upon request a complete list of the states with which this Commonwealth is party to the interpleader compact together with such other information as may be in his possession concerning the status of such compact in respect to enactment and withdrawals therefrom

Section 4 As used in paragraph (c) of article seven of the interpleader compact the phrase "executive head" shall mean the Governor of this Commonwealth In the event that the Governor takes any action pursuant to paragraph (c) of article seven of the interpleader compact he shall promptly notify the Secretary of the Commonwealth and shall deposit with him copies of all official communications and documents relating to the action

Section 5 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1996, Printer's No. 1389 and

House Bill No. 2011, Printer's No. 1394

were passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2044 as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" decreasing the size of the grouping for purposes of furlough

Section 1 Section eight hundred two of the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employes of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (1951-52 P. L. 1636) is amended to read as follows

Section 802 Furlough In case a reduction in force is necessary in the classified service no employe shall be furloughed while any probationary or provisional employe is employed in the same classification and no probationary employe shall be furloughed while a provisional employe is employed in the same classification An employe shall be furloughed only if at the time he is furloughed he is within the lowest [quarter] tenth among all employes of the employer in the same classification on the basis of their last regular service ratings and within this [quarter] tenth he shall be furloughed in the order of seniority Provided That the appointing authority may limit the application of this provision in any particular instance to employes in the same classification with headquarters at a particular municipality county or administrative district of the Commonwealth

A furloughed employe shall have the right of return to any classification and civil service status which he previously held provided such classification is contained in the current classification plan of the agency or to any classification and civil service status in the same or lower grade provided that he meets the minimum qualifications given in the classification plan of the agency The appointing authority shall promptly report to the director the names of employes furloughed together with the date the furlough of each is effective and the character of his services Under the rules a permanent employe furloughed shall for a period of one year be given preference for reemployment in the same class of position in the department from which he was furloughed and shall be eligible for appointment to a position of a similar class in other agencies under this act provided that in case of a promotion of another employe such preference shall not be effective if it necessitates furloughing such other employe

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2046 as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public

Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses as provided by the Public Assistance Law and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the Department of Public Assistance for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five and for the payment of assistance and administrative expenses attorneys' fees and court costs accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

Section 2 Out of the moneys appropriated by section 1 of this act the Department of Public Assistance shall allocate funds from time to time for the several assistance programs (old age assistance aid to dependent children pensions for the blind general assistance and other programs provided by the Public Assistance Law) for administrative expenses of the several county boards of assistance for such administrative expenses incurred by the department which are chargeable to such boards and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department

Section 3 Out of the moneys appropriated by section 1 of this act there is hereby allocated to the Treasury Department the sum of one hundred fifty-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($157,500) and to the Department of the Auditor General the sum of eighty-four thousand dollars ($84,000) to pay the administrative expenses of said department in auditing and disbursing the appropriation made by this act

Section 4 The amount of money expended out of the appropriation made hereby shall be deducted from the general biennial appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Highways for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 148

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 18 of today's calendar, Senate Resolution Serial No. 148.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the Senate, September 19, 1955.

Bridges over the Delaware River present an ever increasing problem greatly augmented by the flow of traffic from the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes.

While the area north of and within the limits of the City of Philadelphia are being well provided for, the traffic normally bearing south of the city continues to be compelled to find a crossing through city traffic in Philadelphia or to travel further, below the City of Wilmington; thereforde be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Delaware River Port Authority be requested to give serious consideration to the urgent need for a bridge over the Delaware from a point in Delaware County, Pennsylvania to a point opposite in the State of New Jersey, and to that end to make an engineering survey and an exhaustive study of the traffic that could and normally would use the bridge, and to report in detail to the General Assembly at its 1957 session, the results of its survey and studies.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 151

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 18 of today's calendar, Senate Resolution Serial No. 151.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the Senate, September 27, 1955.

The name of Pennsylvania was given to the colony of William Penn and inherited by the Commonwealth because of the verdant forests that once covered its territory But indifference or lack of foresight to the future weal in years past rapidly denuded Pennsylvania's hillsides of its trees; and carelessness and indifference to the value of second growths permitted repeated fires to ravage the cut-over area and to scorch the earth into a state of ugliness and unproductivity, robbing the land of its protecting forest growth.

A bleak and uninviting example of this catastrophe was what is now the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County when Raymond B. Winter was sent there as a forester in 1910. The area was a charred wilderness of dead brush, stumps and a mud hole formerly a saw mill dam.

During his forty-five years of service there, Mr. Winter transformed the area into one of Pennsylvania's outstanding beauty spots. With far-sighted planning and tireless efforts he understook the task of rehabilitation. His early days in the area were devoted to fire control and prevention, tree planting, road and trail building and gradually a little recreational work for the local people, which later, with the help of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the early thirties and later improvements developed into a State Forest park of four hundred acres with a concrete and stone masonry dam on the site of the former saw mill dam, presently known as the Half-Way State Forest Park. And today the Bald Eagle Forest is an established and thrifty forest.

That Bald Eagle is one of the finest and best preserved forest districts in the State today is due mainly to the diligent and conscientious work of Mr. Winter; therefore be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the recreational area in the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County now known as Half-Way State Forest Park be renamed Raymond B. Winter State Forest Park in lasting tribute to his untiring work in conservation.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. LIGHT. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, last evening following the vote on the sales tax Conference Report the newsman who represents my home paper asked me for a statement on my vote. I said this, after fourteen months' endeavor to find money for the support of Pennsylvania's schools, hospitals and welfare needs, a selective form of sales tax was the final answer.

I voted for this tax plan, believing it will provide the necessary money. To my great surprise, this morning the Press carried my name as voting against the Conference Report.

I have no idea whether this can be corrected in the Journal, but I want to say to the Members of the House, that I keep tally on many of the votes and I did especially on this one yesterday. As the vote proceeded coming down the line, when the Clerk came to the name Leven, the gentleman from Philadelphia whose name is just ahead of mine, Mr. Leven voted rather silently "aye". Then the Clerk called the second time for Leven and he voted "no," then the Clerk hurriedly called Light, and I voted "yes."

There must be a mistake on the part of the record. In speaking to the newsmen this morning, they say that they found the facts just as they reported them.

I conferred with the Minority Leader, Mr. Charles C. Smith, who showed me a copy of the tally sheet that was submitted to him by the Chief Clerk, and thereon there is a mark for Leven as "aye" and then cancelled and another mark to the right, and also a mark marking me as "no."

The question in my mind is, can the Chief Clerk correct it? I think it should be corrected for this reason, there were 123 votes for the tax measure as the record stands, and my vote should be counted for the tax measure because I voted for that measure.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light, there is no way under our Rules that the record can be corrected.

However, the remarks of the gentleman are correct and the error was made, I believe, in exactly the way he stated it.

The remarks of the gentleman under the question of personal privilege will be spread upon the record in full.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1873, Printer's No. 1456 together with the communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1873.

An Act to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 789) entitled as amended "An act relating to insurance establishing an insurance department and amending revising and consolidating the law relating to the licensing qualification regulation examination suspension and dissolution of insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges and certain societies and orders the examination and regulation of fire insurance rating bureaus and the licensing and regulation of insurance agents and brokers the service of legal process upon foreign insurance companies associations or exchanges providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by changing provisions relating to certain legal proceedings.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is required.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 3, page 8, line 16, by inserting after the word "thereof" the following: "to the extent that such policyholders are liable to such assessment".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1944, Printer's No. 1448 together with communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1944.

An Act to amend the act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (1951-1952 P. L. 28) entitled "An act relating to the civil defense of this State and its coordination with national defense providing for the establishment of a State Council of Civil Defense local and distrct councils of civil defense Mobile Support Units prescribing the powers duties and immunities thereof and of their pernonnel authorizing mutual aid compacts and providing penalties" by authoring the State Council of Civil Defense to make rules and regulations

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 3, by striking out after the word "advisable" the following: Such rules regulations and orders adopted by the State Council of Civil Defense shall have the same force as if they formed a part of this act

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the Chair how many official leaves of absence were granted Members this week?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will inquire of the Chief Clerk.

The Chair has been informed that there have been four official leaves of absence requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I note from the roll call today that there are 51 persons not present. I believe we now have 207 Members who are still serving in this House, and we had roll calls which, if my recollection is correct, total 156, indicating that 51 of our Members did not vote. Taking off the four leaves of absence leaves us 47 persons who are absent today without leave.

I would like to call to the attention of the House the fact that some 30 bills were passed over today because we do not have the Members present to vote on them.

Last week a letter was sent to every Member advising them to be prepared to stay here three working days this week. This was supposed to be a working day. We have many bills on this calendar which have been on for weeks, some for months, important bills. Any bill which is reported from Committee is important to some people and they are entitled to consideration.

What we can do about this continual absenteeism, I do not know. If the Members want to get out of this session permanently on sine die adjournment by the beginning of April, they are simply going to have to come back here and stay when they are asked to work three days a week.

Normally, we have about two weeks at the end of a session when we are here five days a week, and usually we have hundreds and hundreds of bills being processed in a very short period of time. We have been trying to avoid that this session. We have been trying to come to an orderly, sensible conclusion voting on bills we understand, bills we have time to read, but if the Members persist in absenting themselves as they have today without leave, without notice, without anything other than their own desires to go back home when they choose to go back home, we will probably be here until the middle of August.

I do wish that our Members would cooperate better when we advise them and ask them to stay here for three working days. When we have a lot of work to do, I do wish they would stay.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. AUKER from the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2029, entitled:

An Act amending "The Fish Law" of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, approved May 2, 1925 (P. L. 448), excluding the provisions thereof the operation of and fishing from temporary water tanks in connection with sportsman's shows.

Mr. MOODY from the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2065, entitled:

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2065, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law," approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), further regulating the issuance of antlerless deer licenses, and imposing penalties for the unlawful issuance thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the first time.

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened with a great deal of interest to what the Majority Floor Leader had to say about absent Members, particularly when we were warned that this week would be three full working days. I heartily concur in everything he said.

If I think next week as I do right now, I will object to any bill going over next week regardless of any reason whatsoever.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, following Mr. Auker's remarks and following the Majority Leader's remarks, there are quite a few of us who have sacrificed time all through these fifteen months. We have been here, we have tried to be faithful, but other people have not made that sacrifice. Others think they should go home and earn their livelihood.

I would like to add my little two cents worth, or maybe this morning we should say three cents worth, because all of us should back up our Leaders. We should be here and we should move this legislation.

Next week I would like to find out if there is some constitutional way we can stop putting off proposed legislation so that we can get our job done. Representative Auker and I are just as busy in our civilian engagements, civilian endeavors, as a lot of the absentees.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mrs. KOOKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I think it might be well if the men of the House would emulate the attendance record of the women. Then I am sure our Leaders would not have to get up and beg for cooperation. We are here, and they could be here just as well. We have many duties back home that need our attention, but we took the job and we intend doing the job until it is finished.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, March 12, 1956 at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:50 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1956. No. 151.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 12, 1956

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast permitted us again to meet for the work of this week.

As we look back and see how Thou hast written history in the centuries gone by, we pray that Thou wilt realize that we, in our time, are writing the history of the future. May we be guided by Thy hand, so that the future will redound to Thy Honor and Glory. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. RUTH, further reading was dispensed with, and Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. DERK, for the week, due to illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. MILLER, for the week, due to illness.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. At this time, the Chair invites the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, to the rostrum to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Robert D. Fleming) in the Chair.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 148

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

REQUESTING THE DELAWARE RIVER PORT AUTHORITY TO GIVE CONSIDERATION TO THE NEED FOR A BRIDGE OVER THE DELAWARE RIVER AND TO MAKE A REPORT

In the Senate, September 19, 1955.

Bridges over the Delaware River present an ever increasing problem greatly augmented by the flow of traffic from the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes.

While the area north of and within the limits of the City of Philadelphia are being well provided for, the traffic normally bearing south of the city continues to be compelled to find a crossing through city traffic in Philadelphia or to travel further, below the City of Wilmington; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Delaware River Port Authority be requested to give serious consideration to the urgent need for a bridge over the Delaware from a point in Delaware County, Pennsylvania to a point opposite in the State of New Jersey, and to that end to make an engineering survey and an exhaustive study of the traffic that could and normally would use the bridge, and to report in detail to the General Assembly at its 1957 session, the results of its survey and studies.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 151

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

REQUESTING HALF-WAY STATE FOREST PARK BE RENAMED RAYMOND B. WINTER STATE FOREST PARK

In the Senate, September 27, 1955.

The name of Pennsylvania was given to the colony of William Penn and inherited by the Commonwealth because of the verdant forests that once covered its territory. But indifference or lack of foresight to the future weal in ears past rapidly denuded Pennsylvania's hillsides of its trees; and carelessness and indifference to the value of second growths permitted repeated fires to ravage the cut-over area and to scorch the earth into a state of ugliness and unproductivity, robbing the land of its protecting forest growth.

A bleak and uninviting example of this catastrophe was what is now the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County when Raymond B. Winter, was sent there as a forester in 1910. The area was a charred wilderness of dead brush, stumps and a mud hole formerly a saw mill dam.

During his forty-five years of service there, Mr. Winter transformed the area into one of Pennsylvania's outstanding beauty spots. With far-sighted planning and tireless efforts he undertook the task of rehabilitation. His early days in the area were devoted to fire control and prevention, tree planting, road and trail building and gradually a little recreational work for the local people, which later, with the help of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the early thirties and later improvements developed into a State Forest park of four hundred acres with a concrete and stone masonry dam on the site of the former saw mill dam, presently known as the Half-Way State Forest Park. And today the Bald Eagle Forest is an established and thrifty forest.

That Bald Eagle is one of the finest and best preserved forest districts in the State today is due mainly to the diligent and conscientious work of Mr. Winter; therefore be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the recreational area in the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County now known as Half-Way State Forest Park be renamed Raymond B. Winter State Forest Park in lasting tribute to his untiring work in conservation.

Mr. BLASS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1029, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3), entitled "Uniform Commercial Code" further regulating filing with respect to perfecting security interests.

Which was committed to the Committee on Banking.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR JOHN H. DENT AND HONORABLE CHARLES L. LATHERO

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, throughout the years, we have birthdays that come and go. However, last Saturday happened to be the birthday of two gentlemen from this group and I do not think they should be left unnoticed. My colleague from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, had a birthday and our great Senate Librarian, Mr. Lathero, had a birthday.

After talking with some of my colleagues, I feel that it is not too late yet for this group to hold a dinner at these two gentlemen's expense. Therefore, Mr. President, I thought I would bring it to their attention.

Senate Dent is very busy right now, although he may stop for a moment. However, I want to repeat that his birthday and the birthday of Mr. Lathero have come to my attention. In talking to my Republican and Democratic colleagues, we feel that it is not too late yet for us to have a nice steak dinner, having Senator Dent and Mr. Lathero pick up the tab

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have discussed the matter of this invitation for a steak dinner with Charlie Lathero. Now we each usually have our plans made at least two or three weeks in advance and if John Haluska can tell me at this moment when the Session is going to end, we will have the dinner that night.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That sounds like a very fine offer to the Chair.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I cannot give my colleague an answer without first seeing my colleague from Cambria County, Mr. Andrews

PRESIDENT OF THE HOME AND SCHOOL COUNCIL OF CITY OF PHILADELPHIA AND DELEGATION FROM HAMILTON DISTANT HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I wish to introduce to the Senate Mrs. Myrtle Shuman, President of the Home and School Council of the city of Philadelphia, an organization comprising all of the public schools of the city of Philadelphia.

I would also like to introduce a delegation from the Hamilton Distant Home and School Association, Board of Directors.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair welcomes Mrs. Shuman and the Members of the Board of Directors of the Hamilton Distant Home and School Association. We certainly hope that your visit here will be pleasant and informative

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is Senator Kessler in the Chamber? He is not here at the present time, Senator Yosko.

Mr. YOSKO. All right, I will wait until he returns.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first, I want to congratulate both Senator Dent and Mr. Lathero, our Librarian, on the birthdays which they celebrated last Saturday. All of us join with the Democrats in not only wishing them many more happy birthdays in the years to come, but also feel sorry that we were not privileged to be with them last Saturday when they celebrated that particular birthday which, I suppose, was their 39th birthday.

I regret very much, Mr. President, that the work or the germs or something that have been going on around here for the past two weeks have more or less put a crimp in my energy. Therefore, I am not able, perhaps, to forcefully say the things today relative to releases which were made over the past week end that I would like to. As we all know, a group of Democratic Senators and Republican Senators worked together on different occasions to try to work out some wording relative to the type of sales tax which we would adopt. Perhaps the Democratic senators who worked with us were not so much in favor of the sales tax as they were of trying to work out something that would be workable in the event that we adopted a sales tax. We tried to bring in a new look to the type of tax that we were going to adopt. We could have very easily adopted the Ohio sales tax in its entirety. Rather than do that, however, we thought it would be better to place a tax on specific items which we would set forth in the bill. Accordingly, that is what we did. We have a certain number of categories of personal property which we taxed, under the sales tax bill that we passed last week.

At the time, Mr. President, we agreed that there were certain features relative to the stamp plan part of the bill which would have to be corrected by amendments. I regret that in the bill which the House sent over to us we did not have the Ohio stamp plan tax in its entirety. There were certain features of the plan that were eliminated in that particular bill. However, we decided that they were not important because on our first go-around on this legislation, we knocked out the stamp plan. In the Conference Committee, the House Members thought that they wanted to have the stamp plan included and, therefore, in deference to them, we restored the same wording which was in the bill as it left the House, relative to the stamp plan. We then found that some amendments would be necessary because some things were left out of it and which are in the Ohio stamp plan.

Mr. President, this was not such a fatal defect at the time to necessitate holding up the passage of this legislation. Every day that this bill remained unsigned into law, it was costing the State of Pennsylvania about $800,000. After some conferences with representatives from the Attorney General's Office on the day that we passed the bill, it was agreed that there was nothing in this bill which would be so fatally defective to it that it should stop our consideration and passage of the bill.

We went over these suggestions with representatives from the Attorney General's Office after we passed the bill, relative to what we should put in in the way of amendments to clarify the sales tax bill that we passed. We had a meeting in Senator Dent's office the other day. A representative from the Attorney General's Office, Mr. Rubin, attended that meeting and he made a couple of suggestions which we, at the time, did not feel we wanted to accept. He then read his newspaper for the rest of the morning. In the afternoon, when we returned from lunch, he was not in attendance nor was any other person from the Attorney General's Office.

Mr. President, any new piece of legislation is bound to, perhaps, be confusing for a short time after its passage, until such time as the public catches on to it. I have not found a great amount of confusion in relation to this particular bill. When I visit stores, I ask the merchants whether there has been a lot of confusion and they all tell me pretty much that there has not. They tell me that they are falling into it pretty nicely and for their part, they do not have too much fault to find.

Therefore, Mr. President, I was amazed when I saw over the week end statements made by the Attorney General that this was all wrong, that there was confusion in relation to it and that it was ambiguous. He did not know, for instance, whether the manufacturer would have to charge a tax to the wholesaler, whether the wholesaler, then, would have to collect the tax from the retailer, and then the retailer collect the tax again from the consumer, because, under our bill, we had crossed out the words "retail sales tax" and had made it "use tax" or purchaser's tax and had said nothing about retail. If the Attorney General had examined the definition of the used tax provision, he would have seen that we specifically eliminated the tax that would be paid by the wholesaler to the manufacturer and from the retailer to the wholesaler. In the transit of these goods, from the manufacturer to the ultimate consumer, there would be only one tax payable and that would be by the ultimate consumer to the fellow from whom he bought it.

Mr. Cohen also questioned whether or not shoes would be taxable. I might say that in our conference with representatives from his department, it was my understanding that we even suggested that perhaps we might clear this up because somebody might think that shoes would be under the category of leather goods. However, they said "no"; that they did not think that would be necessary. I was again amazed to find that Mr. Cohen thought shoes would be under leather goods. I believe it was the intention of all of us that no part of the wearing apparel of a person would be taxable under this bill ,except luxury items such as tuxedos, dinner clothes, striped trousers, worn on festive occasions, and cutaway coats and things such as those that are worn on formal occasions. I do not know how you specify the ladies' formal clothing. That may be a little bit more difficult and we might have to clarify that. However, that is the only type of wearing apparel that we intend to tax.

If Mr. Cohen had been over here or had one of his representatives here, as he should have because this was one of the most important pieces of legislation that this Body has had to consider this Session, he would have heard me say that the Republican Senators did not want a tax on clothing because we were still impressed with the demonstration that my friend, Senator Dent, put on last year, in which he got shoe boxes out over there and showed, or tried to show, that we were prepared to tax shoes. That demonstration so lasted in our minds that we decided we did not want to tax shoes or any other part of wearing apparel worn by persons. It would appear to me that if there is any confusion added here in relation to this particular tax, confusing the merchant as to what he is to tax and confusing the general public as to what it is to pay, we can certainly lay part of the blame, anyway, at the door of our Attorney General.

Mr. President, I am a little bit surprised at our Attorney General after he had his Governor, who, after all, should be his number one client, sign this bill after he found so much wrong with it. It would appear to me that if all these things were wrong with this bill and they were so obvious to the Attorney General before the Governor signed it, as they became apparent to him afterwards, he certainly would have advised his number one client not to sign the bill. Therefore, we either have to arrive at the conclusion that Mr. Cohen was putting out all this stuff, knowing it to be false and just trying to stir up confusion in relation to the legislation for whatever political purpose he might be after, or else he did not do his job as the Attorney General of the Commonwealth very well when he advised the Governor to sign the legislation.

Mr. President, I hope that the Attorney General's Office will be a little bit more cooperative with us when we are trying to write tax legislation. It is legislation which the Attorney General's Office may have to defend in court and we would very much like to have the cooperation of the Attorney General's Office in writing this legislation if they feel that they would like to aid us. The Attorney General's Office is always welcome at any time to help us in this work. I want to say to Mr. Cohen that he should know by this time the intent of the Legislature in passing this legislation. We intended to tax the categories set forth in the sales tax; we intended the rate to be at three per cent; we intended that the ultimate consumer should pay the tax and the retailer should collect it from him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would the gentleman yield for a moment? Will the visitors please be quiet? The gentleman is entitled to be heard. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. MAHANY. We intended that the tax would only be charged once and that would be upon the sale to the ultimate consumer. We also intended that shoes should be considered part of a person's wearing apparel and should not be taxed. When we spoke of leather goods, we meant such things as brief cases, luggage, wallets and things like that which are taxable under the Federal Excise Tax. When we specifically exempted one tobacco product from the list of tobacco products that were to be taxed, we intended to eliminate or exempt cigarettes and no other tobacco item. The Attorney General should know that and if there is any further question that he has, relative to the intent in writing this bill, we will be happy to advise him.

We would also like to have him write such amendments, or submit such amendments to us, that he feels are necessay and which would clarify this sales tax bill so that there will not be the confusion that he says attends it and which will eliminate the ambiguity which he says is in it. If the Attorney General will meet with me or my Democratic colleagues, the leaders on the other side, we certainly will be happy to meet with him tomorrow so that we may go over these suggested amendments and perhaps add a few of our own and try to get this bill fixed up so that when we adjourn sine die, there will not be a lot of ambiguous tax legislation on the books. I assure the Attorney General he will have my cooperation, but hope that he will desist from making political statements relative to a piece of legislation which I believe is so important to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to make a statement at this time.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we have just heard a few remarks from the Republican Floor Leader relative to some of the problems which are arising from the passage of a sales tax. I agree with the gentleman that any new legislation, particularly one that has such far-reaching consequences to it, may and usually does bring into the picture many new problems. However, in going over the bill last Thursday, I believe in a full day's Session with Senator Mahany, Senator Kessler and other Members of this Body, we tried to work out some amendments which would clarify the important features of the act.

Over the week end, I took another look at the legislation and find that we missed, at least on Thursday I know, a very important phase of it that I doubt if anyone has caught onto yet and that is that part of it relative to the stamp tax.

As you all know, Mr. President, I have voiced my opposition to the stamp feature and I am happy to say that at this time I have with me an editorial from The Cleveland Plain Dealer, which is considered to be one of the outstanding newspapers in the State of Ohio. I thought perhaps it might be interesting to this Senate to read you at least one paragraph from this editorial. The editorial is dated March 3rd, Saturday, 1956, and I think it is very apropos of the discussions we are haivng on the question of stamp or no stamp in our tax plan. I quote from the editorial:

"The 'robbery' of the Ohio State Treasury by merchants who charge persons for sales tax stamps on purchases and then don't give them is an old story, almost as old as the 21 year old depression-born tax measure. Yet only recently the state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, estimated that this defrauding amounts to 30 million dollars or so every year."

Mr. President, when you take into consideration that the State of Ohio collects $188,000,000 a year of taxes and finds itself being defrauded, by the stamp tax application, of 30 odd million dollars a year, and add to that the feature of the act which places a two per cent refund reward to those who would turn in the used stamps and a two per cent discount to the licensees or vendors in the State, and a one per cent commission to those who act as distributors, you can easily see why the State of Ohio has a $26,000,000 cost each biennium or $13,000,000 a year for the cost of administration of their act. Related to Pennsylvania, if we were to take the same figures and assuming that there would be as much defrauding in this State as they have in the State of Ohio, we could assume then that there would be at least $50,000,000 that the taxpayers would be fleeced of by fraud.

In our bill, Mr. President—and I know this is a mistake, I am sure it is, and I am calling it to the attention of the Senate so that all of those who are working on amendments will try to do something about it—you will find on page 15 where it says:

"Purchase by Vendors. Each vendor making taxable sales shall purchase and have on hand at all times prepaid tax receipts in suitable denominations" and so forth, but carrying on down through we find that the vendor must make a report and in making this report, he receives a two per cent discount on the purchase of stamps amounting to twenty-five dollars or more.

This is not the report section of the bill, Mr. President. This is the purchase section. Every time the vendor goes to a distributor any buys stamps, he receives two per cent upon every purchase of stamps of twenty-five dollars or more.

Now, Mr. President, let us take $100 worth of tax stamps. They are supposed to represent about $3333 worth of purchases and when the vendor buys the stamps, he receives a two per cent discount at that point. If you will turn back to page 18, you will see where this same vendor shall be entitled to apply and receive a credit against the amount of tax payable by him in an amount equal to two per cent of the gross tax collected by him to cover his expense in the collection and remittance of said tax.

He gets two dollars for buying the stamps from the distributor, Mr. President, and then when he turns in his report, the vendor gets two per cent more and the $100 which the taxpayers paid, presumably to the State of Pennsylvania, finds itself reaching an amount of ninety-six dollars or a loss of four per cent on the total of $300,000,000 anticipated tax return or $12,000,000, which we are going to pay in taxes more than we are going to receive into our treasury.

On top of that, Mr. President, we have a two per cent refund or bonus, as it were, to those who collect the used stamps which amounts to another two dollars off and the $100 dwindles to ninety-four dollars. Then we have a half per cent which we are going to give to the distributing bank and they, in turn, will receive another fifty cents from the $100. Therefore, the $100 of taxes which the people pay in this State will return to the Treasury of this Commonwealth ninety-three dollars and fifty cents from which must be taken, on the total of $100, an approximate five per cent if the same rate of cost of operation of the plan is to apply here as it applied under the old sales tax, with the same organization which you will need. If you take the cost in the State of New York where it is approximately six and one-quarter per cent, or take a mean average of the various States to collect these taxes, we can safely say that it will cost approximately three and one-half per cent or three and one-half more dollars per $100 of taxation.

Now, Mr. President, we find that the $100 which the taxpayers have paid has dwindled down to ninety dollars worth of revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, yield just one moment, please?

The conversation on the side will have to cease. The stenographer cannot get the notes down correctly. She is having difficulty at the present time.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. President. I know that it is hard for the visitors to listen to this day after day, but they should realize that sometimes it is hard for us to have to say it day after day, too. Some of these things are necessary in order that the records may be kept straight.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there are those who say, and have been led to believe, that the tax stamp plan will reward the individuals. Some of the taxpayers think that by having a two per cent refund on the used stamp, they will be able to participate in this great bonanza which is going to be gathered in the Commonwealth. However, let us look at it realistically. The ordinary citizen does not buy $3300 worth of goods in a normal purchase and it takes many, many of the little penny and three cent, five cent and ten cent stamps to accumulate $3300 worth of purchases or $100 worth of tax paid stamps. You cannot get a refund for them until you have $100 worth. Therefore, in the end, really, the ones who will receive this refund from the State Treasury are those who organize for the purpose of refund.

I am wondering, as I go over this picture, whether or not we are being smart in this instance. Taxes, in most instances, are unbearable in any sense. Therefore, I do not see that it is an intelligent move on the part of Pennsylvania at this time if we are establishing a broad base tax, that we should adopt a tax plan which has not proven successful in the only State of the thirty-seven States which have sales taxes and is the only State that employs that type of a tax plan.

Mr. President, the misunderstanding has come to the point where a great many people are taking sides. That is only adding to the confusion. For those of us in this General Assembly who want to pass any tax in a workable form, then do you not all think that the smartest thing we could do would be to make the effective date of the stamp tax plan January 15, 1957? That would give us an opportunity to take our Joint State Government Commission, which is an agency of the Legislature, and have that commission make a study. The Joint State Government Commission is our fact-finding arm. It develops for the Legislature facts and figures to substantiate the actions of this General Assembly. Do you not think that in fairness to the people of this Commonwealth who have to pay the tax, without taking the position either for or against the stamp plan but taking a neutral position in the matter or taking the position of just good government, as it were, would it not be the logical thing to do to establish this tax plan in the act? A study should be made if you are going to do as Senator Mahany and others have suggested. If you are going to have the Ohio plan, which is the only plan that has been talked about in the paper, it certainly is not the plan that is contained in this act. There is no semblance whatsoever except the word "stamp."

If we take the Ohio plan and insert it in this act bodily and take out the plan which is in here now, we will get away from this dual commission base to the vendor and we will get down to the weekly reports, which is the valuable thing in the act. Another one of the great errors in this bill is that although the vendor has to buy his stamps prepaid and make a report once a month, and the taxpayer has to pay his cash out the day that he makes his purchase, the banks in Pennsylvania have the use of this money for six months. Besides getting paid a commission of a half per cent, they have the whole six months in which they can hold the taxpayers and State's money and make a report. None of us are foolish enough to believe that these banks are not going to buy a few short term notes from the Federal Government at one and a half or one and seven-tenths per cent and earn a great deal of money off of the money that the State is supposed to be collecting for the uses of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, if you take the Ohio plan, the distributor or the bank would have to make a weekly report and send in its returns, estimates and so on. At least, in that way, the State would be able to use its money and keep from having to go out and borrow on tax anticipation notes, which adds another one or one and a half per cent to the cost of operating our government. When you go into the basis we are in now of $90,000,000 worth of tax anticipation notes, we get well up around $1,375,000 to $1,385,000 of added interest which the taxpayers have to pay.

They say, "Stop waste in government." Mr. President, you cannot stop waste if you prepare to make waste by hastily passing a bill without a complete study of its applications in this Commonwealth. Therefore, I plead with you that when you do put your new stamp plan into the act, you make it effective on the 15th of January of 1957. At that time there will have been at least time for us to study the effects of this stamp plan on our total revenue and budget.

If this is true, if the Cleveland Plain Dealer, speaking after twenty-one years of experience in Ohio, says that there are 30 million dollars or so every year of fraud in the manipulation of the stamps in Ohio and if we know we are adding, under the amended bill, four and one-half per cent of the total of the entire tax for the application of the stamp plan, are we not acting a little hastily in this matter? Why should we take the money out of the taxpayers' pocket to reward somebody with? I do not think any of the State organizations which are covered in this act want that refund money. We are the most liberal State in the United States of America toward our private hospitals, our local hospitals and our schools. Why, the entire budget of the State of Ohio does not equal the amount of money that we return to our local schools by subsidy in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and that is the entire budget in the whole State of Ohio. We have problems which are not akin to those of Ohio. We cannot copy-cat any State but we can study the problem and we can take the time, because once we put this particular plan into effect the pressure from those who find the ways and means of operating within the schedule of the tax plan will be so great upon the Membership of this General Assembly in the future years that we will never be able to get rid of it.

Mr. President, I have talked to the influential leaders of the State of Ohio, from the Governor on down, and I have yet to find a public official, from the Tax Commissioner on up to the Governor, who is in favor of this particular type of tax plan. In all of the other States, and I have attended Nation-wide meetings of tax experts, this plan of taxation has been turned down. Senator Yosko has attended such meetings for the last fifteen years and he has reports which were given, and I know that he would read one to this Senate if you so desire because he showed it to me. He has reports of the meetings which were held. Although this stamp tax plan has been in operation something like sixteen or seventeen years in the present form, there has never been another State agree that it is good. No other State has copied it and here we come in Pennsylvania and, out of the clear blue sky, we are going to adopt in a very fast and hasty manner a tax plan which can cost the taxpayers of this State—and this I say advisedly, on a two year biennial base, if our experience is anywhere like the State of Ohio and we must use the State of Ohio because it is the only State that has this type of a plan—$100,000,000 more in taxes than the Revenue Department is going to receive for the payment of the cost of government in this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I doubt if any Member of this Senate wants to see that happen. I would like to see an impartial study made by the Joint State Government Commission, with the report to come in on the first week of January, and remember that the Session is only something like nine months away. In that time, the General Assembly will meet and it will have before it facts and figures and not fancy and talk. When they get to the point where they decide it is a good plan, then we can easily let it go into effect without any action on our part. If we decide that it is bad for the Commonwealth and its peoples, then we can easily amend it out of the act before the 15th day of January, 1957.

Now I want to leave that particular section for just a moment and say this to Senator Mahany. I read, too, Senator Mahany, the reports from the Attorney General on the character of the bill that we passed. If you will note, I said to the newspapermen who called me that so far as I was concerned, it was my honest belief that the intent of the Legislature was to pass a retail sales tax. I would not get into the argument over the legalistic viewpoint as to whether or not this act could be interpreted as being an act that placed the tax at three different levels; in other words, the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the retailer. If it does that, all I have to say is that we will have so much money we will be able to go out to Ohio and buy their sales tax off of them. We will be able to take them in and annex them to Pennsylvania because if we get nine per cent, we will have so much money we will not have to worry about anything for the next few years.

Mr. President, incidentally, I talked to the Attorney General today. He has no compunction against an amendment to clarify this. However, he said that looking at it from the clear, cold facts, as he read the bill, he finds that there is a very serious question that arises on the question of the level of taxation or the base from which the tax will be applied. I am sure, Senator Mahany, that the Attorney General is more than willing to attend any conferences to work out the details of the act. However, let us not get too confused over the situation because the more we talk about it, the greater confusion there is out in the public.

I do not think there is anybody throwing their hat in the air to be taxed. I have not seen a march on Harrisburg by elated taxpayers who were glad to receive this tax that was put onto them. I have not received any letters of congratulation yet, or any cards, except on my birthday. Those, I do not care to receive too often anymore; although I want to be around a long time, I just do not want people to known how old I am. Nevertheless Mr. President, no one is happy about the tax. It is up to us, as a General Assembly, now that we have it, to make it work as smoothly as we can. I admit, as Senator Mahany does, that it was a Republican sponsored bill and I admit that they have a right to write into it practically anything they want. I admit, too, that I had some influence on what went into the bill because, as I said before, when it became apparent, after fourteen months, that it was going to be nothing but a sales tax, I stood up and said to this Senate Body that I had given up the idea of how to tax; I was more interested in how much. My reason for that is that we must, if we are to hold our heads up as a representative body in a great State, pass enough money in the tax plan to effect the program that will keep this State among the leading States in the Union.

When I voted against the second report of the committee, having voted to go along with the first report, it was not so much about the argument against how as it was how much. I felt then, and I feel now, that it will be difficult for us to operate this government this biennium unless the returns are clarified and we get more from the bill than what we had hoped to get.

Therefore, Mr. President, to Senator Kessler I want to say that when he is ready with his amendments, I will be glad to sit down with him; the Members on my side will be glad to sit down with him and any other Member on the other side, and I am sure that the Attorney General will represent the Governor to the best of his ability to see to it that we do have a good bill. I am only asking you now to take up with your group the proposal that I made that we insert the Ohio tax plan into this bill, but that we change the effective date in order that we can have time to study, because, once we apply the tax plan under the stamp plan, it will be difficult, or I would even say impossible, to ever relieve the taxpayers of this State of a $100,000,000 load that they need not carry.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Kessler, permit himself to be intrrogated?

Mr. KESSLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senattor Kessler, I just heard Senator

Mahany say that he found very little confusion on the provisions of the sales tax. He must be one of the very few who did not find confusion, and all of the newspapers in Pennsylvania may be wrong. I found considerable confusion and got so many telephone calls over the week end on it that my telephone just rang steadily. However, there has been some more confusion developed over the week end on a newspaper article.

The Attorney General, as I read here, said that the way the sales tax bill is worded, it might place a tax on manufacturers, wholesalers and, ultimately, consumers, with an additional levy of a half billion dollars. When you were questioned about it, you said that the Attorney General's interpretation was farfetched and that it was "Malarkey." In order to clear up the confusion, do you still, today, say it is "Malarkey" and that you stand on the bill as written, or do you think it should be amended for clarification purposes?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I recognize that the bill was drawn with a great deal of haste and that some clarifying amendments are necessary. However, as I read the bill, it specifically states that under the definition of "use," use shall not include the use of tangible, personal property by a manufacturer, wholesaler or retailer before he sells such property. That, to me, is very clear.

Mr. YOSKO. Do I understand, then, that you, as the Chairman of the Finance Committee, and admitting that this is a Republican bill, stand on its provisions and that it will not affect wholesalers, manufacturers and, ultimately, consumers?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman from Northampton to repeat the first part of his question, that I admit that this is a Republican bill?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Yosko, will you please repeat the first part of your question?

Mr. YOSKO. I think I said, and I will repeat it, do you, as Chairman of the Finance Committee and since this is an admitted Republican bill, stand on its provisions, as they exist today, and do you say that under the provisions of the bill, manufacturers, wholesalers and, ultimately, consumers will not be taxed under its provisions?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, ultimate consumers will certainly be taxed. However, as I read the bill, manufacturers and wholesalers and retailers are not going to be taxed on the materials they purchase for resale.

As far as this being a Republican bill is concerned, I would like to have this clearly understood. This is not the bill that was originally drafted. At the suggestion of some of the Democratic leaders in this Body, we held some conferences and revamped the bill completely. Instead of having a sales tax bill, which taxed everything with exemptions, the bill was reversed where we specified groups of items to be taxed. We made this change and agreed to it with the idea of getting Democratic support on the bill. We did get some Democratic support in the way of four votes on this floor when the bill passed. However, it is far less than the support we had hoped to get by virtue of changing the bill.

Mr. YOSKO. That is all.

Mr. President, I understand from the statements made by Senator Kessler that he is now attempting to place some of the responsibility for the sales tax, in spite of statements made by Senator Mahany, on the Democrats. Last Tuesday night—and I am sure the record will bear me out—Senator Mahany said that this is a Republican bill and the Republican Party is taking full responsibility for it. I am assuming Senator Mahany will stand on that statement.

Mr. President, I want to defend the Attorney General for just a moment. Last Tuesday night, we were called into Session about 10:30 o'clock to act on the Conference Committee Report. There was considerable debate which followed and the hour of 12:00 o'clock was approaching. I remember Senator Dent having the floor at the time and I remember that his speech was interrupted, or he was asked to yield, so that the sales tax bill could be signed and sent to the Governor. That was about 11:35 o'clock.

I might say, too, that not one Member of this Senate was accorded the privilege of getting a copy of the bill as it was passed, in the first instance, by the Senate and as it was passed after the Conference Committee met When the bill was first passed Friday night a week ago, I think it was, a copy of the bill was placed on my desk thirteen minutes before the final vote was taken. A copy of the Conference Committee Report was placed on my desk after the final vote was taken. None of us in here, outside of the few that drafted the bill and the few who met in the Conference Committee, had a chance to consider or study its provisions.

On the question of the Attorney General advising the Governor as to whether or not he should sign it, I specifically remember Senator Dent bringing up the question, when he was charged by Senator Mahany of possibly making a million dollar speech by prolonging his remarks until after midnight. I want to read exactly the words of Senator Dent:

"I am wondering that if at twenty minutes until twelve tonight he will accept"—he is the Governor—"such a far-reaching and important piece of legislation without calling upon his Attorney General to review it. Even the most unimportant piece of legislation, in all the years I have been here, has been reviewed by the Attorney General. I defy any man who is a Member of this Senate to read this bill and in twenty minutes, or twenty hours or twenty weeks tell me that on the face of this bill—and that is all he has to work with—he would advise the Governor of this State to sign it."

Mr. President, I just want to say this in that connection, because it was referred to a few times last Tuesday night. If the Attorney General would have advised the Governor not to sign the bill before midnight, there would have been complaints and charges that by the delay it cost the Commonwealth $1,000,000 for each day's delay. Yet, if the Attorney General were to take the time that was required, he certainly would have had to advise the Governor that he did not have ample time to review the bill. Therefore, here today, Senator Mahany, at least, is blowing hot and cold. He is charging the Attorney General with not performing his duty by reviewing the bill, which he did not have time to do. and, in the next breath, or in a previous breath, he is charging that every day's delay would cost $1,000,000

I am just wondering whether this Legislature acted wisely by practically forcing the Governor, under the circumstances, to sign the bill a few minutes—to be exact, seven minutes before it became effective. As one of the newspapermen wrote, when the bill became effective, many Pennsylvanians were asleep. Those who were not asleep certainly did not know the bill went into effect. Those who were not asleep and who were in establishments where a sales tax could be charged, the owner of the establishment certainly could not have charged the sale tax because he did not know the bill had gone into effect. As a result, they probably violated the law. I have no hesitancy in saying that because they did not have proper notice, and still do not have proper notice on the items that are taxable and other information they should have in connection with the administration of the bill, probably thousands and thousands of dollars that are paid in the form of sales tax will never reach the State Treasury, while thousands of other dollars are not being collected under the provisions of the act. As a result, the State Treasury will suffer and those who collect the tax, and who through no fault of their own do not make transmittal, will benefit by it.

Mr. President, I think because the Attorney General is the interpreter of the laws upon which there are no court decisions, I think his opinion should be respected and not criticized. I think a committee of this Senate, or of this Legislature, should meet with the Attorney General just as soon as possible and get some clarification on the issue which is involved so that the confusion that exists with those who are charged with collecting and transmitting the tax can be cleared up.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to first say to Senator Yosko that the Governor must have known a little what was in this bill when he signed it because he issued quite a lengthy statement, telling who the tax would fall hardest upon and who was going to be let up by its provisions. After I read his statement, I gave him at least the credit for knowing what was in the bill. If he did not know, then certainly the statement that he issued was based not on his knowledge of the bill, but on what he had heard about it.

I also want to take this opportunity, Mr. President, to thank the many merchants throughout Pennsylvania who did cooperate and are cooperating with the government in the collection of this much needed money. Most of them today are collecting this tax and about the only knowledge they have of it is from what they read in the newspapers. I think they are going a good job. When I have gone in the various stores, I have made it a point to ask the merchants or the clerks whether they are having any trouble. They have all told me that they are not.

As to Senator Dent's statement about our having to pay four per cent to the merchant for collecting two per cent when he got the stamps and two per cent when he turned the money in, I think there is some confusion, perhaps, in the Senator's mind relative to the difference between a vendor and a licensee. Until such time as a tax stamp plan goes into effect, the retailer will be known as the licensee. He shall collect the tax in money; he shall make a return periodically and, at the time he makes the return, he shall send a check in for whatever money he has collected, less two per cent in compensation for his services.

After the stamp plan goes into effect, he is then known as the vendor. He will go to the bank and purchase the stamps at a two per cent discount. He will then sell the stamps to the customer or the consumer, and he will then make a return to the State. When he makes his return at that time, there will be no tax payable by him. If you will not on page 19 of the Report of the Committee of Conference, under Section 534, which Senator Dent referred to, it refers to the licensee who "shall be entitled to apply and credit against the amount of tax payable by him an amount equal to two per centum of the gross tax collected by him to cover his expense" and so forth. After the stamp plan goes into effect, the vendor, or in that case the licensee and vendor, will not have any tax payable by him because he will have paid the money to the bank. The bank will be the one to remit the money to the Commonwealth and not the merchant.

Mr. President, there are many little things in relation to this sales tax that will have to be clearned up, relative to the stamp plan. I thought that the Ohio stamp plan was incorporated in this bill when it came from the House. I also thought that at first when we eliminated it, we did not even have to read the part which was eliminated because that affected a plan that we were not going to adopt in the Senate. Then at the Conference Committee, when it was insisted that the stamp plan be put back in, all we did was to restore the same wording in the bill relative to the stamp plan that was in it when it came from the House.

Mr. Waterhouse, a Member of the House, did sponsor a sales tax bill in the House and in his bill he has specifically the Ohio stamp plan. If they had sent us the Waterhouse Bill, we would not be having this trouble. Inasmuch as the House did not send us that bill, we will have to prepare amendments which will include the stamp plan features of the Waterhouse Bill if we are to clear up these ambiguities. I do not think it will serve any ueseful purpose for us to dwell at length upon things that might be wrong about the stamp plan in this bill, because we all intend to correct them.

As far as! putting off the stamp plan until next January, Mr. President, I do not know that that will serve any useful purpose either. If we are going to start this stamp plan— and it really was the intention of the conferees of the House and the Senate that we would go along with the stam plan—it should go into effect within the relatively near future. In this particular case, we specified July 1st.

I also understand that the Minority Leader of the House stated that, as far as he was concerned, his agreement was that the stamp plan feature would not be changed and that the only amendments which they would consider would be technical one which would correct defects in the legislation.

Also, Mr. President, I just do not quite understand what is meant by delaying this until the next Session of the Legislature. From the remarks and from newspaper releases which I have read from the Democratic Senators, it would appear that starting next Session, if they are in control ,they are going to eliminate the whole thing anyway. It, therefore, would not make much difference whether we are under the stamp plan or not at that particular time. I understand that the Democrats are going to go out and use this as a political football and that we are going to be the ones who are found guilty of passing the sales tax. I, for one, am going to assume my share of the responsibility. I made the statement that we did assume the responsibility for this tax. We cannot assume all the; responsibility for any incorrect wording in the act because, as Senator Dent has stated, he and others did aid us in formulating some of the wording in the bill. Therefore, if there are some defects in the wording, it might not all be the fault of the Republicans and especially the Republican Finance Committee, which did not have much to do with the wording, although Senator Kessler, who is Chairman of the Committee, did aid us considerably in drafting these amendments which were placed in the bill by the Senate.

Mr. President, I would like to know from certain Senators, and I might interrogate them and I think I should because I think their constituents should know where they stand relative to tax legislation. If a Senator comes out and says that this is vicious legislation and that he voted against it and did not want any part of it, then I think he owes it to his constitutents, especially if he is up for re-election this year, to tell them if they elect him to the Senate next year, how he intends to replace the money, which will be lost by the repeal of this sales tax, and also how he intends to get additional money that will be required in the next biennial budget. We all know that school costs are mounting. They are not going down; they are going up. Other items of government expense are increasing. Therefore, we should know from the Senators, who have made that statement, if they are re-elected by their constitutents and they vote to repeal this sales tax, how they then would make up the amount of money necessary to make up the deficit.

I would like to find out from them whether they are for an income tax or a wage tax to do this. If they are, I would like to know what percentage and whether they would be for the classified income tax, which has different rates, depending upon your source of income, or whether they are for a flat income tax or wage tax or just what kind of a tax they are for. I intend to ask two or three Senators, within the next week, just how they stand on tax legislation. This time, you cannot go out and say, "Let us do away with the sales tax." You cannot say that and not put anything in its place. I think the people have found out that you just cannot do that. I would like to find out from the different Democratic Senators—and I think they owe this to the people of Pennsylvania and especially their constituents—where they stand in relation to this source of income necessary to make up the requirements for the next biennial budget.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would just like to tell the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, that this is a campaign year. Let him run his campaign and we will run ours. We do not need the assistance of the able statesman from Titusville to tell us how to run the Democratic campaign. When I was home over the past week end, I heard the people refer to this bill as the T. N. T. That means "Taylor's Nuisance Tax."

Aside from that, I think Senator Mahany and the other members of the Conference Committee will remember that on last Tuesday, around 4:00 o'clock, when we found that part of the Ohio stamp plan was going to be put in, we finally were able to get one copy of the Conference Report. I, in turn, called the Attorney General's Office and he came over. He told us, as I repeated to you and the other members of the Conference Committee, that the bill as it was written was absolutely unworkable. Many of those salient features I pointed out to you last Tuesday evening. I remember you were critical that we did not talk about the bill before it was passed. Then you got up, in another voice, and said when we talked afterwards that we were trying to filibuster until after 12:00 o'clock. I assured you that that was not the case. Secondly, I also remember asking you, Senator Mahany, if you were the Governor of this Commonwealth and you were sitting over there in that front office, what you would do and you said, "If I were the Governor, I would have someone run over with this bill and sign it right away." Maybe he should not have taken those words of wisdom from you.

Be that as it may, we can write the bills, the Governor can sign them, but it is up to the Attorney General to interpret them and up to the Revenue Department to enforce them. I will say at the present moment that I will have to concur, not being a lawyer, with what the Attorney General says. It is bad for you, and for all of us, if these things are not changed.

I want to point out one little thing to you. On page 8, under item (i), it says:

" 'Taxpayer' Any person required to pay or collect the tax imposed by this act," either to pay or collect.

Then, on page 16, it says:

"Returns Persons Required to Make Returns Every taxpayer shall file returns with respect to such tax."

I hope that you are keeping books and everytime you have paid this tax, since last Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, at 12:01 o'clock, you are keeping track of it because you are going to have to file a return.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to second the motion made by the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, that some sort of a meeting be arranged. Just before I left Scranton today, I was informed by a group of merchants that they had been told by someone in Harrisburg—and I hope to try to get to the bottom of this in the next twenty-four hours—that the tax would be applicable on the unpaid balance of charge accounts. I certainly do not think that was ever intended by anybody in the Legislature who voted for this tax.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I just want to clear up one thing relative to Senator Barr's statement. Certainly it is not our intention, and I do not think you will find the intention in this bill, to have someone who goes to a store and buys a taxable item and pays his tax to the merchant to come home and file a tax return. The reason that was put in the bill in that manner was so that if someone goes to New York or New Jersey or some surrounding State and buys something which is in the taxable category, such as a toaster, we will say, in New York City, and brings it into Pennsylvania, under the provisions of this sales tax bill and also under the provisions of the old sales tax bill and under the provisions of most any other sales tax bill in any State in the Union, he is supposed to have a return made out, showing the purchase price and send in the return, together with whatever tax is due to the Department of Revenue. I believe it was in this particular section, relative to the definition of who should send in a return, that it was changed to "taxpayer." I believe it was originally "licensee." This was changed to the word "taxpayer," to mean the merchant in Pennsylvania would be the one who collected the tax and made the return. If a merchant did not collect it and the person bought the item out of the State, then he would pay a use tax when he brought the item into the State and he would make the return.

Senator Barr, therefore, does not have to worry about going to jail if he goes down to the store and buys some taxable item and does not run home and make out a tax return and send it into the State of Pennsylvania. I do not believe this bill would require that.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Mahany, you are a lawyer and I am one. You have stated that you found very little confusion in relation to House Bill No. 2009. I have found confusion and I was asked a question that I could not answer. Perhaps you can. The question was from a builder. He said, "I am under contract to build five houses. The price is fixed. I am in the course of building. Am I obligated to pay a tax for the materials which I use in building?"

Mr. MAHANY. There is a provision in the act, Senator. Before I answer that, do we receive any fee from this man for the advice?

Mr. SILVERT. Not yet, Senator Mahany.

Mr. MAHANY. On page 12 of the bill, Senator Silvert,—do not show your client this because he might not know just where you got it; we, in our profession, try to keep things secret a little bit—it says:

"The use after the effective date of this act of tangible personal property in the fulfillment of contracts for the construction reconstruction remodeling repairing or maintenance of real estate entered into prior to that date which are fixed price agreements not subject to change or modification by reason of the tax imposed by this act provided however that notice of such contract is given by the taxpayer to the department within sixty days after the effective date of this act."

That particular section excludes from the operation of the sales tax those items under those regulations and limitations.

Mr. SILVERT. Thank you, I will tell him to send his fee to you.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I just want to make one observation. I have heard the word "intent" used here several times this afternoon so far as construction of the sales tax act is concerned and I read the word "intent" in the newspaper stories, too. I just want to say that those of us in the Legislature do not vote on intent. We vote for words, and intent is construed from words. If there are words in the bill which should not be there, I repeat, we ought to amend the bill and strike them out. We cannot just say that we did not intend for them to be there, in spite of the fact they are there because that intent is not going to govern as long as the words and the meaning are in the provisions of the bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to add a comment on the use of the words "legislative intent," because it seems to me that if we rely as heavily on this question of legislative intent as the Majority Leader appears to be relying, we are going to be responsible for some awfully sloppy legislation similar to this tax bill

As I understand it, and I am not a lawyer and I ask for correction if I am wrong, the question of legislative intent does not enter unless the words of the act are not clear or are not able to be understood, but if the words of the act are clear, even though the intent of the proponents of the act might have been different, then the question of legislative intent does not apply. I may be wrong in that but if I am right, then certainly we should not use this legislative intent phrase in the manner in which the Majority Leader is using it.

I would like, while I have the floor ,to make just two more comments, Mr. President. First of all, I still am quite unable to follow the devious course of the Majority Leader on the matter of the Ohio stamp plan. Originally, I understood that he thought it was a bad way of collecting the tax. A couple days later I thought he was weakening in that stand, and I raised the point and he assured me he still thought it was a bad way to collect the tax. I do not know, but today in his speech I thought I detected again a little bit of defense of this plan. When the Minority Leader made the suggestion that the plan be delayed until we had time to study it, I found, to my amazement, that again he was rising to the defense of this stamp plan.

I do not know where the Majority Leader stands and I am not clear, but it seems to me that he is following a rather devious course.

My final comment is that when the tax passed, I saw the smiles of gratification which swept over the opposite side of the floor. There was everything but cheering, it seemed to me, at a great Republican victory and we had those ringing words of the Majority Leader, in which he said he did not want any Democratic votes because he was happy to assume the responsibility and so forth and so on. Do I detect today just a slight sign of crawling from that position, a slight feeling that maybe this tax is not quite as good as it was and a slight desire to foist, at least, a part of the responsibility on someone else? It is a little bit intangible, but it seems to me that there is just a faint sign of that in the air.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I certainly want to answer the Senator from York, Mr. Seyler. I think he has known me long enough to know that I do not crawl out of positions and that I am usually fairly consistent.

Mr. President, I want to answer him categorically. First, he said that when I first started out on this tax bill I was against the Ohio stamp plan. I want to assure him that I feel that the Ohio stamp plan, as far as my limited knowledge is concerned with it, is a costly one and perhaps it might not be good for Pennsylvania. Now that is my personal opinion, but I certainly cannot put my personal opinion over the opinion of the majority of the Members of the House and Senate. As part of the conference committee, I held out, as did Senator Kessler, against the Ohio stamp plan for a long while. However, we were finally forced to give into the Members of the House. I am not going to put the blame all on the Republicans or Democrats. Perhaps there were more Republicans in the House who wanted the stamp plan than those who did not want it. I am not trying to fasten the blame on any party. All I am saying to the Senator is that I took the situation as it was.

I still understand that there is a feeling that we should have the Ohio stamp plan in our sales tax. Although I might be personally opposed to it, yet as part of an agreement which I made that I would not stand in the road of it, I feel that I should follow my agreement and live up to it and go along with the plan as far as voting for it is concerned.

With respect to trying to step out of our responsibility or my responsibility in voting for this sales tax, I am not trying to do that either, Mr. President. I stated that I assumed my share of the responsibility for it. The fact of the matter is that I stated the Republican Party would probably have to assume the responsibility for it and say that we felt this was a better tax than the income tax and that the people of Pennsylvania, if they had to choose one as opposed to the other, a majority would rather have the sales tax than the income tax.

If we are wrong, Mr. President, and there are those, especially some of my Democratic colleagues, who feel that we are, then we can be proven wrong at the next election. If the issue is made this time, my only request is that it be not the issue of a sales tax as opposed to no tax as it was in the last election, but that it be a sales tax opposed to an income or wage tax. If you want to make that the issue, either as a party or as individuals, and be honest with your constituents and tell them how much money has to be raised and tell them how you propose to do it, then I have no fault to find with it. I will assume the responsibility for the sales tax and you assume the responsibility for the income or wage tax, which you want to come down here and put on in the event you have a majority in both the House and the Senate. If you do that, I certainly will not find any fault with your issue.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, as to whether the responsibility lies with the Democrats or the Republicans, I will tell you that I saw a reaction which disturbed me.

On Saturday, I visited Lafayette College in Easton. I went to the book store to buy a book, and the price of the book was six dollars. When I paid the six dollars, then the proprietor of the store said to me, "And now eighteen cents for the Governor." "Eighteen cents for the Governor," disturbed me.

I believe that we ought to launch, on our side, an educational campaign to show that the eighteen cents is not collected for the Governor, Mr. President. Besides that, I am beginning to adhere to the view that maybe stamps will be more dignified and it will not be this penny business for the Governor. The customers will receive the stamps and forget the Governor. God knows, he had nothing to do with this sales tax.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this argument about the stamp plan, but I want to say this. I think one of today's Pittsburgh papers carries the story where they are having an investigation about the elimination of the stamp plan. Some of the people in Ohio think it costs a lot of money to have the stamp plan. I know this; that the people with whom I have talked, the people who have written to me, the people who were for the sales tax were for the Ohio plan. I believe everyone of the fifty Senators in this Senate, when we pay our retail or income tax we get a receipt and when we get that receipt, we feel a lot better about it than we would if some tax collector took our money and did not give us a receipt for it.

One of the reasons that the people of Pennsylvania fell for a lot of this propaganda during the last election was because they talked about pennies for Fine, pennies for Fine. They would see the merchants throw the pennies into a fish bowl, and heaven only knows how many of those pennies ever reached the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, Senator Dent made a remark a little while ago that the three per cent sales tax in Ohio brought in $188,000,000. That figure has been revised to $206,000,000 for last year.

We, in Pennsylvania, are reducing the amount that it costs to distribute them, by the banks, to one-half of one per cent. I believe Mr. Dent stated one per cent. We are giving people two per cent for redeeming the stamps. In Ohio, they give them three per cent. If you do not think the stamp plan is popular, just turn on your radio or TV set and see how the green stamps and trade stamps are popular throughout the stores today. The super markets, which do not give trade stamps now but did at one time, find that their business has fallen off.

When people can save $100 worth of stamps and recover them, and receive two dollars for them, they know that the tax which they paid has already been received in Harrisburg. Another thing which the stamp plan will do is this. We talked about the urgency for money for our schools. Under the tax plan, the merchants will prepay the tax. We will have the use of that money in the Commonwealth months ahead of the time that the old sales tax plan, under Governor Fine, provided the money.

Mr. President, they are having an investigation in Ohio. I believe State Senator Mechem is heading that committee, and he doubts very much whether the stamp plan will ever be eliminated in the State of Ohio.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the Sheriff of Delaware County, Senator Watkins, is signaling me not to get my oar into this debate and my good friend Ted Watson, is signaling me the same thing. However, since the gentleman from Armstrong has made a speech, I would like to ask a few question of him.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, it appears from your statements here on the floor that you are quite strong for the Ohio stamp tax plan, is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. I am for some stamp plan; yes, where a person will receive a receipt rather than throw the money into a fish bowl.

Mr. LANE. How long have you been familiar with the provisions of the Ohio plan?

Mr. PECHAN. I Paid it many times when I have been in Ohio, if that is what you mean.

Mr. LANE. Several years ago, Senator?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I guess.

Mr. LANE. Then you admit you were wrong when you voted for John Fine's one per cent sales tax, is that correct?

Mr. PECHAN. Listen, I did not want to vote for any sales tax and you know it. I refused to vote for that tax until it contained all of the provisions I wanted in it.

Mr. LANE. That is all, Mr. President. I thank the gentleman.

GENERAL COMMUNICATION

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication, whoch was read by the Clerk:

MISSISSIPPI STATE SENATE
Jackson

March 7, 1956.

Mrs. Halla May Pattison
Secretary

Mr. G. Harold Watkins
Secretary of Senate
State Capitol
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

I am directed by the Mississippi State Senate to transmit to you the attached Concurrent Resolution No. 125.

Sincerely,
/s/ HALLA MAY PATTISON
Mrs. Halla May Pattison
Secretary of the Senate

The PRESIDING OFFICER. This communication will be spread upon the Legislative Journal, and the Senate Concurrent Resolution from the Mississippi State Senate will be printed in the Appendix.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE PROBLEM OF WIRE TAPPING

Messrs. McPHERSON, JR., BERGER, WEINER and SEYLER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, March 12, 1956.

Wire tapping and its effect on the privacy of the citizens and other residents of this Commonwealth is a matter of grave concern to this law making body.

The use of evidence secured by wire tapping is of importance in the proper disposition of court cases involving the liberty and finances of many Pennsylvanians; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the problem of wire tapping and its effect on the people of Pennslylvania, and to include in the study a comprehensive review and consideration of federal laws and the laws of other states on the subject of wire tapping; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly, its findings and recommendations, with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO MOBILIZE OUR FORCES AND TO MARSHALL OUR LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS THROUGHOUT THE STATE IN AN EXTENSIVE, UNRELAXING CRUSADE FOR THE STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF ALL TRAFFIC LAWS

Messrs. YOSKO and MAHANY offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 12, 1956.

The carnage and mass murder occurring on the highways of Pennsylvania is as terrible as the ravages of war. Each year thousands of good and gentle people, with no purpose other than an afternoon drive, become the belligerents, and with thoughts of murder farthest from their minds become both the murders and the murdered.

Few highway fatalities or injuries occur because of a malevolent intent. But that happy knowledge does not give life to the dead, a sound body to the maimed, nor solace to the brief stricken. The purpose, good or bad, of those involved in tragic accidents does not mitigate the tragedy of the accident.

We are at war. We are at war with carelessness, discourtesy, fatigue and ignorance of our traffic laws. We are losing the battle.

It is time then that we recognize a state of war and shoulder appropriate arms to win it, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby request the Governor of Pennsylvania, to mobilize our forces, and wage a war for safety; and to that end, to enlist the aid of civic organizations, service clubs, fraternal clubs, labor unions, business and professional mens associations, newspapers, radio and television broadcasters and all other groups and individuals of good purpose, willing to serve, in a vast program of education of the public in matters of traffic law, of accident causes, of the effect of automobile accidents upon the lives of our people; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to marshall our law enforcement officers throughout the State in an intensive unrelaxing crusade for the strict enforcement of all traffic laws, and to join together all of the people of Pennsylvania in support of that crusade; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be delivered to the Governor.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1030, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2051) entitled "Public Assistance Law," making aged persons in homes for the aged eligible for assistance.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. RUTH. M. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RUTH, on behalf of Messrs. DENT and CHAPMAN, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1031, entitled:

An Act relating to the seizure of unlicensed dogs running at large, the giving of dogs to certain scientific and educational institutions, and the manner of using such dogs.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

He also, on behalf of Messrs. DENT and PECHAN, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1032, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code," extending voting rights to certain physically handicapped veterans.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN, on behalf of Mr. MAHANY, read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1033, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594), entitled "Rural State Highway Law" adding a new route in Mercer County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am about to present to the Chair a Concurrent Recall Resolution and I wanted to explain to the Membership on both sides of the Senate that the reason I am presenting this Recall Resolution is because Senate Bill No. 321, Printer's No. 211, was passed by the Senate, which amends an act of 1929. It seems that an act of 1955 repealed the act of 1929. Therefore, I present this resolution for the purpose of recalling and amending the legislation to comply with the law.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 321 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 12, 1956.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 321, Printer's No. 211, entitled "An act amending the act of May 2, 1929 (P. L. 1278) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto' authorizing the board of commissioners to make appropriations to county firemen's associations for the conducting of fire prevention education," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFNCER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his point of information.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, we are going to comply with the unwritten law that we are going to adjourn at six o'clock, p.m.?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is a good question. Senator Mahany, Senator Lane has posed the question to the Chair of whether or not we are to comply with our six o'clock closing or adjourning for meals.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would say that I would be willing to, unless they have something of an emergency nature which they would like to act on and which would require going beyond that hour. If they do not, I plan to adjourn at six o'clock.

An Act relating to comic books magazines and other publications prohibiting and regulating the sale thereof in certain instances and imposing penalties

Whereas we believe that the destructive and adventurous potentialities of children and adolescents are often stimulated by collections of pictures and stories of criminal deeds of bloodshed or lust so massed as to incite to violent and depraved crimes against the person and

Whereas we believe that such juveniles and other susceptible characters do in fact commit such crimes at least partly because incited to do so by such publications the purpose of which is to exploit such susceptible characters and

Whereas such belief even though not capable of statistical demonstration is supported by our experience as well as by the opinions of some specialists qualified to express opinions regarding criminal psychology and not disproved by others and

Whereas in any event there is nothing of possible value to society in such publications so that there is no gain to the Commonwealth whether in edification or enlightenment or amusement or good of any kind and

Whereas the possibility of harm by restricing free utterance through harmless publications is to remote and too negligible a consequence of dealing with the evil publications with which we are here concerned and

Whereas The National Council of Juvenile Court Judges has urged that action be taken at local state and national levels of government to curtail prohibit and outlaw the publication of so-called "comics"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 It shall be unlawful for any person to sell offer for sale attempt to sell exhibit give away keep in his possession with intent to sell or give away or in any way furnish or attempt to furnish to anyone under the age of eighteen years any obscene lewd lascivious filthy indecent profane or disgusting comic book magazine or other publication

HOUSE BILL No. 1507 CALLED UP FROM SECOND READING POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I call up from the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, House Bill No. 1507, Printer's No. 1020, for the purpose of having it appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, will you tell me why you are calling up this bill today?

Mr. PECHAN. I did it at Senator McPherson's request.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I then desire to interrogate the gentleman from Adams, Senator McPherson.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Adams, Mr. McPherson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you advise me why this bill is being called up today?

Mr. McPHERSON JR. Because we want to pass this bill in its present form as soon as possible. Some Members of the Senate want to prepare and introduce amendments to the bill in its present form. In order to have those amendment considered it is necessary to pass this bill over to the Governor.

Mr. WEINER. Senator will somebody be ready to answer some of the questions which I have on this bill tomorrow when it is on the Second Reading Calendar?

Mr. McPHERSON JR. I cannot answer that question, Mr. President. I do not know what his questions will be.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, there are 117 pages to this bill and I just wanted everybody to be on notice that if they can read it this evening, I would be very happy to discuss it with them on the floor tomorrow.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I feel sure, Mr. President, that we will be very interested to hear Senator Weiner's discussion of the bill on the floor tomorrow.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, my question was, and maybe I did not state it too clearly, would you or someone over on that side be prepared to answer questions which I might have to this bill tomorrow?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. That again, Mr. President, I cannot answer because I do not know what his questions are. Therefore, I cannot tell whether we will be prepared to answer them tomorrow or not.

Mr. WEINER. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. President, this bill contains 117 pages and I do not feel that any of us should be asked to vote blindly on a bill of this type without our knowing what is in it and what it proposes to do. I do believe that the amendments to this act, which was a very lengthy one in the beginning, have been read by very few Members of this General Assembly and we would be making a hasty decision in passing on this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to at this time serve notice on anybody who is a proponent of this bill to please be prepared tomorrow to discuss it, because I am going to have a lot of questions to ask about it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1507 will appear on tomorrow's Second Reading Calendar.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1009, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 28, 1953 (Appropriations Act, page 16 Act No. 20-A), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the protection and stabilization of Presque Isle Penninsula and Erie Harbor at Erie," authorizing the use of funds for improvement and development purposes.

An said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have been handed a list of nominations by the Governor for the Mercer County Board of Assistance. Mercer County is one of the counties in my District and I have nothing against any of these people who were nominted, but there is one man by the name of Donald C. Atwell, 540 Liberty Street, Grove City, against whom I have nothing personal other than the fact that he, as I understand it, is a committeeman. I called the department and they told me that under the Public Assistance law, no one who is directly connected with politics can be appointed to one of these boards.

Therefore, I would ask your Caucus Chairman, or whoever is the spokesman for the Administration, to check whether my information is correct that this man cannot serve and have his name recalled so that I can see that these other people are confirmed by the Senate as soon as possible.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, March 13, 1956, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The Senate adjourned at 6:17 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, March 13, 1956, at 2:00 o'clock, P. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 12, 1956.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Thou Ageless and Eternal One who has put us in a world of things, some true, some false, some right, some wrong, we beseech Thee

To take us as we are and make us what we ought to be;

To save us from false pride and false humility so that our goodness be simple and genuine;

To make us wise enough to love the simplicity of the Master;

To keep us from living for the unimportant things.

Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, our prayer today is, that the strength of God may pilot us; that the power of God may preserve us; that the way of God may direct us, and that the shield of God may defend us. In the shadow and spell of Thy Cross, O Christ, we would stand and work and serve. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, to preside temporarily.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, March 7, 1956 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 16

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 15, 1955.

The Delaware River has been an important factor in the development of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

It has been used in the transportation of raw materials and products to and from the Commonwealth to all parts of the world

Because of the size of sea-going vessels and the great volume of shipping the Delaware River fails to meet present day needs and to play a greater part in the progress of this Commonwealth the channel in the Delaware River should be deepened

The Governor George M. Leader and the several members of Congress from Pennsylvania have worked diligently and with perserverance in soliciting the Federal Government to use its facilities and funds to deepen the Delaware River therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the General Assembly commend the Governor of Pennsylvania George M. Leader and the members of Congress from Pennsylvania for the stand they have taken in the matter of the deepening of the Delaware River and be it further

Resolved That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact legislation providing for the deepening of the Delaware River at Federal expense and be it further

Resolved That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor of Pennsylvania George M. Leader the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last week on Tuesday when we had the Conference Report on House Bill 2009 I raised the question of my Senator's name not being on the Conference Report.

I want to clear the record due to the fact that some of my friends came to me after the session was over and thought I was possibly taking my Senator from Westmoreland County to task.

I want to say to the Members of the House that that was the farthest thing from my mind. I have all the respect in the world for my Senator from Westmoreland. I think he is a very able Senator, and I was only trying to secure information why his name was not on the Conference Report. However, I was interrupted by a Point of Order during the discussion.

I have been a Member of this House for many years. I have never raised a Point of Order on any Member. I find no fault with raising a Point of Order, but I do feel we have a very able Speaker and I feel the Speaker as a rule will keep us in order. I have noticed many times when a Point of Order has been raised the Speaker will only say to the Member, "Please confine your remarks to the question before the House."

I might say the Members jump up and raise Points of Order. I might say that those very Members in my mind lots of times are not in order. So I just want to make this statement and I want to make it clear, I was only seeking information in regard to the conference report.

I have always insisted that we work too hastily. We spend hours and hours waiting for conference reports and the minute the conference report hits the floor of the House we are told we must vote on it.

Many times when these conference reports, or the bills themselves, are acted upon very hastily, we find ourselves in trouble. I think we find ourselves in that same trouble today on the conference report we so readily adopted last week. We were given to understand it was a better bill and one which we could vote for.

After due consideration of the bill, after time to study, after time to listen to the reports in the Senate of Pennsylvania, we find the amendments which were put in by the Conference Committee, especially as to the stamp plan, did not fit into our bill. We find ourselves in serious trouble today and possibly there will have to be time spent in order to correct the mistakes we made.

I say, in all fairness is that correct procedure? Or should we be given an opportunity to ask questions and receive the necessary information so that we know what is in the reports when we vote upon them?

STUDENTS OF NETHER PROVIDENCE HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Nether Providence High School of Delaware County under the supervision of their teachers, Mrs. Seidel and Mr. Waters. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Delaware, Messrs. Lippincott, Foster, Isaacs and Bell.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, last week when the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett, made his remarks about equal standards of procedure in the House and Senate, I was willing to say he had earned the title of fairness and that he had a right to say in each and every speech, "Let's be fair."

I thought he was referring to the standards of conduct which I witnessed in the Senate the other night in connection with the passage of the sales tax when Members of our House were mentioned upon the floor. I was astonished at the manner in which Members of our House were referred to. I believe the standards should be equal and if the Members of the Senate have a right to castigate us, then we should amend our Rules and have the right to castigate them. So I say to Mr. Lovett, "Let's be fair," and stick by your original position.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I say again that I am misunderstood. The statement just made was pertaining to my statement and my interrogation on the conference report. The reference the gentleman makes is to a statement I made.

I have not changed my mind one bit, I am only proud that the gentleman thinks I was fair. If he did, I am still fair. I maintain the Rules should be changed, we should have the same set of Rules for our courtesy to the Senate that the Senate should have for courtesy to the House.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. VAUGHAN from the Committee on Cities—Counties Second and Second Class A, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2075, entitled:

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair simply wants to remark that we cannot clear this calendar by passing bills over day after day. We wish the Democratic Caucus would determine what bills they want called and what bills they do not want called, so the Speaker's calendar can be marked.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader would like to remind the Chair that the Majority Leader is much confused, too, by the Members coming in late with requests for amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair simply asks that the requests for delays be taken up with the Caucus and determined beforehand, rather than on the floor, because the Speaker's calendar is marked that certain bills are to be called and certain bills are not to be called. Then the information from the floor is different.

These matters can be determined in Caucus. These bills have been on the calendar for weeks. The Chair is not insisting that they be called but the Chair would request an orderly method of operation so when we meet each day we know exactly what bills we are going to act on and what bills we are not going to act on.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 776, as follows:

An Act reenacting and amending the title and act of June 27, 1939 (P. L. 1125) entitled as amended "An act providing for the regulation and supervision of nonprofit medical dental and osteopathic service corporations organized to provide medical dental or osteopathic services to subscribers of low income by the Department of Health and the Insurance Department and defining the functions of such departments with respect thereto authorizing certain departments commissions officers and other agencies of the State and its political subdivisions to subscribe under certain circumstances to the medical dental and osteopathic service plan of such corporations on behalf of persons of low income prescribing legal investments for the funds of such corporations and the rights of doctors of medicine doctors of dental surgery and doctors of osteopathy to register with such corporations conferring authority on the Department of Health and on the Insurance Commissioner each within its own sphere of lawful activity to regulate and supervise such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon such corporations and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers exempting such corporations from taxation prohibiting any person copartnership association common law trust or corporation except a nonprofit medical dental and osteopathic service corporation from providing medical dental or osteopathic services on a nonprofit plan in return for prepayment periodical or lump sum payments providing penalties for the violation of and mandatory and injunctive relief for the enforcement of the provisions of this act" including in the plan chiropody services and defining "chiropody services" for the purpose of this act only

Section 1 The title and the act of June 27, 1939 (P. L. 1125) known as the "Nonprofit Medical Dental and Osteopathic Service Corporation Act" reenacted and amended April 18, 1949 (P. L. 587) and May 12, 1949 (P. L. 1261) and subsection (a) of section 9 amended May 11, 1949 (P. L. 1124) are reenacted and amended to read

An Act providing for the regulation and supervision of nonprofit dental [and] osteopathic and chiropody service corporations organized to provide medical dental [or] osteopathic or chiropody services to subscribers of low income by the Department of Health and the Insurance Department and defining the functions of such departments with respect thereto authorizing certain departments commissions officers and other agencies of the State and its political subdivisions to subscribe under certain circumstances to the medical dental [and] osteopathic and chiropody service plan of such corporations on behalf of persons of low income prescribing legal investments for the funds of such corporations and the rights of doctors of medicine doctors of dental surgery [and] doctors of osteopathy and doctors of chiropody to register with such corporations conferring authority on the Department of Health and on the Insurance Commissioner each within its own sphere of lawful activity to regulate and supervise such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon such corporations and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers exempting such corporations from taxation prohibiting any person copartnership association common law trust or corporation except a nonprofit medical dental [and] osteopathic and chiropody service corporation from providing medical dental [or] osteopathic or chiropody services on a nonprofit plan in return for prepayment periodical or lump sum payments providing penalties for the violation of any mandatory and injunctive relief for the enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Nonprofit Medical Dental [and] Osteopathic and Chiropody Service Corporation Act"

Section 2 Declaration of Necessity It is hereby declared that adequate medical dental [and] osteopathic and chiropody services are essential for the maintenance of the physical and mental health of the residents of the Commonwealth and that it is necessary that provision be made for adequate medical dental [and] osteopathic and chiropody services to persons of low income who are unable to provide such services for themselves or their dependents without depriving themselves or their dependents of such necessaries of life as food clothing and shelter

Section 3 Definitions For the purposes of this act only and not for the purposes of defining medical practice dental practice [or] osteopathic practice or chiropody practice as such the terms stated below have the meanings assigned to them respectively

"Chiropody services" means the general and usual services administered by doctors of chiropody serving in the capacity of a staff member of an accredited hospital provided such services are rendered in an accredited hospital

"Dental services" means the general and usual services rendered by doctors of dental surgery serving in the capacity of a staff member of an accredited hospital provided such services are rendered in an accredited hospital

"Medical services" means the general and usual services rendered and the care administered by doctors of medicine as defined in the Medical Practice Act

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Bill No. 217 on page 6 of today's calendar, Bills on Third Reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 217, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April fourteen one thousand eight hundred sixty-eight (P. L. 1083) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act appropriating ground for public purposes in the city of Philadelphia' approved the twenty-sixth day of March Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven" permitting sale of liquor at tables in Fairmount Park

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by striking out "at tables" and inserting in lieu thereof "in a restaurant."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 21) page 2, lines 12 and 13 by striking out "to patrons seated at tables No Liquors shall be sold at a bar" and inserting in lieu thereof "that intoxicating liquors may be sold for consumption on the premises only in a restaurant located in the Park when a license therefor is issued by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board Such license shall be subject to the quota provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Code."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we would like to have Mr. McCormack explain his amendments very briefly.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, these amendments spell out more clearly the original intent. It was felt by myself and others that the bill on the calendar today does not clearly spell out the intent.

This change briefly is a change in the Fairmount Park bill. Under the present law no intoxicating liquors are permitted in the Park. The bill on the calendar said, except to persons seated at tables inside the Park. That was rather ambiguous, so the amendments I am offering today say that no intoxicating liquors may be sold in the Park except in a restaurant within the Park and such license, if issued, shall be subject to the quota provisions of the Pennsylvania Liquor Code.

The latter part of the amendment was offered, Mr. Speaker, to clear up the confusion that existed. Some thought this would affect the quota provisions but I wanted it clearly spelled out that this did not provide an additional license.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Bill No. 231 on page 6 of today's calendar, Bills on Third Reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 231 entitled:

An Act permitting any person entitled to vote to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours in certain cases without deduction in salary or wages

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 3, by striking out "primary" and inserting in lieu thereof "a primary, general, municipal or special".

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 12, by striking out "if the employer", where it appears the first time in said line.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1240 entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (P. L. 164) entitled "An act to secure to laborers within this Commonwealth the benefit of the exemption laws of this Commonwealth and to prevent assignment of claims for the purpose of securing their collection against laborers outside of this Commonwealth" by forbidding creditors to sue resident debtors of this Commonwealth in the courts of another State where the creditor debtor and intended garnishee are within the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania courts and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1385 entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 851) entitled "An act fixing the pay and mileage of jurors and witnesses" requiring employers to make certain payments to employes when on jury duty

On the question,

Will the House agee to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "duty" in certain cases.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1.1), page 2, line 2, by inserting after "employer" if this employer employs fifty or more persons.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1.1), page 2, line 3, by inserting after "excluded" for a period not to exceed two weeks.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1753 as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 8, 1941 (P. L. 288) entitled "An act relating to the extradition of persons charged with crime and to make uniform the law with reference thereto" enlarging the power of the court on habes corpus

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 10 act of July 8, 1941 (P. L. 288) known as the "Uniform Criminal Extradition Act" is amended to read

Section 10 Rights of Accused Person Application for Writ of Habeas Corpus (a) No person arrested upon such warrant shall be delivered over to the agent whom the executive authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court of record in this State who shall inform him of the demand made for his surrender and of the crime with which he is charged and that he has the right to demand and procure legal counsel and if the prisoner or his counsel shall state that he or they desire to test the legality of his arrest the judge of such court of record shall fix a reasonable time to be allowed him within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus When such writ is applied for notice thereof and of the time and place of hearing thereon shall be given to the prosecuting officer of the county in which the arrest is made and in which the accused is in custody and to the said agent of the demanding state

(b) The court entertaining the writ may inquire into and receive evidence as to whether the demanding State violated the legal rights of the prisoner or subjected him to cruel and unusual punishment and may discharge the prisoner on either ground

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak very briefly on the bill. The purpose behind the bill possibly is good, inasmuch as the thing which caused it, no question about it, was a man probably being mistreated in one of the southern states.

I have no argument with that one way or the other, but when you try to correct one little evil by general legislation you thereby put an exceedingly larger burden on all the courts of this state.

Of course, the bill is only a "may" bill, but it certainly would allow any attorney for any criminal escaping from another state to come into this state and start delaying proceedings immediately, and no one knows, where the delays would end. From the refusal of the courts to inquire into the treatment complained of by the criminal sought to be extradited to another state, if the court would refuse to inquire into it, then an appeal could be taken from that court's refusal along up through all of the appellate courts. So I can easily see where this state would become the gathering place for escaped criminals, numbers writers and criminals of every description from every other state. They certainly would try to get out of the other state by any manner or means and get into Pennsylvania so they could immediately take advantage of the delay furnished by this act.

I do not think it is good legislation where we try to correct one existing evil and where the burden upon the courts of this Commonwealth would certainly, to my mind, be far worse than the cure sought to be effected.

We are trying here to set this thing up as a criterion, as a censorship, of the way every other state in this Union treats, its criminals—it may be inquired into. Of course, it is only a "may" act, that is true, but if the court would refuse to inquire into it, as I said before, then they could take their appeals on up through the appellate courts.

We have been faced here lately with a situation, as you know, where there is one murderer at large for some eight years who has taken appeal, after appeal, after appeal, through technicalities in the law, and this would just enlarge the power of criminals from other states, or people who are under indictment in other states, no matter which to come into this state and obtain further delays to avoid ever being tried in those other states. I think it would make this state a haven for all kinds of criminals and racketeers from every other state in this union.

I therefore think it is bad legislation, and I ask the membership of the House to vote it down.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a word or two in answer to the gentleman from Altoona.

I would like to know whether the gentleman from Altoona is concerned with the—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair.

Mr. TOLL. The gentleman from Blair, I beg the Speaker's pardon. Specifically, he is from Altoona.

The SPEAKER. We do not mention Altoona.

Mr. TOLL. I would like to know whether the gentleman is greatly concerned with the integrity of our judiciary when he says the state of Pennsylvania will become a haven for escaped criminals?

Right now we have language of a similar nature in the Habeas Corpus Act of 1937. The only thing this bill does is to use practically the same language that is now in the Habeas Corpus Act, which uses the word "may," and permits the judge who hears the case on a writ of habeas corpus to examine the facts in the case. The same type of clause is put into House Bill 1753, so that when a person invokes the Uniform Extradition Act the judge who hears it under this procedure will have the privilege of going into the facts.

As a matter of fact, in the Brown case, which went to the Supreme Court, Judge Levinthal of Philadelphia on a writ of habeas corpus did go into the facts and he did find the man's freedom was in jeopardy, his legal rights were not given to him, and he was subjected to cruel and unusual punishment. When the case finally was turned over to our Governor, he withdrew the extradition warrant. So the facts were substantiated.

All this bill does is liberalize our law so that under the Uniform extradition Act the judge will have the same privilege as he has now under the Habeas Corpus Act to go into the facts.

There certainly could be no problem there because we can depend on our judiciary. They are men of good sense, they are men of learning, they are men of honesty, and they are fearless. Don't you want to give them a chance to hear the facts involved in any case in which they are trying to extradite a Pennsylvania citizen?

I hope that you will support this bill.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, let us speak plainly on this bill. At the present time if any warrant comes from another state the judge must recognize that warrant regardless of whether the man from the other state who has sought haven here has been horsewhipped, dragged, or chained and kept that way for twenty years.

As our friend on the other side has said, if he was guilty of numbers writing and if that is the reason he has been horsewhipped or chained, and kept in chains for ten years or more, and he has made himself properly a citizen of this Commonwealth, then the judge may release him. The only thing this bill does is to give the judge a chance to hear the testimony, which he could not hear under our present day regulations.

Give the man or woman involved, who has been chained, or horsewhipped and kept in prison for sometime, a chance to be heard in our courts before our judges.

Mrs. ANDERSON. Mr. Speaker, as one of the sponsors of this bill, I urge you to support this measure because it will liberalize the laws of Pennsylvania for the protection of those who are illegally oppressed and subjected to cruel and unusual punishment.

I ask every Member of this House to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(2) On retirement for superannuation a contributor shall receive a retirement allowance which (except for the service as a member of the General Assembly provided for by subsection (3) of this section and the accumulated deductions related thereto) shall consist of

(a) A member's annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and

(b) A State annuity of one one hundred-sixtieth (1-160) or one one-hundredth (1-100) of his or her final salary for each year of total service except in the case of members who upon becoming members subsequent to December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four elected or hereafter elect not to make back payments in which case the State annuity shall be calculated only for each year of total service while a member and

(c) In addition thereto if an original member of the retirement association a further State annuity of one one hundred sixtieth (1-160) or one one-hundredth (1-100) of his or her final salary for each year of prior service as certified to said original member in the certificate issued to him or her by the retirement board under the provisions of section ten of this act but in no event shall the total State annuity exceed fifty per centum of his or her final salary

(d) In addition thereto an additional State annuity which shall be equivalent to the amount if any by which the employe's annuity is less than the State annuity for service rendered after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred twenty-three but in no event shall the total State annuity exceed fifty per centum of his or her final salary

(e) In addition thereto in the event of the retirement after ninety days from the effective date of this act of any contributor in the one one-hundredth (1-100) class a further State annuity which shall be equivalent to the amount if any by which the superannuation retirement allowance otherwise payable is less than one thousand two hundred dollars ($1200) where the contributor has twenty-five years or more of credited service in this Comonwealth or if less than twenty-five years of such service then such proportional amount of such one thousand two hundred dollars ($1200) as the years of such credited service bear to twenty-five years but in no event shall the total State annuity exceed fifty per centum of his or her final salary

(f) If the contributor has credit for service as a member of the General Assembly provided for by subsection (3) of this section but is not a member of the General Assembly at the time of retirement (i) he or she shall receive in addition to the foregoing annuities provided for by this subsection (2) a combined member's annuity and State annuity equal to two and one-half one-hundredths (2½-100) of his or her final salary as a member of the General Assembly for each year of service as a member of the General Assembly provided for by subsection (3) of this section or (ii) his or her accumulated deductions and years of service as a member of the General Assembly shall be included with his or her other accumulated deductions and years of other State service whichever will yield the greater return

(3) On retirement for superannuation a contributor who is a member of the General Assembly shall receive a retirement allowance which shall consist of a combined member's annuity and State annuity equal to two and one-half one-hundredths (2½-100) of his or her final salary for each year of total service as a member of the General Assembly provided for by the second paragraph of this subsection and in addition thereto if a member of the General Assembly at the time of retiring has credit for State service other than as a member of the General Assembly he or she shall receive with respect to such other service the member's annuity provided for in clause (a) of subsection (2) of this section and State annuities provided for in clauses (b) (c) (d) and (e) in so far as they are applicable or if the contributor has not reached the age of sixty years the State annuities having a value equal to the present value of the State annuities beginning at superannuation retirement age sixty

The provisions of this subsection shall apply to all contributors who were members or members elect of the General Assembly on December 1 1954 with respect to all years of service as a member of the General Assembly before and after that date and to all contributors becoming members of the General Assembly after December 1 1954 with respect to years of service as members of the General Assembly after that date only Any period of service as a member of the General Assembly not specifically provided for by these amendments shall entitle the contributor to the same rights as for State service other than as a member of the General Assembly

Retirement as of Time of Death

Section 14.1 Any contributor who is entitled to retire under the provisions of this act by reason of having completed twenty-five (25) years of total service or by reason of having reached superannuation retirement age and any member of the General Assembly having completed ten (10) years as a member of the General Assembly may file with the retirement board a written application for retirement in the form required for such application but requesting that such retirement shall become effective as of the time of his death electing one of the options provided in section fourteen and nominating a beneficiary under said option as required in said section

In all such cases the application shall be held by the retirement board until the contributor shall file a later application in the usual manner for retirement or until the death of the contributor occurring while in State service at which time his retirement shall become effective with the same benefits to the designated beneficiary as if the contributor had retired on the day immediately preceding his death

Retirement While in State Service

Section 14.2 Any contributor who is or was entitled to retire under the provisions of this act by reason of having completed twenty-five (25) years of total service or by reason of having reached superannuation retirement age and any member of the General Assembly having completed ten (10) years as a member of the General Assembly and who shall die while in State service before filing with the retirement board a written application for retirement as heretofore provided or has died and whose payment into the fund have not been withdrawn shall be considered as having elected Option 1 as provided in section fourteen of this act as of the date of his or her death In such event payment under Option 1 shall be made to the beneficiary designated in the nomination of beneficiary form on file with the retirement board If said beneficiary has predeceased the contributor payment under Option 1 shall be made to the legal representative of said contributor

Section 6 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to debate this bill, but I think the Members should be aware of the fact that this is a bill relating to pensions for Legislators.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. BELL filed the following reasons for his vote.

During the past fifteen months of the 141st regular session of the General Assembly, I have been impressed with the tremendous sacrifices of time and money made by all members of the General Assembly in the faithful performances of their duties representing the citizens of Pennsylvania.

Some absenteeism has occurred during the session due to illness and the necessity of holding on to employment or conducting a business. As a general rule, my sisters and brothers in this great public body have faithfully and intelligently represented their neighbors with diligence and industry.

Certain uninformed persons have classed this legislation session as a "do-nothing" session. I do not concur. We have experienced a session marked by a constant struggle between two great political parties of almost equal strength. Under this truly American principle of government I have observed benefits to the Commonwealth. The Commonwealth means to me "the people."

The exposure of governmental processes to careful, intelligent, critical scrutiny of a strong minority party results in better government for the Honorable, the People of Pennsylvania.

True representative government moves slowly. Our same critics abhor the governmental efficiency of a dictatorship or a "one-man" rule.

Should the faithful legislator be penalized for careful attendance? Should he be penalized for thorough consideration of proposed legislation designed to keep our government current with the demands of a progressive civilization?

Legislators should receive a living wage. Legislators should have an incentive for continuous and lengthy service in the form of a pension. Such pension should be a fair pension—fair for the legislator and fair for the people. Too many excellent legislators have been forced by economic conditions to leave the service of our Commonwealth.

Although I may never personally benefit from this pension plan, I desire to cast my vote to insure that legislators of tomorrow receive a fair compensation and a fair pension plan.

If we do not make such provisions, membership on youd legislative body may well degenerate into an exclusive body of those of independent financial means or those in the employ of special interests. Let us keep our membership open to all citizens of this Commonwealth. This pension is essential to preserve the integrity of our representative system of free government.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mrs. HENZEL filed the following reasons for her vote.

Being in sympathy with and in support of S-484 Pr. 245, I, however, am compelled at this time to vote in the negative. This vote is necessary because I conscientiously feel that our items of retirement legislation, particularly in relation to the Social Security situation of some Third Class County employees and retired teacher equity, should be given procedure. These are still being retarded on the calendar or are receiving no attention in committee. Because in the first instance these employees are not being protected in their vacation, in the second the folks are living in financially difficult stratas because of lack of corrective legislation, I can support legislation that would inure to personal benefit only when others of a more pressing nature have first been resolved.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1226

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1226, Printer's No. 1353, entitled:

"An Act requiring the Senate Treasurer and other State officials to deduct the tax imposed by any first class city upon salaries wages and other compensation paid to officers and employes of the Commonwealth residing within that city and to make a return and remit the tax so deducted to the Revenue Commissioner of the city."

was defeated on final passage, Wednesday, March 7, 1956.

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Seaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kolankiewicz vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Amarando vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. AMARANDO. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the person who made the motion we are now considering.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kolankiewicz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman kindly state how many votes the bill received in favor of it when it was defeated?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I believe there were something like 68 votes.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, would it be fair to state that the House History is accurate in saying that the bill received 52 votes in favor of it? Will the gentleman agree that the History is correct in that respect?

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. I do not dispute that at all.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me we are wasting a lot of time reconsidering bills that were defeated overwhelmingly. I would ask for a slow roll call on the motion to reconsider.

Mr. READINGER. I ask the Members to vote for this motion, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman who just interrogated the maker of the motion knows full well that this bill was called up on a day when there were many, many members absent. I think he will have no trouble recalling that one of the reasons it got as few votes as it did when it was called up was because there were so many absentees.

I think it is only fair that we vote for the motion to reinstate this bill and let it be voted upon when we have a full membership.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, desire a roll call?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prolong this matter. I will withdraw my request for a roll call.

It seems to me this is just another example of the way we wasted time because, as the Chair knows and the House knows, the person who called this bill up originally was the person now seeking its reconsideration.

Mr. READINGER. I do, Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Lippincott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have any suggestions as to how to get the Members here and keep them here?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I would say that would be a problem for the majority rather than the minority.

The SPEAKER. If you had asked the Chair, the Chair could have answered it. All you have to do to get them here is to send for them with a state cop, a Sergeant-at-Arms, or any other way, unless they have a doctor's certificate certifying to their inability to be physically present.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of the Chief Justice and judges of the Supreme Court the President Judge and judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court and Juvenile Court of Allegheny County certain associate judges not learned in the law and repealing certain inconsistent acts

BILL ON FIRST READING

Pursuant to the resolution adopted February 28, 1956, bills reported from Committee as committed were read the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of the Chief Justice and judges of the Supreme Court the President Judge and judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas the judges of the orphans' courts the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the judges of the County Court and Juvenile Court of Allegheny County certain associate judges not learned in the law and repealing certain inconsistent acts

And sail bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. AUKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Leader.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader on bills on the calendar, current legislation which we are considering, for the purpose of some information.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, we know that last Wednesday was a working day and every Member of the House was so notified. In spite of that there were forty-seven absentees without leave, although most of us stayed and our business is just as important as the business of those who went home.

I should like to ask the Majority Leader if the reason for his putting these bills on the third reading postponed calendar is just to delay action awaiting the time when he thinks he may have enough votes to pass them, and when that time will be, if at all? How long we are going to be required to sit here until he does have enough to pass them? I would like to have an answer to that question.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, maybe my answer will cool the gentleman off a little bit.

I think there is an old saying, "A soft answer turneth away wrath." I do not know whether I will accomplish that, but I can try.

I will inform the gentleman that we are going to adjourn this House in about ten minutes. There has been a dinner scheduled by the Governor which I must attend—or which I desire to attend. It is time for you to eat as well as myself, and we intend to dispose or more things on this calendar today, some of which are bills and some of which constitute amendments to bills.

I assure the gentleman that we expect to have a full quota of Members here tomorrow and we will be taking up more controversial bills then. I think the gentleman knows that we have taken some up today. We had every intention of working today and we have done so, but some of these bills will be placed on the postponed calendar and will undoubtedly be called up for action tomorrow—with or without a majority.

Mr. AUKER. Is Wednesday going to be a working day or not, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. READINGER. Wednesday is going to be a working day.

Mr. AUKER. If Members are absent without leave, will bills be called up if they are likely to go down for lack of Members being here to vote on them?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that will be determined by a majority vote of this House. Anybody has a right to postpone action on a bill by motion, and I cannot advise the gentleman what the House will do that day.

Mr. AUKER. I thank the Majority Leader.

Mr. Speaker. I am going to say now, as I said last Wednesday, if I am in the same mood as I am in now, I will object tomorrow and Wednesday to any bills going over unless it is for the purpose of amendment. I am giving everybody in the House fair warning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wanted to make a brief statement today on some of the things that have been happening since we passed the sales tax.

The Attorney General, who is, I understand, a candidate for a state-wide office in this year's election, is certainly in my opinion using his office openly at this time for political purposes, which is probably all right if he sees fit to do so.

Day after day since the sales tax has gone into effect we have been reading in the newspapers about all this terrible confusion, and more confusion, and more confusion, on what is taxable and what is not taxable.

To top everything off, we read in the newspapers, according to the Attorney General, that this is not even a retail sales tax, but it is a sales tax on wholesalers and on manufacturers. In fact, he says it is a tax on every kind of transaction that can be imagined.

It was certainly news to me to read such an article, and I believe to everybody on this side of the House who voted for it, the Members on the other side of the House who voted for it and even those who voted against it. I believe it was news to them that this taxed everything. After all, this is the man who is now hoping to get on the Supreme Court. He is a bit confused, I do believe.

The Attorney General has been saying that day after day, he is giving these free curbstone opinions. I know

Mr. Speaker, that a curbstone opinion is probably worth just as much as it costs to get in legal fees—it is worth practically nothing.

I think the Attorney General should remember the high public office he now holds. Instead of trying to destroy the public's confidence in a tax, I think he should do a little more to make it operate.

If there is anything wrong with this bill, we are still in session. He should come to the Legislature for the information he wants and not run to the newspapers first so that we in the Legislature find out what his opinions are and what he thinks we meant to say by seeing it in the newspapers. Let him come to the Legislature, where he should come, if he wants to be fair.

We agreed with the Majority Leader, and I think it was no secret, that if there were any technical changes necessary to make this tax work, or go into effect, or function more efficiently, we will pass them. I do not think it is a secret, and I think the Attorney General probably knows it. Is he going to try to override the Legislature by giving us his opinions at this stage? If he wants to find out what the intent of the Legislature is, I do not believe he would have much difficulty if he called the Majority Leader, or the Speaker, or myself, or any group from this Legislature, and inquired as to the intent.

But what is he trying to do? He is trying to hold up a tax bill so the public will scorn it.

He remembers that a week ago everybody was rushinig around here trying to pass this tax bill, and trying to put it on the Governor's desk without a moment's delay. We were criticized on this side of the House because we asked that it go to a Conference Committee.

The Majority Leader at that time tried to pass the bill, but he also let it go to a Conference Committee, even though he was opposed to that idea because he wanted to hurry the bill up so we would save money.

If I remember correctly, and from what I hear, after the bill went to the Conference Committee the Attorney General had a representative there. In reading the papers and in checking I have been unable to find out how many suggestions or how much advice his representative gave. As far as I can find out, the representative did nothing. The Attorney General did nothing while the bill was in the Conference Committee.

If he was as sincere as he now tries to appear, he would have had a perfect right to come into that Conference Committee and make suggestions.

I also see where the Republican Senate is being blamed for some of this confusion according to the Attorney General. I think we might remind the Attorney General that probably his office drew up some of the bill, the Legislative Reference Bureau drew up some of the bill, and if there is confusion it also came from his office. He is partly responsible for it.

This seems to me to be a case of biting the hand that feeds you. If anything can be done to make this tax more obnoxious to those who collect it, and that is the storekeepers, or to those who must pay it, it seems the Attorney General is doing his best at this point to do it.

Today I am introducing a bill, and I hope, Mr. Speaker, it meets with your approval, because I do it in all sincerity and I think we can do a job with it.

This billl is going to ask you to appoint a committee, a bipartisan committee, on the part of the House, and it asks the President pro tempore of the Senate to appoint a bipartisan committee on the part of the Senate, and if there is any disagreement on the part of the Attorney General, as far as the intent of the Legislature is concerned, this Committee should be called in and asked what the intent of the bill was. I think we can probably save the Attorney General from going to the newspapers as much as he is. I believe we know what the intent was.

I noticed also where the Attorney General was not quite sure whether shoes came under luggage and leather goods. That is the gentleman who is going to the Supreme Court. He is not quite sure. I am not an attorney, but I can tell you that the gentleman sitting opposite me, Mr. Readinger, myself, and anybody else who voted for this bill, can assure him that shoes do not come under luggage and leather goods. It was not our intent at any time, and I want to specify right now that it was not the intent of any Member of this House who voted for the bill, as I know, that shoes would come under leather goods.

Mr. Speaker, I introduce this bill today and hope you will give it due consideration. It is a fair bill, it is honest, and I think it might save the Attorney General's nerves. Probably we can give him some honest and decent interpretations and he will not have to run around the state trying to make the tax bill obnoxious.

While I am on this, Mr. Speaker, I have also seen quite a little bit in the paper about the Ohio sales tax, the stamp plan.

I have a clipping here from the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. It says, and this is under the date line of Columbus:

> There seems little chance that a legislative sales tax will recommend elimination of the Study committee reviewing Ohio's 20-year-old familiar little paper stamps.
> The tax, which brought in $206,217,169 in the last fiscal year, is being examined by an interim committee headed by Senator C. Stanley Mechem. . . .
> Hearings on the advantages of retaining the stamp feature are about concluded, and Senator Mechem has announced he doubts "very much" that the committee will recommend to the Legislature that a gross receipts tax supplant the stamp tax.

I am skipping over some things.

> Senator Mechem, a retail merchant, believes the stamps serve as a policing agency in the collections of the tax. "People do ask for the stamps," he points out.

Another quotation:

> Illustrating how widespread is the practice of redeeming the stamps, Senator Mechen cites his own county, Athens County, with a population of 45,000 last year had 295 groups which redeemed stamps.

It ends up by saying:

> One witness who appeared before the Mechem Committee, a spokesman for the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants, said the state treasury would lose, not gain, if the stamps are eliminated.

I think, Mr. Speaker, there is a very good example of what the people want. I think the Legislators in this House should remember that while we have the right to vote on taxes, if the people themselves want a certain thing in the administration of a tax, we should give it to them. I think we did it in adopting the Ohio stamp plan, and here is a perfect example of what we spoke about:

No Change in Sight After 22 Years of Levy Like Ours.

I think that is a good illustration, Mr. Speaker. I hope tomorrow the bill I just put in will come out. I personally will make a request at this time that I serve on the committee with the Majority Leader, and I think we will leave it up to the Senate to put whom they want on it. I am quite sure the Majority Leader, being a lawyer, and myself being just a poor fuel man, and incidentally I do sell fuel oil, I do think we could probably coach the Attorney General, who is going to be our next Supreme Court Justice, into making some honest and better interpretations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to very briefly state in relation to the gentleman's last remarks that nobody ever shoots Santa Claus.

I would also like to state, now that Candidate Cohen and Candidate Smith have gotten these things off their chests, it "wonders me" who is holding that adjournment motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests that the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Helm, preside temporarily while the Speaker refers some bills.

Mr. HELM in the Chair

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 813.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 813, entitled:

An Act amending the act of October 27, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five (Act No. 222) entitled "An act prohibiting certain practices of discrimination because of race, color, religious creed, ancestry, age or national origin, by employers, employment agencies, labor organizations, and others ,as herein defined; creating the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commisison in the Department of Labor and Industry; defining its functions, powers and duties; providing for procedure and enforcement; providing for formulation of an educational program to prevent prejudice; providing for judicial review and enforcement; and imposing penalties," providing that termination of employment under a bona fide retirement or pension plan shall not constitute an unfair employment practice.

And has appointed Messrs. WAGNER, FLEMING and SEYLER a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (already appointed) on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

The SPEAKER. pro tempore. The Speaker has referred the following bills:

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1956. No. 152.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 13, 1956.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Honorable FRANK W. RUTH, a Member of the Senate from Berks County, offered the following prayer:

O Thou great Jehovah God, we come to Thee today and we pray that Thy Spirit will help us to understand how easily we can find Thee if we look for Thee. Help us, with the eye of faith when the burdens of life become heavy, when disappointments come or when joy and prosperity come, that we may always walk close to Thee.

Guide us in our thinking today that we may do those things that will mean greater days for our Commonwealth and for our people. We ask it in Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quoroum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. McPHERSON, JR., further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.
